the Big Question

THAT WAY: Not being able to find our classes was only one of the few problems that were faced the first day of school. Here Mrs. Herron shows Pam Crook how to read the map, even it was a nightmare.

THE GRAND ENTRANCE: Coach Watson stands guard as James Weller and other students wait to enter the new school on the first day, happily!

ANOTHER LEAK: Buckets in the hallway came to be an everyday sight. Chris Blackburn, Montez Bishop, and Joseph Bolar learned that dodging them was part of the game. The tin roof was difficult to repair so it seemed.

"You mean we're all supposed to fit into that one little area? Why do they call it the commons?" Burt Beck. That seemed to be the big question in everyone's mind after starting all over again in a new atmosphere and new school. It was a difficult change. The teachers were rushed into moving all of their necessities from one school to another over night and then right after they became familiar with their surroundings, it was the students turn. It wasn't only the freshmen who were lost this time, it was...

? ? ? Leaky Roofs ? ? ? Room Numbers ? ? ? Boxes ? ? ? ? ?

ONE MORE TO GO: You can see by the look on Mrs. Carpenters face that moving was no fun.

WAS IT WORTH IT: We just couldn't seem to get an answer out of Mrs. Pridgeon.

...the entire student body. Even maps didn't help some people.
However, that was just the beginning of the problems. After a day of nonstop rain, the roof began to leak. You not only had to dodge other students, you had to dodge the buckets, too. Yet, through it all, the question still remained in most of our minds--- Was it Worth It? - Jennifer Richerson & Pat Hudson

the Big Reason

#1 CHOICE: Joe Williams shows his support by letting everyone know he has made the new school his home away from home.

PERFECT TEN: Wil Duck, Philip Smith, and Jason Murray rate the new school, and Brandon Morrow, playing school olympics, gives it a perfect ten. (Or was that the new goodlooking girl walking down the hall?)

SPLIT DECISION: Maybe it was a bad time to ask Lynn Kobos what she thought, but Daniel Kern's answer was definitely a yes-O.K., a maybe!

"May I have your attention, if you don't hear this announcement, please let me know." Mr. Parker. Although there were many problems the first few weeks of school, there were also solutions. After the bells and intercom systems were mastered, most of the leaks plugged, classes found, and the road was widened, students were able to look at our new facility in a different perspective. They were able to enjoy the good aspects of it. The excitement had begun. After all, it was a place where we could escape those rainy days (that is, after you made it from your car inside), keep cool in the summer, and ...

... .. Dancing in the Street Kicking back our Heels... ..

JUMPING FOR JOY: The new school had Bridget McDonald and Amber Holcombe dancing in the streets, or is Amber rehearsing for a Toyota commercial?

YOU BET: When asked what she thought about the new high school, Mrs. Dean kicked back her heels and the rest is history, World History that is.

...vice-versa. The new split lunch waves gave us more space and time in the lunch room and canteen, but we missed our friends. Over all, it was a more comfortable place to spend those dreaded 8 hours a day, but the student body did have their own opinions. So, what did you think?--Jennifer Richerson & Deanna Drew

the Big Answer

WINDOW VIEW: Mrs. Land in thrilled the cafeteria has lots of windows. Now she can enjoy a lovely view while she eats.

WATCHFUL EYES: The tiger carefully keeps an eye on Leigh Ann Stewart as she takes time to make sure the statue, as well as its surrounding are well cared for.

TAKING TIME OUT: Delores Vinson and Scotty Thompson diligently work in the new spacious library facility while Ms. Jackson watches them closely.

Yeah, we had a new school, new classrooms, new halls, and we even had different chalkboards. Even the cafeteria food looked better, but the teachers and the schedules were still the same old thing.

It was nice though to have a change of scenery. You would have thought the adjustment would be intolerable for some students, even teachers, but nobody seemed to complain. We all seemed to take one day at a time and familiarize ourselves with our new surroundings.

Christmas Cheer: Well, they call themselves the "Stud Crew," but to everyone else they are known as the five guys who kept spirit alive, none other than Jason Pepperman, Mark Brock, James Hall, Matt Brock, and Greg Randall.

Prank Call: Tim McReynolds gets a kick out of watching Randolf McCall talk to Mrs. Anderson about checking out. "Hello, Office, this is the Lobby calling."

Living the Student's Life

A 24-hour obstacle course, that's how we saw each day. But, instead of running through tires or riding a rope over muddy water, we had to maneuver through crowded hallways, give the right answers in English class, and be seated in our desk before the tardy bell sounded. Whether it was after school practices, rehearsals, meetings, or tryouts....we all managed to work it in somehow.

And then there were the weekends-spending time with friends, going to the movies or that long talked about party, which took some time, too. Even though the pace was full-speed, we were having the best time imaginable. It was definitely the life, The Student's Life! - Jennifer Richerson

Gym Shorts

Just a few "brief" facts...

Even though we had a new school, we still tagged along some old traditions. Pep rallies, concerts, basketball games, and physical education were just a few of those traditions that we brought into our new gym. Still though, with a new facility, everyone expected something different and unique. What made our gym special was the large tiger mural on the far wall. This tiger gave everyone a sense of pride during whatever events occurred in the multifaceted building. Instead of just a gym, we could say that we had a modern recreational facility and this was due to the hours of hard work spent by many of our students as they helped to make the mural complete.

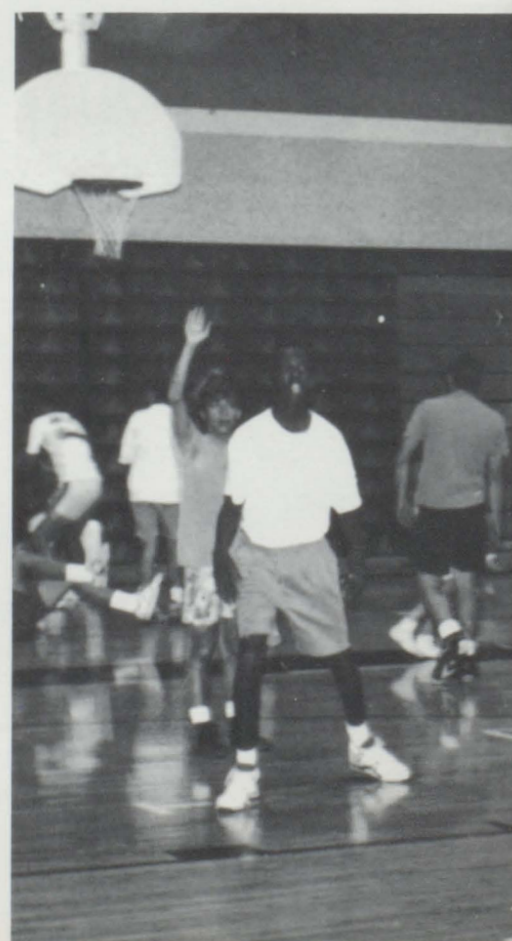

No matter what activity was taking place, the students looked forward to many years of pleasurable moments spent in the "eye of the tiger." -Matt Dagen & Diana Watts

HITTING THE HEIGHTS: Lana McNicole sings a patriotic number as she performs at the choral concert in the gym.

What do you think of the Tiger mural?

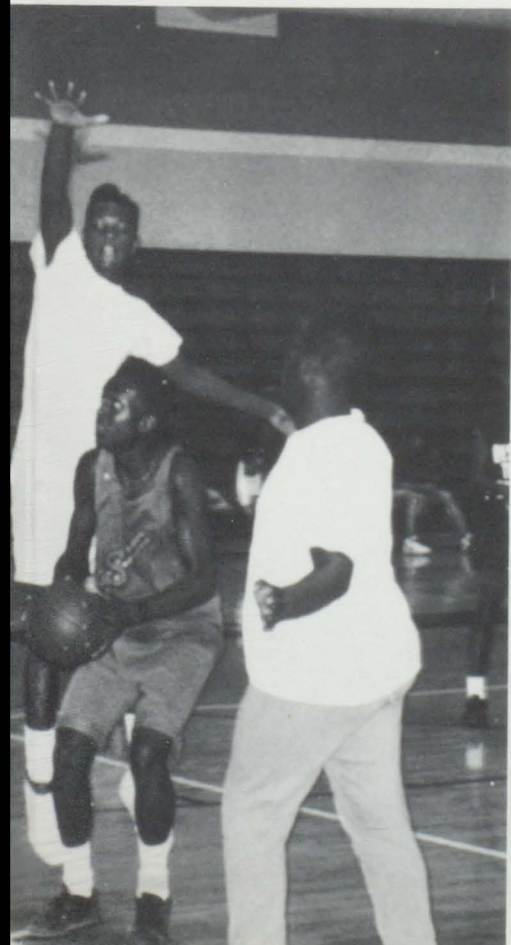

"I think it's pretty cool."
Julie Hall

"I think the tiger mural adds to the spirit and the excitement which the Baldwin County campus and the student body show everyday."

Ben Harper

RUN RUN: Lalita Love dribbles away from the angry jaws of the walled tiger and Murphy Panthers in a varsity girls' basketball game.

Spirit and Winning

Evidence of a good combination

Spirit was in the air as our Spirit Week started off. There were a variety of outfits which showed up that week, everything from greaser to "G.I. Joe," from Lottery balls to Siamese, if you please. As Spirit Week continued, everyone was getting pepped up for the Big Game, learning the sophomores were the victors of the spirit yell competition Friday afternoon.

Homecoming night, the tense crowd looked on as we went into double overtime. There were mixed emotions on the faces of the spectators. Some were worried, some confident, others just totally excited. As we scored the final touchdown to win the game 6-0, enthusiasm flourished all over the crowd, except for Baker's side of course.

All the spirit shown throughout the week, along with winning the game, combined to create lasting memories for all of us. The proof was in the performances of everyone of us.

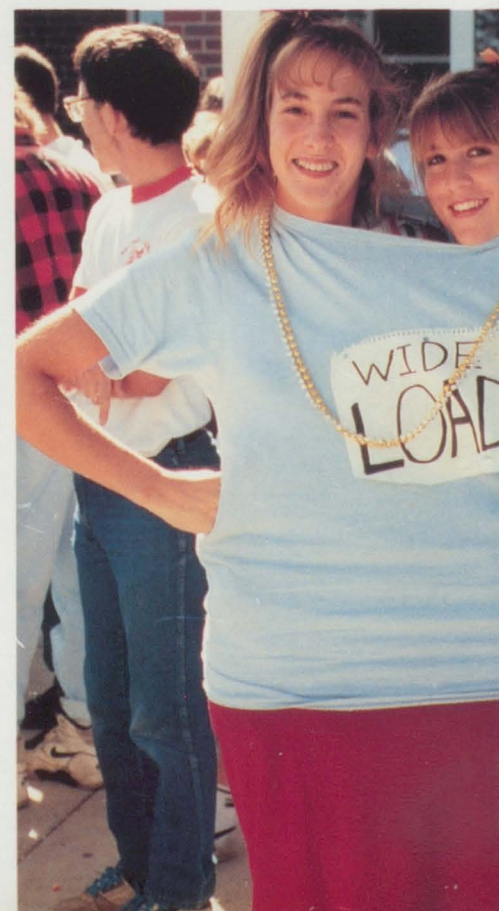

-Kim Dorough & April Prewett

ALL SMILES: Julie Walton expresses the excitement felt during the night of the big game, winning makes us want to smile a lot.

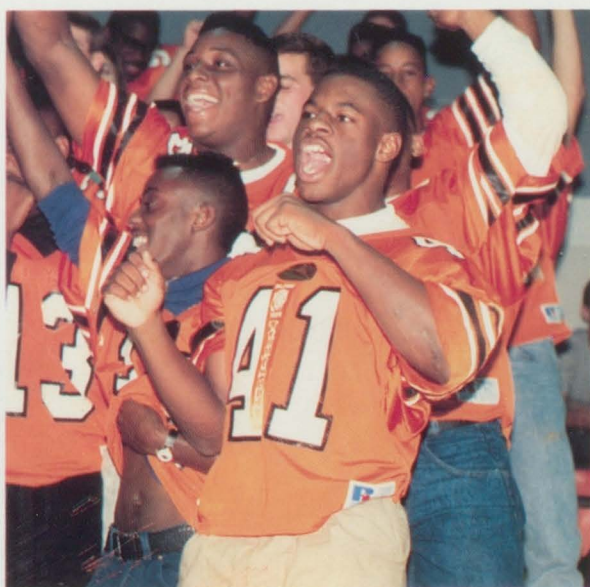

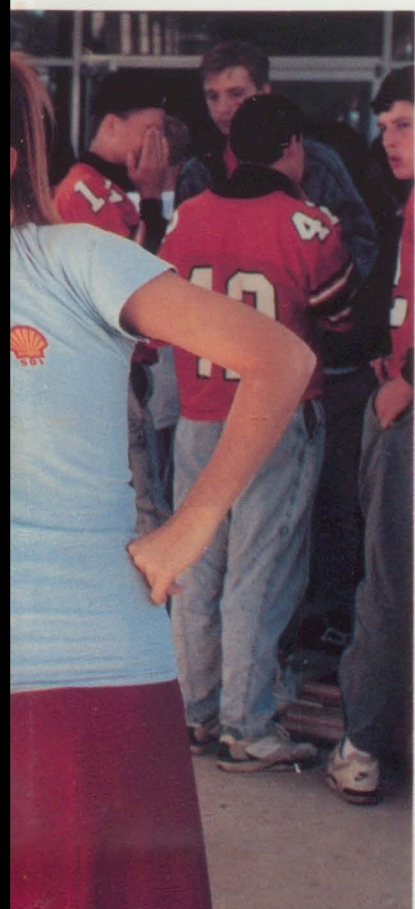

FOOTBALL FRENZY: With Clay Stevens behind them, Bart Wilson and Derrick Maxwell are ready to attack the Baker Hornets.

SIAMESE IF YOU PLEASE: Joy Jaye and Amy Baggett take part in themany activities during Homecoming week. Today it is dressing up like Siamese twins.

A NIGHT OF MEMORIES: Spirit and excitement are in the air as Robin Yarbrough, Joy Jaye, Shelley Bryant, and Jan Malone hold up a sign that says it all. It is truly a "Dream Come True" for all of us, finally!

UNCONTROLLED SPIRIT: During the Homecoming Pep Rally there was more competition about who was to win the spirit yell. Jermaine Judge, Reggie Morgan, and Letorrance Gulley make sure that it is the senior class who are to win, unfortunately it was not. The sophomores beat everyone.

What was different about this years Homecoming?

"I had a better date, but the line for the picutes was long."
-Jose Franco

"I went with a fine girl."
-Robert Sawyer

"There was a bigger crowd at the game and more excitement."
-Marvin Thomas

"I had a better time because I went with a friend."
-Amber Holcombe

TIGER EYES: Whether cheerleader or Mascot, Mandy Watts and Lisa Kilcrease carry their friendship on and off the field . What do you feed a hungry tiger, anyway? What about Baker Hornet meat for a Friday night snack?

What was Homecoming?

"Homecoming was an experience that would be ingrained in my memory forever."

Jamie Overstreet

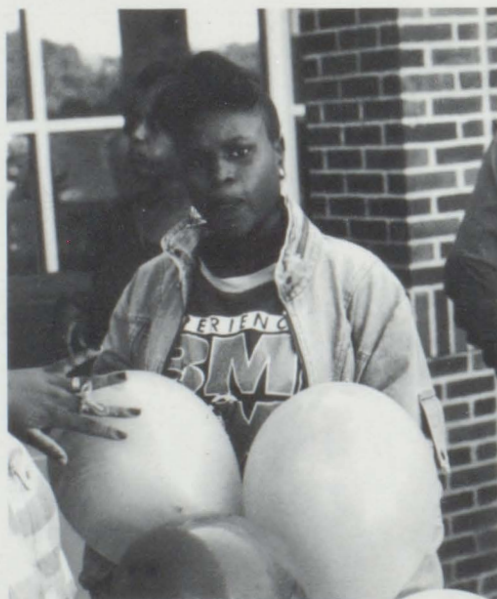

"Sad and glad because I know it's my last."

-Burt Beck

"Homecoming was a lot of fun."

April Phillips

WONDERING IF IT WAS WORTH IT: Leslie Palmer has a headache and it has Homecoming written all over it.

STYLIN': During Homecoming week Jim Hamilton and Tommy Mayfield show their true personalities by making a fashion statement on Tacky Tuesday.

Homecoming Week-

Was It?

Just because the calendar said it was homecoming didn't mean that it felt like homecoming. As a matter of fact, it felt pretty strange. The customs were the same, but the surroundings were so new that nothing appeared to be right for the moment. Every one seemed to be asking each other: "How do you mix old traditions and new surroundings?"

The special days were still attempted by some of the student body; but on the whole, most just walked around trying to accomodate themselves to the newness.

The mass confusion abated as the week wore on, and the halls echoed the enthusiasm of the anticipated game and dance. From the participation on tacky day to the laughter of twin day, the excitement slowly caught on as the weekend neared.

Pep Fest was its usual success. the groups really provided a show for all who attended the special Thursday night rally. Yep, it was the week that was all right...it was homecoming at last, however weak it had started!

LITTLE MISS MUFFET: Michael Bell works tediously on the prize winning flost. Don't they look great together? Definitely, yes!

BOY OR GIRL: Sean Jackson shows his Homecoming Spirit as he displays a side of him that none of us have seen before. Quite frankly, we would like to forget it has happened.

FAIRY TALES CAN COME TRUE: Chantelle Smith, Laura Colette, Shelley Salter, and Rolanda Harvey relive favorite childhood Fairy Tales at Pep Fest.

Night Court

A Homecoming kind of thing!

As our football team struggled through the first half of the game that eventually lasted two overtimes, everyone anticipated the Homecoming court, especially the announcement of the new Queen. The freshmen were first, then sophomores, next juniors, and finally the last five maids, the seniors, took the field with their escorts. They represented four years of waiting for that moment. With excitement and mystery everyone listened to the public address, "The Homecoming Queen, Miss Rolanda Harvey." Everyone was proud of her, and although the other seniors were disappointed, they gave a well deserved "Congratulations" to Rolanda. -Burt Beck & Ward Pepperman

Fashion / Entertainment

Leather braided belts, saddle oxfords, and athletic warm-up jackets were familiar sights all over campus this year. Unusual hairstyles on the athletes accompanied these fashion statements. Western shirts with cowboy boots were seen all over. The popularity of music, movies, and television was at an all time high. Comebacks from such popular groups as Guns 'N' Roses as well as new talent from groups like Nirvana created an interesting year for music. The motion picture industry earned millions of dollars off hot releases such as Robin Hood and Terminator 2. It was also a great year for movies. The fast growing popularity of the television show Beverly Hills 90210 has developed new teen idols, heart throbs and answers for critical situations of adolescence. All this made the year worth it. -Burt Beck

Top Songs

- 1) "Don't Cry" -Guns "n" Roses
- 2) "Tears in Heaven" - Eric Clapton
- 3) "To Be With You"- Mr. Big
- 4) "Smells Like Teen Spirit"- Nivana
- 5) "Everything I Do" - Bryan Adams

Wild One: Axl Rose, one of the most controversial performers of the year, belt it out during a Guns 'N' Roses concert in St. Louis.

Top Movies

- 1) Boyz in the Hood
- 2) Robin Hood
- 3) Terminator 2
- 4) Wayne's World
- 5) Silence of the Lambs

Howdy Partner: Gabriel Boatwright and Jason Price wear their western day attire during Homecoming week.

Buzz Cut: Brandon Morrow displays the hair style that several of the baseball players have introduced.

What's Up: Tyrone Henderson and Karlan Snowden sit backstage in their performance wardrobe, anxiously awaiting their performance in the annual talent show.

Top Television Shows

- 1) Beverly Hills 90210
- 2) Fresh Prince of Bel Air
- 3) The Cosby Show
- 4) Different World
- 5) Married with Children

Party Time, Excellent: Wayne and Garth hosting their show Wayne's World which has developed from a Saturday Night Live skit into a motion picture.

Teenage Life: The cast of Beverly Hills 90210 confronts a different obstacle of adolescence in each weekly episode.

The new school year created quite an unusual change for us, national and local affairs affecting school life made things memorable. Headlines such as rape, AIDS, and mass murder reflected the media's headlines. William Kennedy Smith and Clarence Thomas, alleged advocates of sexual abuse, and professional boxer Mike Tyson's conviction of rape charges brought attention to the charges of sexual harassment. Magic Johnson, all-star athlete, announced he was HIV positive and sent the entire nation into shock. Changing times have taken place every year, this one had its fair share...and more, it seemed.

-Burton Beck

Extreme Determination: United States Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas is presiding after the long dispute over his supposed encounter with Anita Hill. Much ado was made over the issue of women's rights in the work place. Equal rights are no longer a topic of just race.

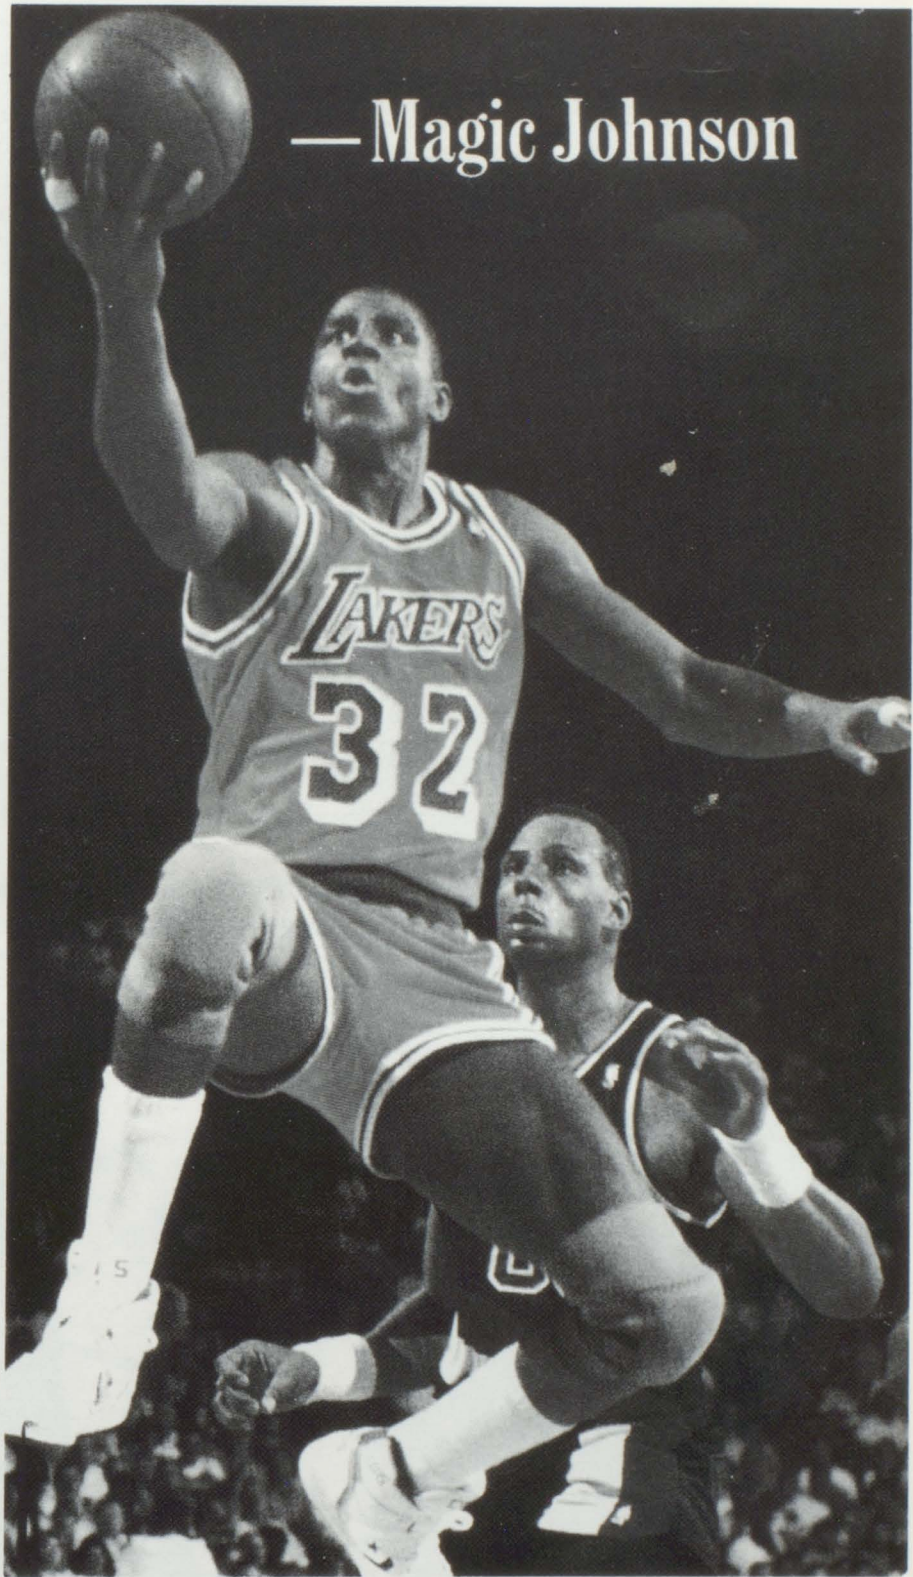

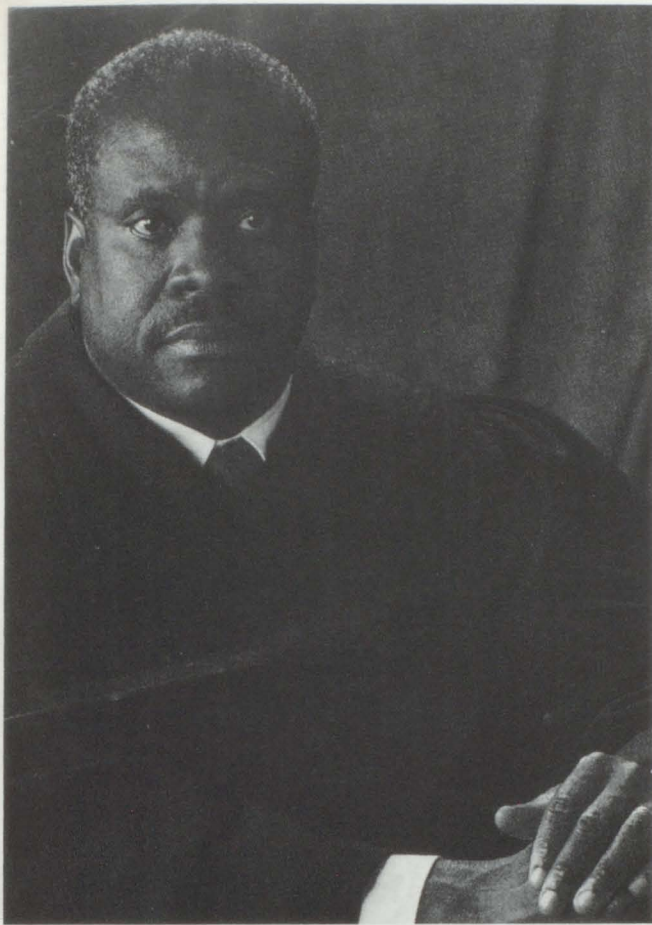

Date Rape: Many of us watched as William Kennedy was charged and tried for date rape. He was found innocent in a Florida court.

— Magic Johnson

Heroic Tragedy: NBA player Magic Johnson, of the Los Angeles Lakers, hit close to home with everyone. The discovery of the AIDS virus in an American hero makes us all more vulnerable. Most of us thought of the dreaded disease from a distance, but when someone we all "know" becomes ill, it quickly becomes our problem.

And Justice for All: Mikael Gorbachev and Russia are closer to joining the millions with democracy. We and the world watch as the Soviet States separate to become individual countries of their own. The political maps of last year are no longer accurate, and the makers of these documents wait for the changes that are still taking place.

Prom & Sophomore Cruise

A Time Never to Forget

Together the Prom and the Sophomore Cruise created memories never to be forgotten. The Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Grand Hotel on April 11, while the Sophomore Cruise boarded at the same place on April 18.

Thanks to the juniors and all of their hard work and dedication, the Prom was a success. The Grand Hotel was decorated with the colors of black and teal green. The pictures began at 7:00 and the leadouts began at 9:00. Shortly afterwards, the King and Queen nominees were lined across the dance floor and Kim Dorough and Alan Howell were crowned. Then the Queen and her court danced to the theme song "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye," by Boyz II Men.

The Sophomore Cruise was not only for sophomores, but the freshmen were also able to attend. All year long they had fund raisers to make the cruise the success it was. This was the second year that the sophomores had their dance on the Southern Comfort.

They boarded the ship at 8:00 and they sailed for four hours. They were provided with music, food, and a beautiful view of the Mobile skyline.

As the Prom and the Sophomore Cruise came to an end, everyone knew it would be "A Time Never To Forget!"

Say Cheese: Mandy Watts and Eric Falls pose while taking pictures before the cruise begins.

Away from the Dance Floor: Maranda Carlisle and Lynn Hameric relax while watching the others take on the dance floor.

Leading the way: Paul Kelly leads the way for Rose Williams as they make through the leadouts.

Prom King & Queen

In the Spotlight: Moments after the senior leadouts were over, Alan Howell and Kim Dorough were named Prom King and Queen.

Cheers: Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. McMillian congratulation themselves on a job well done after seeing that the Prom was completely decorated.

Sitting one Out: The scenery and the Mobile skyline add to the Sophomore Cruise enchantment. Cathy Hicks is one of the many who enjoyed the boat trip.

Let's "Live A Little"

No one really knew how hard a play could be to produce, until the fact that "the play must go on" came into effect. Countless hours of practice, headaches, heartaches, and earaches from Mrs. Hudson's generous vocal chords finally paid off in the long run. The play "Live A Little" was a huge success enjoyed by many. But, no one enjoyed it as much as those who were in the cast and worked back stage.

The dancing and the singing and the late night rehearsals sort of turned us into an extended family. We loved the "colorful" set and felt the energy; we put on a play."

"Live A Little" was Mrs. Hudson's last play. All the members of Oral Communications and a few extra made sure that the play was one of the greatest ever put on and it was all dedicated to a wonderful lady who will always be remembered, Mrs. Patricia Hudson.

-Matt Dagen.

RollinHard: Matt Dagen and Jason Padgett take control of the situation and Ben. Where are the plates?

The Cast: Chandra Simmons, Carla Mixon, Lodusky Vickery, Amber Holcombe, Rolanda Harvey, Tim Davis, Laura Coletta, Wil Duck, Lynn Kobos, Jamie Overstreet, Shelly Salter, Amy Jarman, Chantelle Smith, Jan Malone, Jason Pepperman, Jennifer Peacock, Ben Harper, Toby Myer, Audra Jeffers, Jason Murray, Harry Still, Burt Beck, Jason Padgett, Doug Sheffield, Mary Lucia Partin, and of course, Matt Dagen.

Incognito: Chantelle Smith, Jan Malone, and Mary Lucia Partin try to make their big escape from Big George and Big Louis. they do, they are the stars of the show, you know.

Witchy Woman: Rolanda Harvey , Conjur Granny demands attention from the rest of the cast as she concocts one of her dangerous potions. It is the teddy be-ah that throws everyone into a spin. The night light helps to make the scene even more eerie, especially with Shelly wearing the lipstick.

"I was so embarrassed!! Words can't express the way I felt at that moment. All I felt was someone trying to hold me up, but I was falling endlessly." -Chantelle Smith

The final bows were carefully planned...however, a few slips are to be expected. How is Chantelle to know that that big old pot is right behind her?

Rockin': Burt Beck provides some musical entertainment as Jason Murray and Carla Mixon cut a rug. Eddie keeps us bopping!

The Battle

Between the Classes

The purpose of the Mark was to get all of the students involved in education, not just learning facts, but learning about life. It also helped get students involved in community projects, athletic events, cultured events, attendance at school functions, participation in clubs, attendance at school, etc.

At the beginning of the year each class took a survey. The survey consisted of questions about that individual class. That information was given to a professional artist who then came up with a "mark" for each class. The "mark" would then follow the class until their graduation. The totals would then carry over. In other words, whichever class had the most points that year would be considered "The Most Spirited Class" until some other class in the future beats their total.

The Mark Committee held six functions this year. They were: attendance, % of A's & B's, Almost Anything Goes, canned food drive, powder puff football game, and the male cheerleading contest.

The Mark program instills pride and involvement throughout the school.

Piggin' Out: Jeremy Goodman dives for his fifth hotdog during the hotdog eating contest. One person from each class competed. Jeremy finished second overall.

Mark Committee Members: Redina Paul, Pam Jackson, Katachia Dale, Julie Howell, Cathy Hicks, Jodi Peacock, Francis Hinkley, Kim Dorough, Leigh Hayes, Justin Mizell, Natalie Dees, Ryan Craig, Danielle Howard, Becky Bryars, Alicia Stewart, Les Hall, Tiffany Hollingsworth, Connie Joiner, Asia Jerkins, Jennifer Lee, Tylon Crook, Andrea America, Carlos Dees, m Chris Hardy, Brian Penn, April York, David Stevens, Kristy Green, Jermaine Mitchell, Bryce Hartner, Brad Ganey, Wendy Patrick, Amy Lovett, Charlotte Stallworth, Carla Hughes, and Tammy Hadley.

Pyramid Perfection: During the male cheerleading contest, Todd Lyles, Charlie Perkins, Frank Boatwright, and Joey Franco prove that cheerleading isn't just for girls.

"Cap"tivating: Lendale Thomas is spellbound by the directions given by Mrs. Steedley, a Mark Committee sponsor.

You Better Believe It!: Mark Committee members Travis Boykin, Brad Ganey, and Wendy Patrick display their love for the Mark.

Each class worked with an artist from Herff Jones to produce a "mark" that would be uniquely theirs. They seem to have captured the mood.

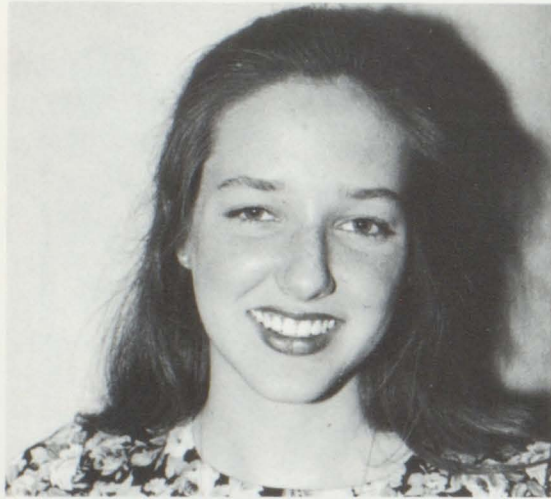

Passing It On: After quickly grabbing the banana, Chris Guidry passes it to Lendale Thomas in hopes that it gets to the end of the line in time.

The top ten were composed of those students who excelled throughout their four years of high school. The senior class consisted of 235 students and the following eleven stood out above the rest. They accomplished what few students do.

"When I entered ninth grade, my mother told me to set a goal for my high school career. I have devoted the years since then to my classes and my school, and I feel my reward is well worth it. I am honored to be a valedictorian of the Class of 1992."

Co-Valedictorian Daniel Kern:

"While traveling along life's pathway, we must seek wisdom, knowledge, and inspiration from God to achieve success. Through my high school years I have endeavored to portray a positive attitude. I have been motivated to do my best which has helped me to earn #1 in my class."

It Does Matter How You Play The Game!

The change in address brought on all kinds of changes in sports. Girls' sports expanded to include soccer, tennis and golf. The choices for female participation no longer were restricted to just basketball and baseball. It made a positive difference in our program.

New coaches were hired, and the fresh faces seemed to make a difference in attitudes. From men's basketball to ladies' softball, rules and traditions were made and changed.

It was nice to see that our athletic department was flexible enough to change with the times. We were all aware that high school sports were not just games people played.

Back to Back to Back Area Champs

The football team pushed their way to another Area 3 Championship and state playoff berth. For the 3rd year in a row, they also beat Fairhope and Satsuma, while dropping their first to Foley in the same span. The team started the year with an impressive win over LeFlore, then dropped two in a row to Vigor and Blount. They then turned around and defeated a fine Pensacola High team, big Theodore, arch-rival Fairhope, a decent Baker squad, and then dropped a heartbreaker to the Foley Lions. They finished off with a big win over Atmore and blew away Area 3 opponent Satsuma 29-6 in sub-freezing temperatures. They ended the season with a loss in the play-offs to Northview of Dothan.

"I was extremely proud of our team and its accomplishments. I hope we can continue the tradition next year." Coach R.L. Watson

Football

Gridiron Glory

This football team was one of the most successful teams ever. Although it did not have a great record like 10-0, this 7-4 team went through a lot and accomplished a lot. In spring training, Traver Hall suffered a head injury that put him in the hospital for four months. However, after much rehabilitation and hard work, Traver was able to attend all of the home games and some of the away ones. Individually, this team had college dreams. Marvin Thomas, Letorance Gulley, and Jermaine Judge signed football scholarships at 4-year Universities. Everyone was proud of their hard work and it paid off when they took the Area 3 Championship for the third year in a row.

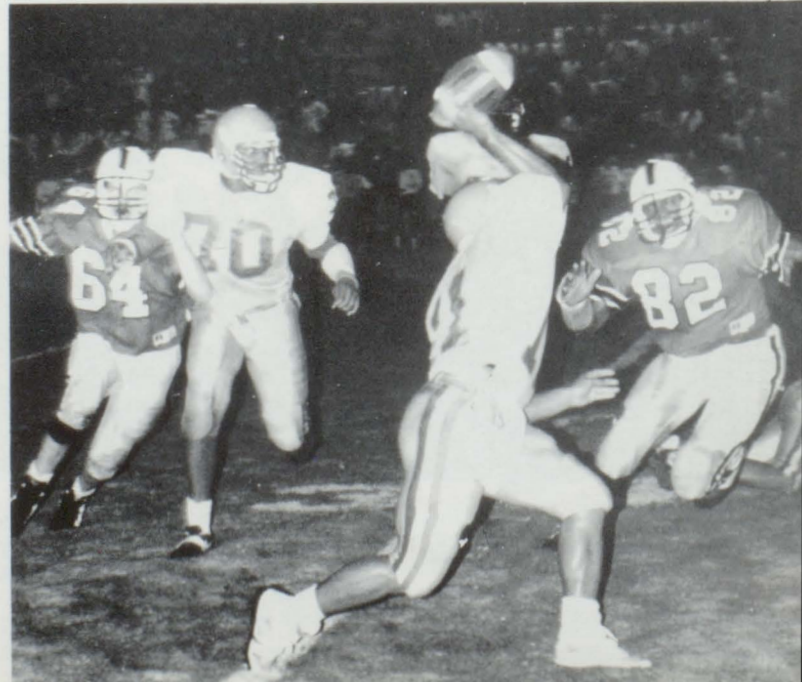

"We had a good season and we accomplished a lot. There were a couple of games that got away from us, but overall we had a good year."
Matt Brock

Deserved Rest: All-State Lineman Jermaine Judge and Anthony Gray think over the last possession with a cold drink of water. Maybe with a little more concentration it will be more successful.

Endangered Species: With lineman like Alan Howell and Marvin Thomas, this LeFlore quarterback doesn't have a chance.

Breaking Through: Clay Stevens(84) leads for the endzone after a "no mas" B block from J.J. Sanders(79) and Derrick Maxwell(12).

In the Mood: Bart Wilson gets the student body in the mood to start the spirit yell. With Bart yelling anyone would get lively.

Football

Hard work makes a Great Team

The football team did well this year, but the varsity was not the only part of the team. The junior varsity provided much needed help in several games.

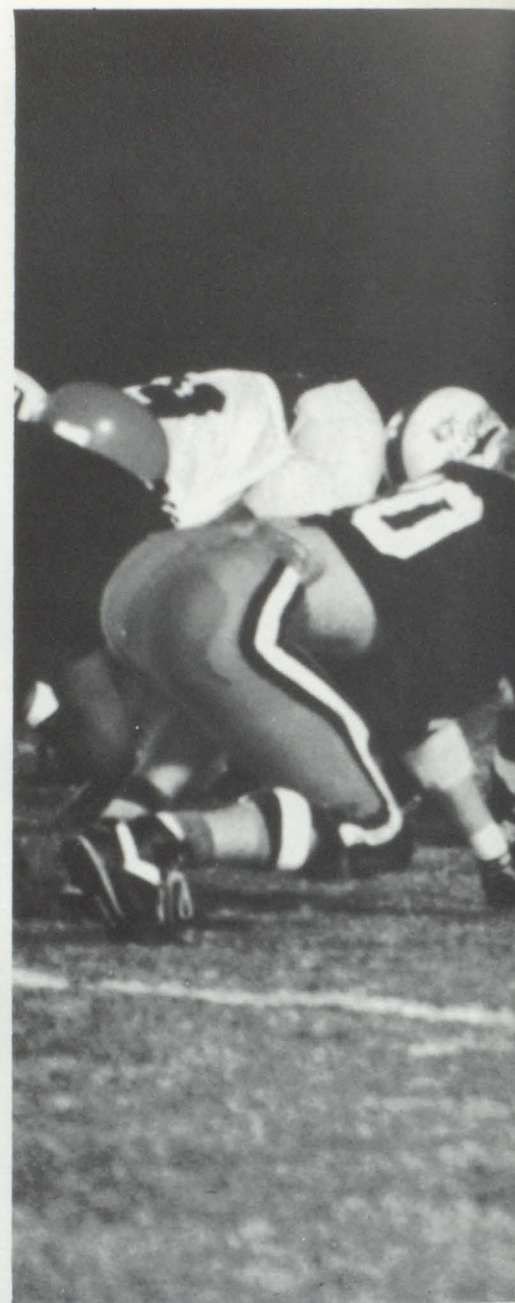

Twenty individuals worked in the weight rooms all summer to better themselves which in turn made a better team. These people made up a group called The Winners Club.

The Baby tigers suffered 2 losses against 3 wins and 1 tie. In their three games they blew away their opponents in games that were never close.

The J.V. gave its crowd excitement and thrills, and it gave a good look to the future of our football. Ward Peppeman

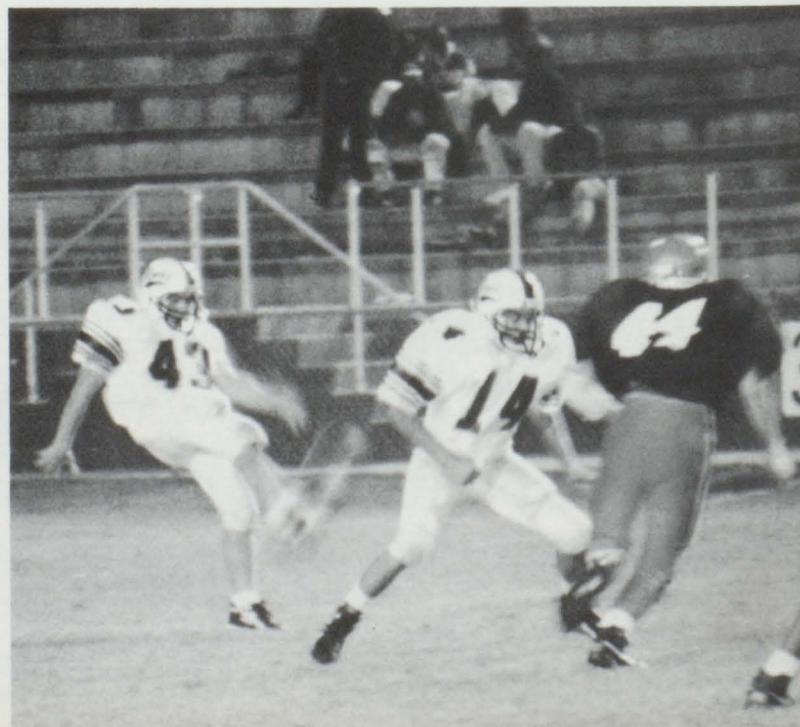

"The j.v. had a good team. Our season was a good one, and I think the team will be strong competitors next year."
Jeremy Odom

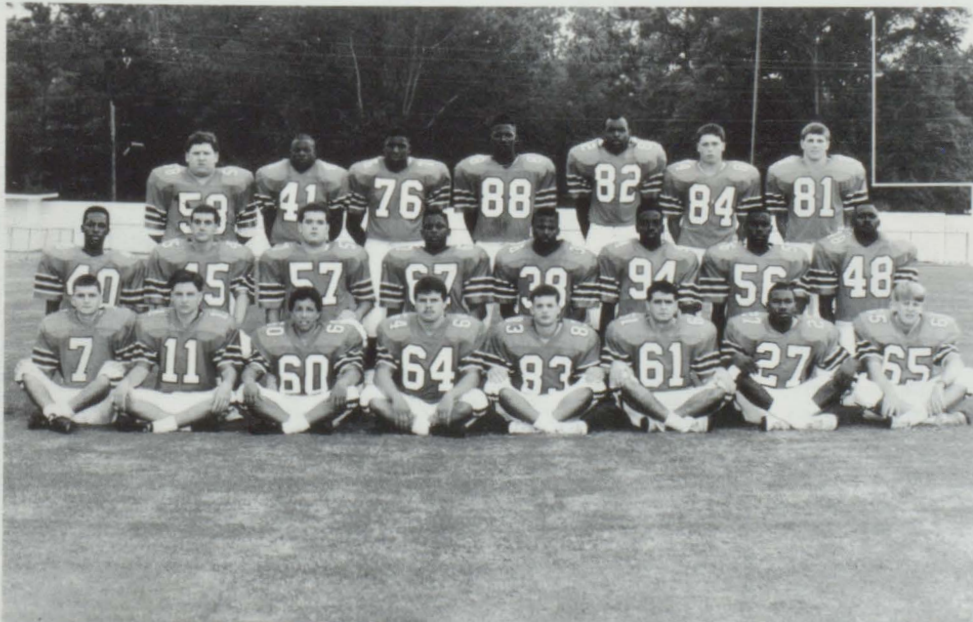

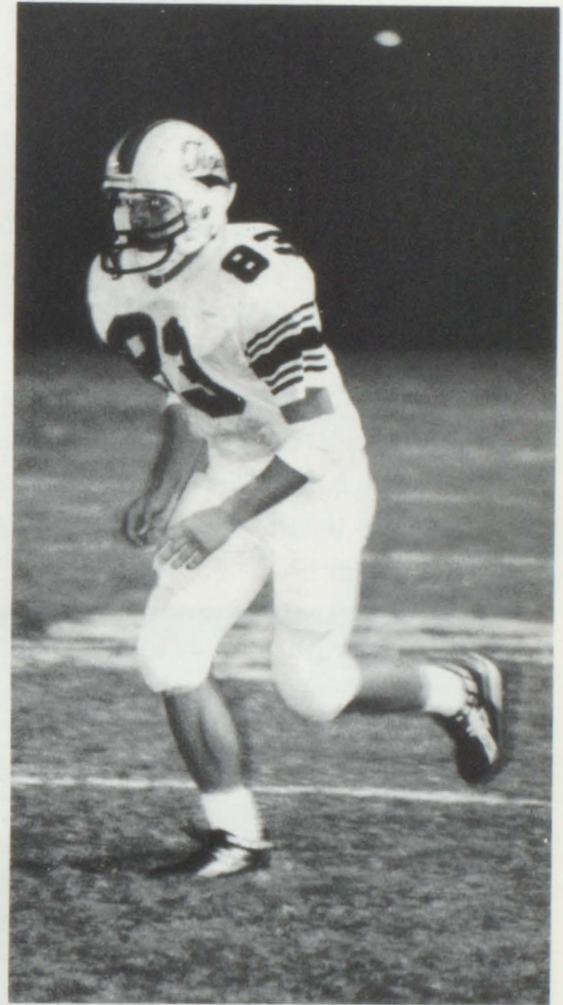

Da Best: Robert Wills and Barrett Wiggins try to help Carnell Atchison remember they're No. 1! Of course, they believe it already because it takes faith to have the winning attitude. We are winners.

Air Mail: Michael Hyatt launches a punt in a j.v. game against Foley. He shows a lot of hope for our future punting game. He and his team mates are the hope of all of our futures in football.

Set!..Hike! Josh McCollough signals the play against Foley while Robert Wills gets set to block. There is no preparation for the real game than a real game.

Stalker: Craig Murph watches the play to help out any way he can. The defense makes the way for the offense to do its stuff.

Winners' Club:

Pepping It UP!

The varsity cheerleaders were in a constant state of frenzy throughout the year. Their school spirit was displayed from football to basketball, and wherever any team seemed to go, the cheerleaders were always there.

The cheerleaders served as a bridge, keeping alive the spirit of the old school, yet, somehow, managing to incorporate the change of the new school. Their presence was seen and felt everywhere thanks to the leadership of Mrs. Nancy Ford.

This unique group of individuals were even able to persuade Mr. Duck to take time out of his busy schedule to display his sense of pride in our school. Without the cheerleaders what would we have done? - Jeff Coats

Basketball Boosters: Joy Jaye, Amy Baggett, Amy Lovett, and Chantelle Smith keep spirit rolling in the gym. The cheers echo the excitement of each game.

Hammer Time: Timberly Morsette displays her school spirit at one of the many lunch prep rallies.

Time Out: Bridget McDonald tries to show Mr. Duck how to get into the groove of things.

Electric Slide: No, it was the newest routine created by the cheerleaders, demonstrated by Crystal Johnson and Amy Baggett.

The Jumping J.V.

The J.V. Cheerleaders displayed a great amount of school spirit and enthusiasm in every aspect of student life. If it were cheering at the junior high football game or selling ribbons or selling programs at the Friday night football games, their presence was left everywhere. Through the leadership of Mrs. Sandra Fagen, everything was made possible and ran smoothly and effectively.

These young ladies were often overshadowed by the varsity squad, but this never got them down. They were there doing what they were asked to do... motivating the J.V. teams in all sports.

Dreaming: The J.V. Cheerleaders gaze upon the Varsity Cheerleaders, hoping they will be there one day, maybe sooner than they can imagine.

Practicing: Jennifer Mosley concentrates hard to be the best she can be. J.V. was also important to the school, and getting it right is a must.

Tiger Rag: Misty Morris cheers for the Tigers at one of the many Pep-Rallies the squad participated. Dancing was all part of it.

Raise Your Hand: We know for a fact that Erika Chancery is sure of her school spirit, and she shows it.

What! What! What!: Yeah! Jennifer Hawkins, Rachael Foster, and Erika Chancery do have spirit.

Swishful Thinking

The new gym was given a baptism of fire as the Tigers set a new tradition with Coach Weaver at the helm. With their run and gun style, the team reached the state playoffs for the first time in a long, long, time. The dedication the Tigers had was due to long hours of practice that sometimes would go on for four or five hours a night. The contribution of all the team members was useful to the success of the team. Whether it was giving it their all on the court or on the bench, the pride of the team propelled them to a winning season. Basketball, a game invented a century ago by tossing a round ball into a fruit basket, thought of by Dr. James Naismith just to pass the time, has evolved into a major event in the lives of many-- especially here.

-Matt "D-lite" Dagen

"We had a very successful year in basketball. It was the first time since I've been in high school we've won the County Tournament. Everyone on the team worked hard all year to make it a great year."
Robby Robertson, 12

Basketball

Some Points to remember

The Lady Tigers ripped through their season like a whirl winds, winning games left and right. With the veteran coach Mr. Pridgeon running the show, the lady tigers clawed their way to a play off berth. The season for the girls' was filled with many hardships, which more often than not, they overcame and kept on blazing a trail of success throughout the season. With the loss of only a handful of seniors, the team had a number of underclassmen, Dapper Dandies as Dick Vitale calls them, ready to step foward and fill their shoes, or at least try them on. -Matt Dagen

"We had a record of 17 wins and only 8 losses. After being 2nd in county, we came in 2nd in the tournament. We had 4 seniors who showed great leadership. Coach Charles Pridgeon, who was also like a father to us, coached us to sub-state playoffs where we fell to Enterprise."

Basketball

Boys to men and girls to women, that transition would occur sooner or later. The dream of just about all the members of the Junior Varsity boys and girls basketball team was to one day be in the big time. Not the NBA (well maybe), but the varsity team. If they would work hard and long, it would pay off in the end with the reward being picked to be on the varsity team. Both teams did well during the season. Win or loss, each game was a learning experience that would stay with each member of their team for probably the rest of their lives.

- Matt Dagen

"J.V. Basketball was very enjoyable this year. We had an outstanding team and we played well together. Coach Orso did a great job of coaching us and keeping us together."

Spiking it UP

As the time on the clock ran out, the crowd was filled with joy and excitement due to another win by the dynamic Lady Tigers. This turned into an after-game event that folks started to expect, because winning was the only way to go.

A major reason for their winning season was that they were a team which possessed a sense of togetherness and school spirit. The major goal was to keep their eyes on the ball and win. Due to the expert coaching of Mrs. Becky Clemmons and Mr. Robert Clemmons, every team member gave her all, which enabled them to continue playing and coming out on top and with the most points.

Volleyball was a sport which could be enjoyed by the crowd as well as the athletes. For instance, when Genise Parker blocked a spike, the fans could feel the action! "Bump, set, spike it!"

Soccer

Playing

Just for Kicks

Soc it to ya!! The boys lived up to this expectation. However, the girls gained valuable experience which helped them through the season.

Both teams consisted of loyal, dedicated players. For the girls it seemed that with every game came more braces and tape. The spirit and morale of the players remained high at all times. They played a great season because their ability to work together and the skills of the players paid off.

The guys could frequently be seen giving the girls pointers and they never laughed. At least no in front of the girls.

"I survived one year, and I'm looking forward to another year. It was a kick."

Tennis

Servin' it UP!

The boys' tennis team continued to perfect the skills learned from the past season. The girls' team embarked on a new season with a record better than to be expected. Each team practiced every afternoon for an hour and a half. This dedication of the players paid off in the hard fought victories.

The boys came in 8th in sectional and 3 in county. The girls came in 4th in sectional and 4th in the county tournament. Harry Still and Scott Nelson were named to the All County Tennis Team. Hudson Shaddix, Jodi Sullivan, and Felicia Stewart made honorable mention.

Golf

Swing It

Keeping it in the fairway

The golf team acquired a new look this year, a girls team. Both the boys and girls teams faired well. The boys compiled a season record of 29-10, defeating all schools in the county at least once. 2 of the 5 players were in the first year of competition golf. Thadd Haase and Ben Jones stepped up to help team veterans Ward Pepperman, Jason Pepperman, and Jay Spence.

The girls had a different story, but a good one. Mary Louise Wills, Felicia Stewart, Betsy Haase, and Jodi Sullivan decided to learn the game of golf to become more active in the school. The two team sproved to be worthy. Ward Pepperman

"Our golf team was really an excellent one. We didn't win county, but we did win the first county scramble. Let all the other golfers continue our golfers' great tradition." -Ward Pepperman

Track

Keepin' it in the wind

The track team sure lived up to the statement "Keepin it in the wind." They always had their heads held high, no matter how tough the competition.. You could tell by the year's accomplishments that they took their practices and meets seriously.

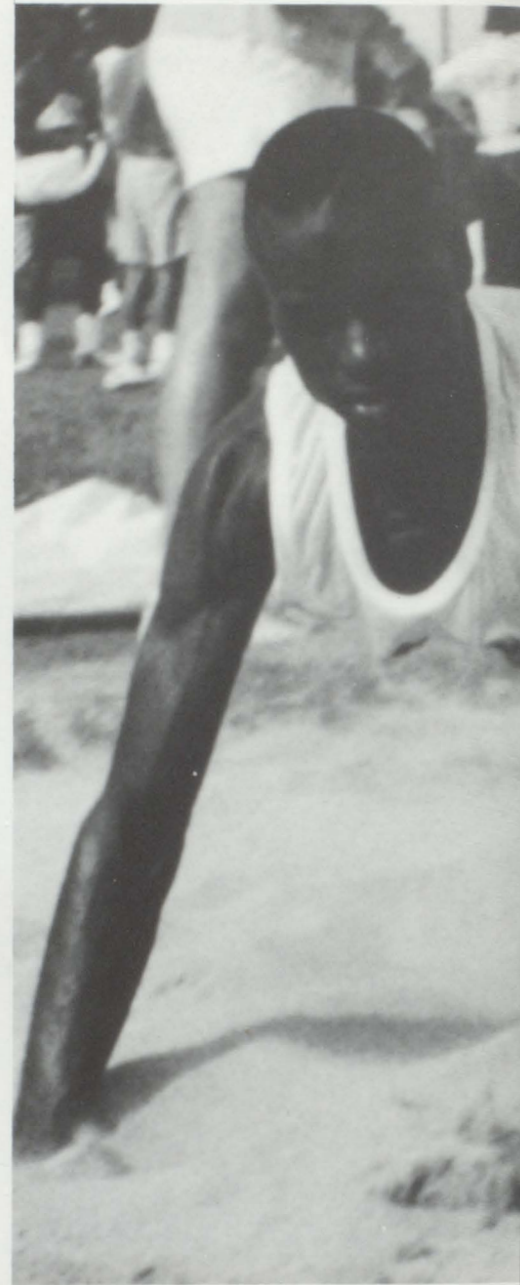

Varsity won the county champ title for the 4th year in a row and the freshmen also kept their end of the bargain by qualifying and competing in the state track meet.

This just went to show, that with team work we were winners here, in Daphne, in Theodore, or wherever we competed.

Baseball

There it is

A chant was heard throughout the season, one of inspiration and pride. Anytime someone did anything good, the crowd could hear a blast of "There it is!" erupt from the Tigers' dugout. Even though the team travelled troubled waters, with Coach Wright at their command, they fought their way out and came out shining in the end. Although they didn't make the playoffs, the team fought and clawed till their last game had been yanked away from them, leaving them unsatisfied in their season's performance. However, when the game uniforms were turned in, shoes dusted, and mitts closeted, they vowed to make it up next year. -Matt Dagen

Way to be!

J.V., You see!

"Way to be!" "There it is!" There were many sayings to be heard from the junior varsity dugouts. Not only did they have spirit but they also had talent. Many people said that the softball teams and the baseball teams had an easy season because they both finished with a winning season. But those in the know realize it was due to hard work and talent.

The parents were also a contributing factor to the season. No matter where the games were held, there were always a stand of fans cheering the team on.

Those who were moving up should prove to be a great asset to the varsity. Cathy Hicks & Matt Dagen

"This year we came together as a team. That is the reason we were such an awesome team."

Tony Martin

"We practiced, We played, We won."

Just A Thing

to get the swing of!

This season the varsity softball team was made up of young talented players. They got off to a slow start but once they become accustomed to the new coach, Mr. J. Kozoil, they really started playing ball. They placed second in the county tournament and had three girls make All-County.

The girls put in a lot of hard work and spent many hours practicing. No matter whether it was a Saturday or a Sunday you could always find the varsity girls out on the fields.

The games were fun, the practices difficult; but, it was a "team thing." We wanted to be the best, and we thought we were.

" Although it took us awhile to grow accustomed to the new coach, after we got used to his ways, we started playing well as a team."

-Robin Yarrow

Mighty Power: By the swing of the bat, Hope Sellers proves that she does have the power to make a homerun.

Ready or Not: Jodie McDonald gets down and ready for one of those many hard to handle balls.

Gettin' Dirty: Robin Yarbourgh proves that sliding is just a part of the game.

Takin' a Break: Hope Sellers takes a breather on third after she hit a triple.

SPORTS

Grudge Matches, Cookouts, and Bragging Rights

Teachers won another one! You mean those old folks beat those young energetic students again?! Yep, the faculty were the victors in both the volleyball and basketball competitions; however, they slipped up and tied the scholar's bowl match. Students held the grudge for another year and teachers bragged with reason.

If the students couldn't win on the court against the administration, they sure had won against their peers at other schools. The annual sports cookout was evidence. Almost 300 letters and awards were given out to the participants.

We played hard, but we celebrated the games even harder. -Mrs. Hudson

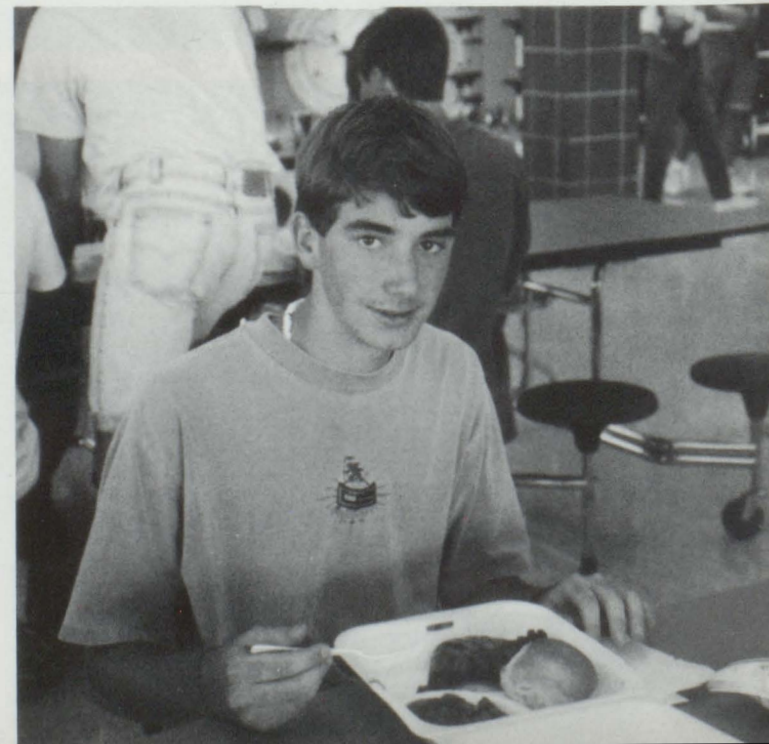

"This year when I received my first letter I felt as if I had contributed my best effort to the sports program at the school."

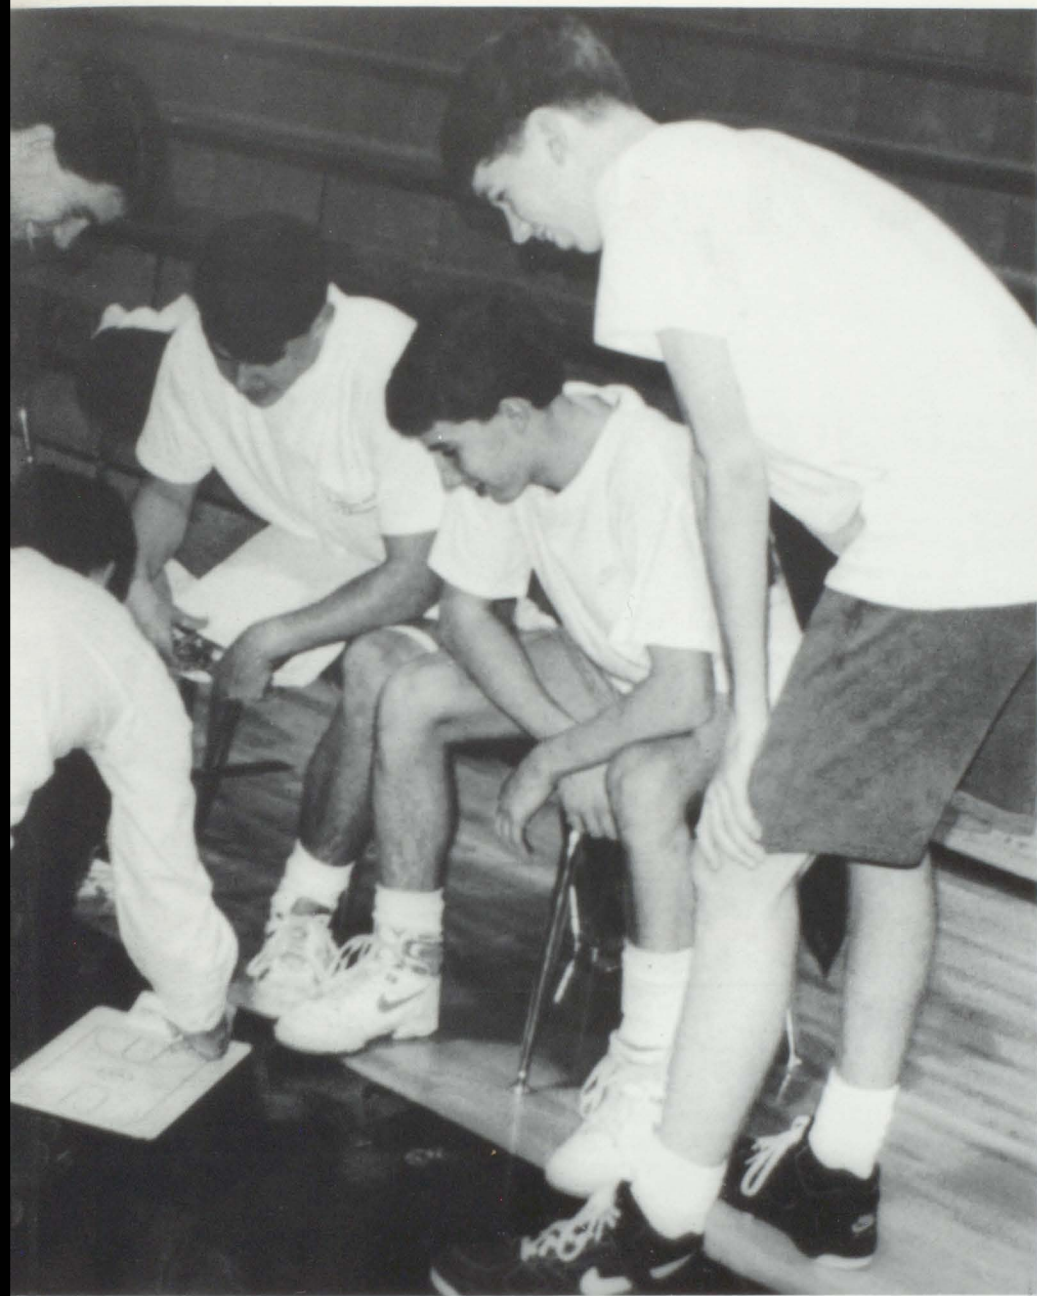

-Demetria Macon

Flying High: Mr. Cain gets some height as he goes up to score against the students in the famous student faculty volleyball game, as Mr. Parker, Ms. Baynes, Mr. Brackman, and Mr. Blackmon look on.

Debating: Chris Hedge takes a minute to check over his plate before tearing into it. Every year the athletes are given their letters at a big cookout.

Time out: Matt Dagen calls a break to get some of his team, Daniel Kern, Scott Harville, Brandon Morrow, and Phillip Smith back into the game.

Spiking it: Tylon Crook goes up to score the winning point for the students. Unfortunately his attempt was unsuccessful, and the teachers won the volleyball game.

Boredom: There are no other words to describe how Heather Paslay, Julie Patterson, Christy Molden, and Hope Sellers feel about waiting in a long line at the banquet.

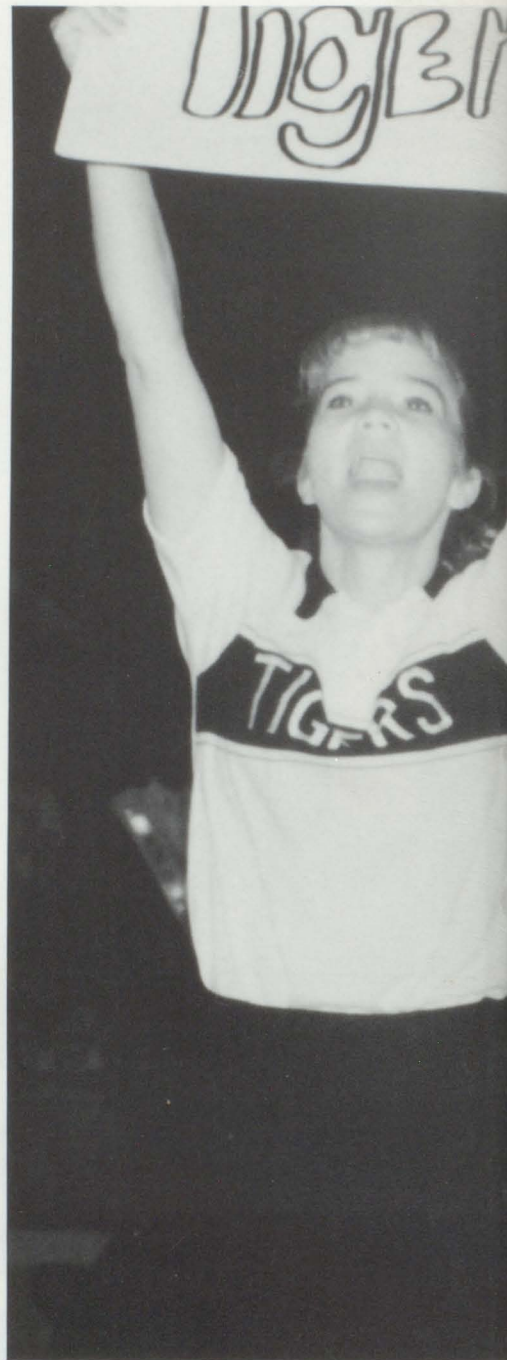

From Beginning to End

Everyone played a part of the many sports, even if they weren't actually part of the team playing on the field. We all cheered and supported various groups.

Whether you played football, soccer, track, softball, baseball, tennis, golf, cheerleading, or basketball, everyone put in 110% to make their team the best it could possibly be.

Even if you were just a cheer in the crowd, we were all there from beginning to end.

-Samantha Peacock

In the heat of the moment: In a time of hope & disparity, Robby Robertson runs for the winning basket.

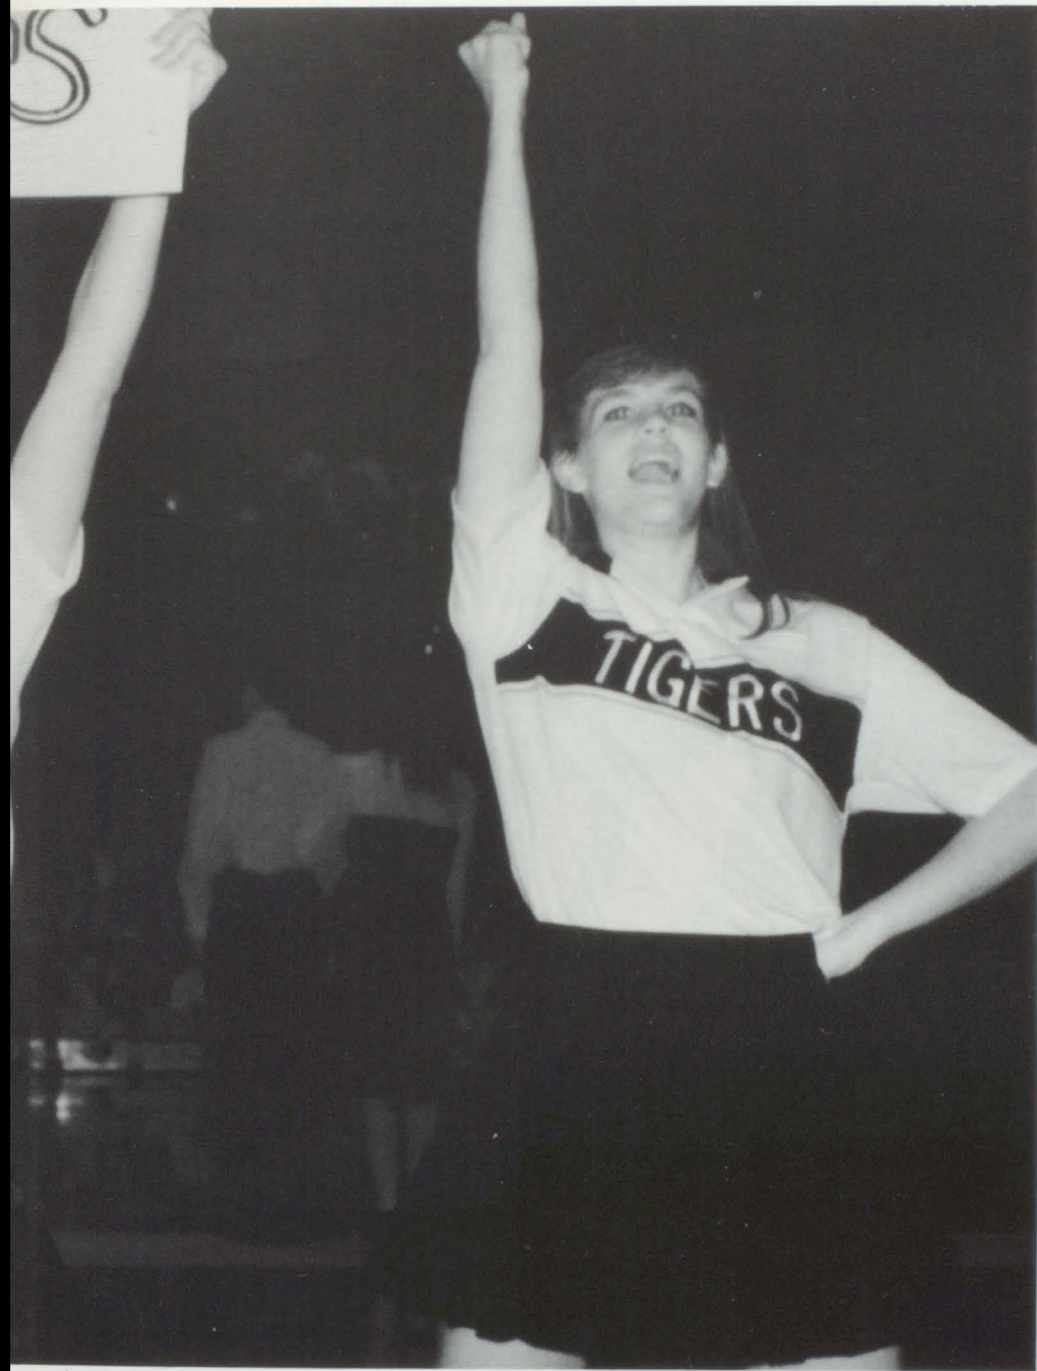

Preparing for victory: One shot can make or break a game; and Daniel Kern is putting everything into this winning shot.

A tiring job: Jennifer Mosley seems to be getting exhausted, but she knows that she has to keep the spirit alive.

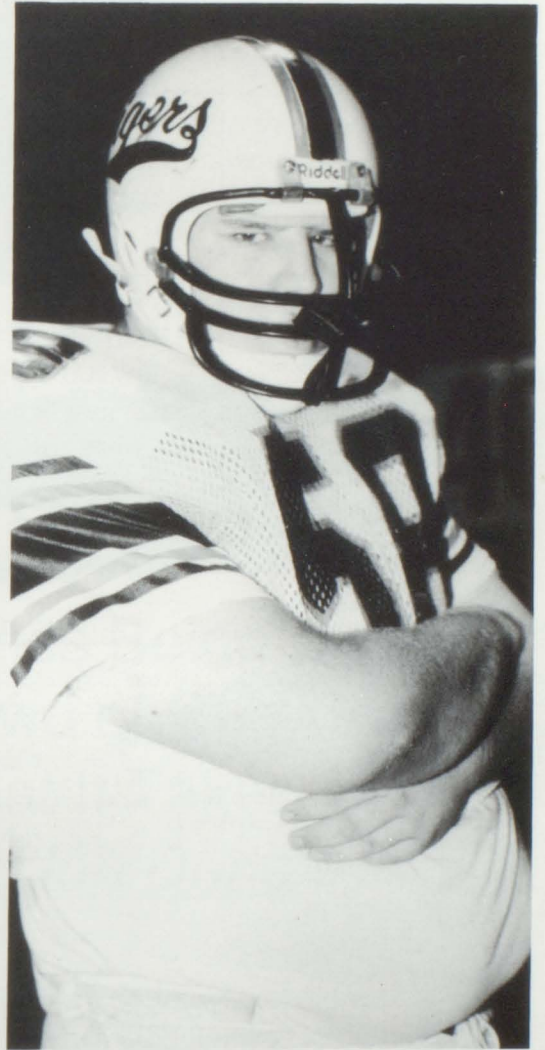

Putting it to a tee: Jay Spence strives to do his best with every swing to make that perfect putt.

Starting up: Robin Yarbrough & Jan Malone cheer from their hearts content to get the crowd going & on their feet.

No pain no gain: By the look in David Clark's eyes, you can tell that painful loss makes way for a great victory.

Practicing for perfection: Carla Stevens practices her throws to the absolute best they can be. Accuracy counts heavily.

Waiting patiently: Even though lines of dismay are showing in her face, Heather Paslay still manages to sit patiently and rest up.

Organizations Organizations

Car Wash: Angie Pridgeon, Beth Rhodes, and Misty Wallace try and flag down a few cars during one of the many Interact car washes. Raising money was always a problem for the clubs.

Helping Hand: NHS member Bryant Dockens helps out with the flowers during the annual Christmas carnation sale.

WORTH Get The Job Done

Bare walls, empty halls, and pristine clean floors---what did we do to give all of this an identity and make it feel as if it belonged to us? What did we do to break the monotony of the day, the week, or the year? What did we do if we really wanted our opinions heard by the administration and student body? We joined forces with others who felt the same way we did about certain ideas and things.

Student government really was an organization that grew in influence and size, as did the chess club. Sometimes when one voice was just too quiet, a bunch of us made up the noise.

NHS ACHIEVERS

That one word said it all. Every individual involved had achieved the highest honor available during their four years of high school. Twenty-six students were awarded this honor and each worked hard to provide their service hours and to get ready for the forty-fourth annual state NHS convention that was held in March

The state theme was "spirit." It stood for Students Providing Ideas Reaching Into Tomorrows. Many different schools across the state attended this convention, and with the many different fundraisers and donations given, it was a success. - Jennifer Richerson

Mrs. Scott's advice to NHS members: "It's good to have money and the things that money can buy; but it's good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy."

- Lanimer

Another Long Night: Many NHS meetings were held at night. Attending are Briget McDonald, Chantelle Smith, Jason Murray, Philip Smith, Toby Myers, Chandra Simmons, Jamie Overstreet, & Shelly Salter.

NHS Members: Jennifer Richerson (Treasurer), Ben Harper (Secretary), Mary Lucia Partin (acting Vice-President), Jason Padgett (President), Bridget McDonald, Rachael McCaw, Dawn Woods, Nicole Newton, Rolanda Harvey, Shelley Salter, Micah Aaron, Bryant Dockins, Jamie Overstreet, Chantelle Smith, Jeremy Blackmon, Michael Bell, April Phillips, Chandra Simmons, Daniel Kern, Philip Smith, Tim Davis, John Rhodes, Wil Duck, Jason Pepperman, Burt Beck, & Matt Dagen.

Carnations Galore: Ben Harper, Jason Padgett, and John Rhodes get ready for the delivery of the carnations in homeroom.

Patiently Awaiting: The greeting committee: Nicole Newton, Shelley Salter, Burt Beck, Melanie Cain, and Dawn Woods wait for some of the visitors to arrive.

Along For The Ride: Daniel Kern, Dawn Woods, Matt Dagen, and Ben Harper sit out in the hot sun while waiting for the Homecoming parade to begin.

One More Time: NHS officers Mary Lucia Partin, Jason Padgett, Ben Harper, and Jennifer Richerson rehearse one more time before the Induction Ceremony.

What does the I in

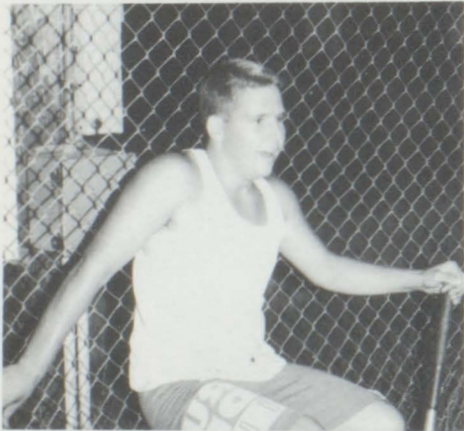

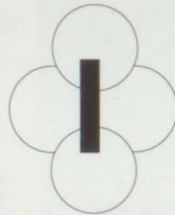

Interact

stand for?

Interact was more than just a club. It was an organization that helped each other as well as the community. It was interesting to see who was next on the agenda. With the road block that was held for the Alabama Sheriffs' Boys' Ranch, the club raised two hundred dollars for a donation. For Christmas, a car wash was held to support the Adopt-A-Child for Christmas program. Many other activities were held to help the community. So finally we came to the conclusion that E. was the correct answer, all of the above, was true of Interact.

- Christine Lindsey

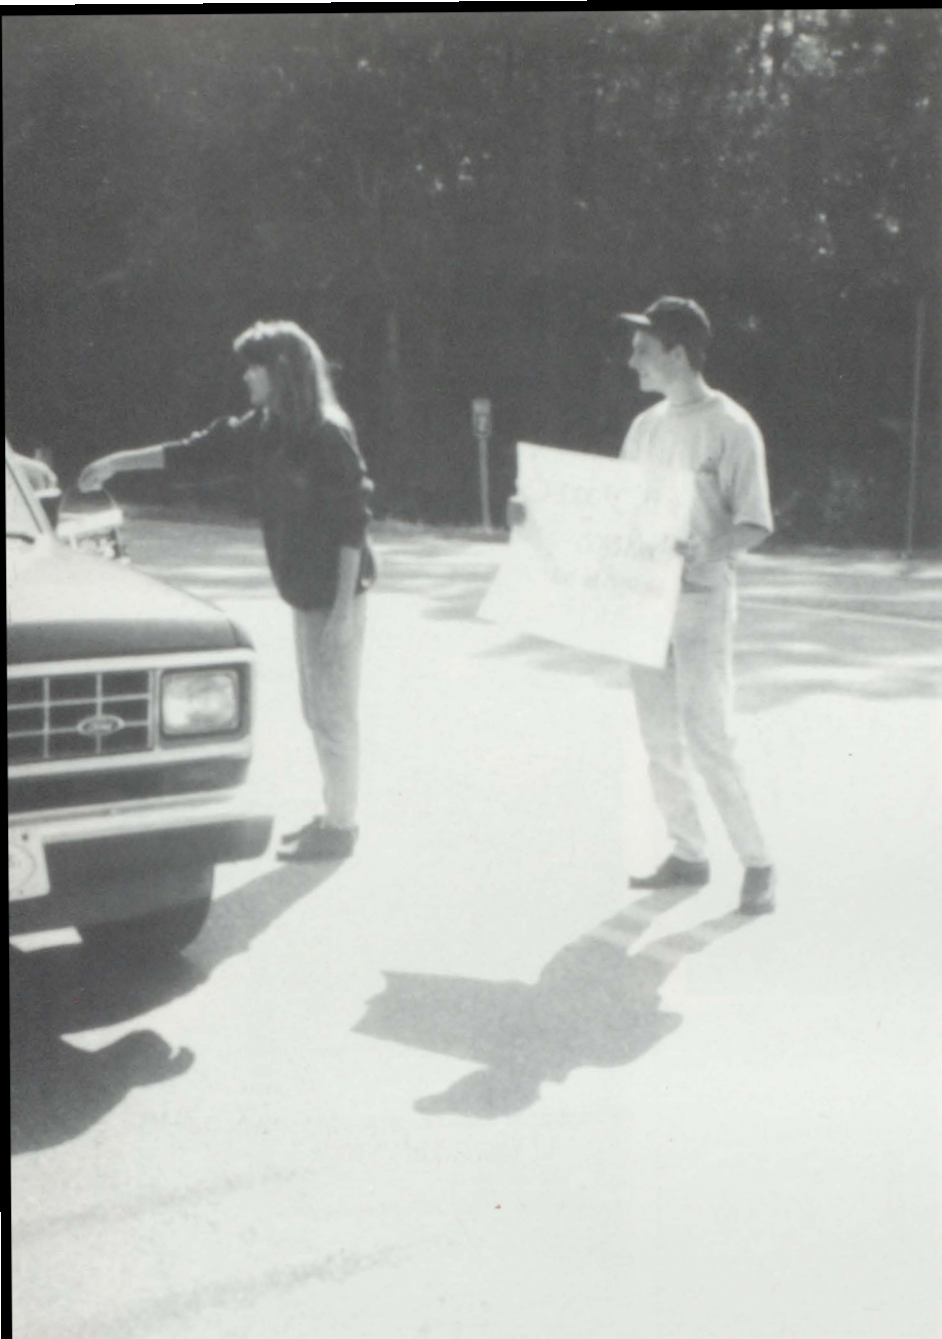

- A. Interesting
 - B. Intelligence
 - C. Ingenuity
 - D. Initiative
 - E. All the Above
- E. is the correct answer!

Homerun: At one of the many Interact softball games, Jimbo Ranes shows the excitement of a homerun.

Donations: Any donations were appreciated. As you can see, Tom Ranes and Susan McGill were happy for any.

Christmas Parade: Angie Pridgeon and Nicole Newton look on as Christine Lindsey distributes candy to high school Alumni.

Support Us: All donations helped, as shown by Tammy Hadley and Nicole Newton.

Lunchroom Buddies: Interact Members, as well as friends, sit and have lunch together. Christy White, Misty Wallace, Genice Parker, Beth Rhodes, Angie Pridgeon, Lana McNichol, Nicole Newton, Susan McGill are all smiles.

Key Club-- No 1 in the State

Throughout the year Key Club members and favorites participated in different activities. They helped organized events in order to help the city and its members. Such as Kids' Day, Toys for Tots, and numerous road blocks which were aimed to help out the Boys' Ranch. All in all, the members and favorites were involved in activities which showed that they were a club that strived to be the best, and through their actions, they demonstrated their civic dedication.

The best thing that happened to us was the pay off at convention when we were declared No. 1. -Kim Dorough

"The Key Club reestablished itself as number one in the State through all the hard work and dedication the members put forth. They had one of the best years ever."
-Mr. E. Hartner

Just in Time: Jason Murray, Bridget McDonald, Mary Lucia Partin, Lee Johns, Kim Dorough, Carla Mixon, Wil Duck, John Rhodes, Harry Still, Chandra Simmons, and Doug Sheffield arrive right on time for a parade. They participate in many parades and support our community.

Key Club: Scott Nelson, Daniel Kern, Gabriel Boatwright, Jack Wurst, Kelly Wilder, Brain Penn, Bobby Thomaston, Brad Peacock, Chad Campbell, Josh MCCollough, Barrett Wiggins, Danny Norton, Brad Rhodes, Jaosn Price, Jeremy Sanks, Derrick Maxwell, Ward Pepperman, Phillip Smith, Brice Hartner, Amber Holcombe, Matt Franklin, Kim Dorough, Jennifer Richerson, Burton Beck, Mary Lucia Partin, Harry Still, Chantelle Smith, Kim Randall, Lee Johns, Matt Brock, Bridget McDonald, Micah Aaron, Samantha Peacock, Daniel Kern, Jan Malone, Jason Pepperman, Jason Padgett, Carla Mixon, Kenneth Thomas, Clint Roundtree, John Rhodes, Doug Sheffield, Marvin Thomas, Wil Duck, Matt Dagen, Ben Harper, and Kane Morris.

Give it Up: Micah Aaron makes sure that Mrs. Still, one of the Key Club sponsors is doing okay while she is donating blood. Key Club made sure that they were always helping out in different activities.

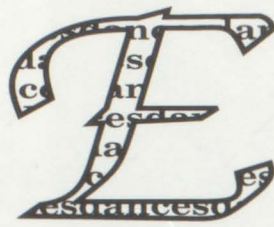

Cooking Right: During Pan Cake Day that was sponsored by Kiwanis, Kim Randall, and Mary Lucia Partin make sure that their Pancakes are the best.

Living it Up: Key Club was noy all work, but fun too. Jason Padgett, Harry Still, Doug Sheffield, Jason Murray, Matt Franklin, John Rhodes, and Wil Duck live it up at June Jam.

Key Club Favorites: Jennifer Richerson, Samantha Peacock, Amber Holcombe, Kim Dorough, Bridget McDonald, Jan Malone, Kim Randall, Chantelle Smith, Mary Lucia Partin, Chandra Simmons, and Carla Mixon.

What was Sigma Delta Phi?

It was a circle of Friendship, a circle of smiles... individuals working in unity to achieve common goals. As members of Sigma Delta Phi, we strived "... to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better... to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived..."

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

Sigma Delta Phi embarked on a memorable year- the organization encountered a variety of firsts: we graduated our first original charter members, Loducky Vickery and Jennifer Peacock gave their time and dedicated efforts for the four years of our existence on campus.

We sponsored BCHS's first Mardi Gras Ball, complete with a parade of candy and fun from The Mystic Strippers, WABB's "Hot Ron" Anthony as D.J., and a royal court of eighteen representatives from the student body. The first Sigma Delta Phi royal couple were crowned: Rolanda Harvey, Queen, and Chad Rider, King.

Another first event for Sigma Delta Phi was our "Father-Daughter Dinner," held in Gulf Shores, where many of the special "dates" (or "Father-Daughter dates") enjoyed dining and dancing.

Sigma Delta Phi proudly guarded the honor of first place in the homecoming float division for the second year. The winning float followed The Nursery Rhyme Theme of "Rub-A-Dub-Dub."

The organization also won second place in the Club Bulletin Board Contest with the artistry of Amanda Riddle.

"Sigma Delta Phi has been an enriching experience for me.. always proving to be a challenge. There is nothing that I enjoy more than watching these young ladies develop their dreams and goals and seeing their elation when they succeed. I feel blessed that I am able to share in this special part of their lives.. Sigma Delta Phi has always been a rewarding blessing for me!"

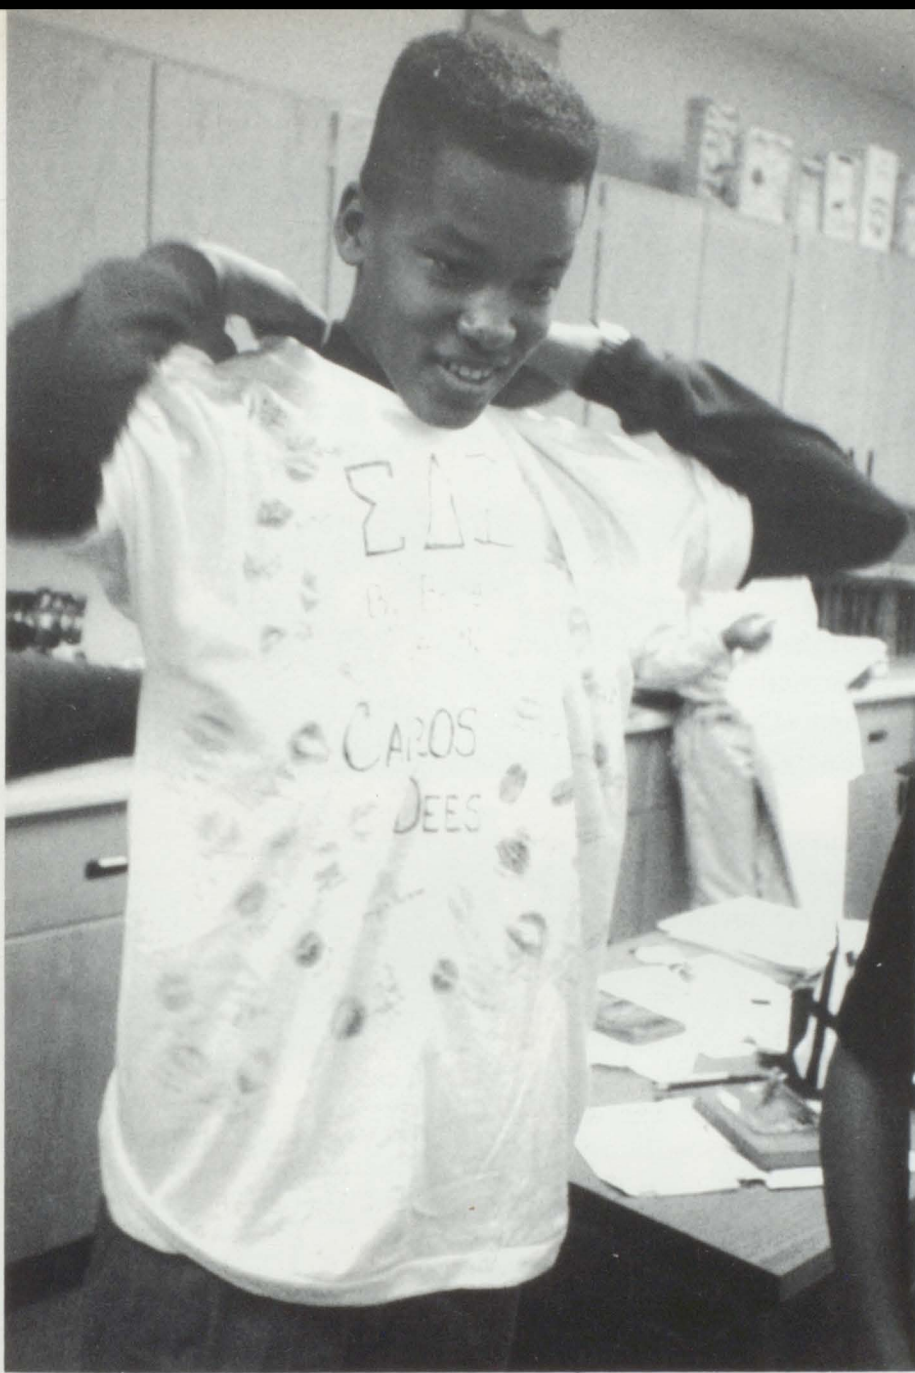

- Miss Connie Holmes

Like Father... Like Daughter: Tiz Thompson and her dad enjoy their evening at the Father/Daughter dinner.

If the Shirt Fits... Wear It: Carlos Dees sports his new shirt covered with Sigma Delta Phi kisses.

Dad's Date: Kirston Kolb and her father are just two of the many who attended the special banquet held in Gulf Shores.

Initiation: April Prewett is pinned by member Jessica Ammons. This is just one of the many traditions and ceremonies that the club has every year. Presenting the new members to the student body helps to make us all a bit more aware of just how important this group of young ladies is becoming.

Daddy's Girl: Racheal Foster and her dad enjoy the night on the town at the banquet. Memories are made of this.

Sigma Delta Phi is a young woman's sorority made up of individuals who are selected from interviews on the basis of academic excellence, character, and the desire to perform service to our school and community. The organization selects fifteen Big Brothers each year to join in the fellowship and lend a helping hand with the organization's activities.

From the start of becoming a member until graduation, Sigma Delta Phi is a learning experience. Each member is unique, she felt the diversity among them helps shape the character of the organization and each as an individual. They work together as individuals and grow together as a group.

This year the organization put together fruit baskets for our community's local nursing home for the holiday season. They are also in the second year of their recycling project which funds the purchasing of much needed reference books for our school library.

Tiger Spirit: Jessica Ammons supports Sigma Delta Phi while showing her tiger spirit.

YEAH: Ursala Coleman, Melanie Cain, Tiffany Hollingsworth, Kirsten Kolb, and Jennifer Peacock anxiously await the induction of the new members.

Future Homemakers of America

"Mmm... something sure smells good in here." Everyone seemed to say this whenever FHA had a cooking project. Cooking was not all they did though. FHA (Future Homemakers of America) taught students such skills as menu planning, wardrobe planning, and sewing. They did this by doing many exciting and fun projects such as making cupcakes.

Those cupcakes came in handy because they sold them to help raise money for the cheerleaders who went to London. They also had other fundraisers, like selling candy for the senior square.

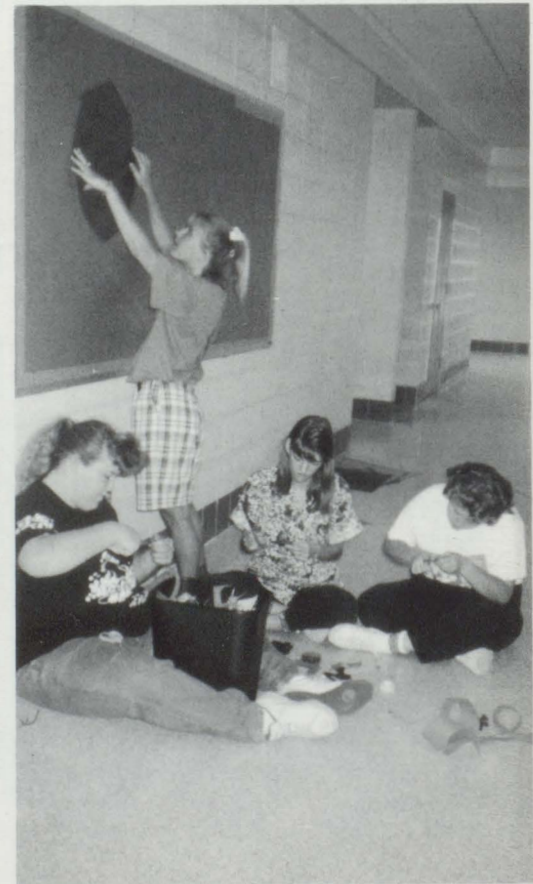

Everyone loved food, so this class was a big plus for the up coming freshmen and for the seniors. FHA really stayed busy this year and proved it to be one of the best years ever.

-Diana Watts

Cookin' Good: FHA members give Mrs. Carpenter a pat on the back for teaching them their cooking skills.

FHA Members: Terri Baggett, Lynette Brown, Katachia Dale, Sommer Flemming, James Hayles, Jenny Jerkins, Franky Lundy, Dale McKinley, Bobby Clair, Jennifer Prosser, Mattie Reynolds, Danny Stevens, Salathia Williams, Kenny Voorhees, Natasha Weekley, Fred Wilson, April Smith, Karissa Butler, Regina Ardis, Kisha Ankom, and Catina Atchison.

Health First: FHA members Donnell Pendarvis, Christy Joiner, Roxanne Glover, and Casey Tuberville put up a poster to teach student a few things about their health.

It's an O.C. thing!

The name of the class should have told what it was about, but whoever simplified the content of this class to merely communicating orally did not really know what O.C. was.

Kiss Goodbye: After ten years of teaching O.C. Mrs. Hudson calls it quits. Jason Padgett gives her a kiss goodbye.

It was a new experience;
it was old friends;
it was stressful work;
it was hysterical fun;
it was queling play practices;
it was Fairy Tales;
it was sliding down the hill;
it was growing up;
it was learning who you are;
it was expressing yourself;
it was out last hurrah;
it was 24 seniors;
it was Patricia Hudson.

It was an O.C. thing.

Slippin' and Slidin': Sliding down the hill at Faulkner became an OC favorite. Tim Davis, Shelley Salter, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Malone, Mary Lucia Partin, and Ben Harper try their hand at it.

Safety Club

The Safety Club has been very busy this year. They enjoyed several trips to Montgomery to the Alabama Youth Safety Council.

Once again, the dummies came down and Vince and Larry entertained students and encouraged them to "BUCKLE UP." When the club made the seatbelt survey this year, they came up with an outstanding 72.4%.

They sponsored the seatbelt survey, the Alabama Driving Road-E-O, and Dream Date. BCHS had the largest percentage of students signing the pledge card promising not to drink or do drugs on prom night. The school won an IBM computer for their efforts to make the project a success. Plans were made to attend the NSSP Conference in Texas over the summer.

Don't Mix: The members of the safety club (LtoR) are Jennifer Dickman, Rodney Smith, Krystal Johnson, Wayne Davis, Victoria Reeves, Matt Curry, Robin Garrett, and Averil White. These members are strong supporters of "Don't Drink and Drive."

Dressin' Up: Sponsor of the safety club, Mr. Wil Parnell, shows his full support on "Just Say No" day. The safety club was very active and supported their name. The name of the game is Safety.

FCA

This has been a very nice year for FCA. They held their meetings on Tuesday mornings before school. Each meeting consisted of prayer and devotionals. Some of their devotionals were done by members of the club, others were done by guest speakers from around this area. The speakers were Bro. Christenberry and Mona Hollis from Bay Minette, Jeremy Liseby and Judd Harbison from Spanish Fort, and Angela Moody from Mobile. Each devotional helped them think about what others see through their actions and how to be the witnesses they should be for God.

Christian Athletes: Chiquita Cannon, Kenneth Thomas, Shelly Bryant, Tyra Bray, Sonya Glasgow, Darryl America, Claude Sanders, Crystal Johnson, Joy Jaye, April York, Amy Lovett, Carnal Atehison, Jamie Parker, Robert Sawyer, Chad Rider, Jeremy Goodman, James Boulter, Bart Wilson, Marlon Palmer, Nick Mims, Randall Carson, Reggie Morgan, Alan Howell, Joe Williams, Letorrance Gulley, Sponsor Mr. Kirby Weaver, Todd Sellers, and Marvin Thomas are the members of FCA.

Readin' It: Tyra Bray and Sonya Glasgow spend a morning before school catching up on some reading for the FCA devotionals.

Chess Club

After a lapse of several years the BCHS Chess Club was reformed. Interest was high with 30-35 members joining. Many had never played before, but were able to get experience through their participation.

A very strong Varsity and J.V. were formed, with the Varsity finished tied for 3rd in the 17 school Mobile/Baldwin County Chess League. The J.V. finished in a three way tie for 2nd place. Our Varsity was also able to finish 2nd in the 91-92 state tournament in Mobile.

In April, they rounded out a winning season by capturing the County Championship and having seven of their team members being named All-County.

The Chess Club was sponsored by Mr. Jim Luckey.

Members Only: Jared Collins, Amanda Riddle, Dennis Martin, Harvey Earl, Elijah Hollingshead, Terrance Jones, Ray Whatley, Shane Byrd, Fred Wilson, Nick Newell, Scotty White, Mel White, John Barrow, Jason Preece, Davis Stevens, Daniel Kern, Roy McLeod, Sam King, Ronnie Dennis, and sponsor Mr. Lucky are the members of the exclusive Chess Team.

Checkmate: Ray Whatley warms up on the chess for a future, grueling match. Every little bit of warm up helps with the competition they face.

Science Club

The first field trip for the science club was an excursion to Fort Morgan and the Bon Secour Wildlife Refuge. After touring the Fort they collected marine specimens at the mouth of Mobile Bay and then seined and went beachcombing along the sandy beaches of the Gulf.

The group held a candy sale in November and a bake sale at the Bay Minette Christmas Fest to raise money to go to New Orleans and to contribute to the Senior Square project. The club went to the Audubon Zoo and the Aquarium of the Americas in February and donated $700 to the Senior Square.

The club participated in the Regional Science Olympiad held during Spring Break and brought home five medals.

Science Ed: Felesha Benjamin, Venetia Gaines, April Prewett, Diana Watts, Amanda Kelly, Wayne Fillingham, Lynn Pogue, Rachel Roley, Redina Paul, Rebecca Ball, Rachel Foster, Leanne Bell, Diana Vernon, Stalene Call, Senita Mehta, Jeremy Findley, Elija Hollingsworth, Alicia Stewart, Sponsor Mrs. Herron, Shakela Stevens, Heather Hackney, Tammy Mayfield, Sherri Ankum, Sonya Glasgow, Amy Jarmen, Tyra Bray, Chris Clark, Heather Hofman, Roy McCleod, Sam King, David Stevens, Jason Pierce Steve Garret and Justin Mizel.

Wading in the Water: Amy Jarman and Sonya Glasgow waded in the gulf on a science club field trip.

Future Farmers of America

FFA started the new year with work on the new shop. The members built welding booths, tables, and lumber racks. Then they started preparing for contests. FFA came in 1st place in the livestock judging contest at Waters Farm in Robertsdale. The team members were judged by seniors Carl Bradley, Deamian Fisher, sophomores Jason Gipson, and junior Haywood Hinote. FFA took 1st place in the Forestry judging in Foley. In district competition the Forsry team placed 4.

The FFA had many awards and continued the tradition.

The members of FFA are: Jason Shipp, Dawayne Duncan, James Green, Grag Roberts, Micheal Walker, Jeremy Sanks, Mike Defee, Jason Gilikin, Carl Bradley, Haywood Hinote, Micah Aaron, Ronald Styron, Jason Anderson, Mike Moleneux, Dusty O'Gwenn, Chris Cooper, Mr. Alan Williams, Cecil Myrick, LaTravis Gray, Leslie Armstead, Clearance Betts, Tony Gray, Adam Balli, J.J. Manes, J. Hadley, Tyson Preasley, Shane Durant, Tony Maderis, Bart Wilson, Thadd Hasse, Edward Hadley, Edward Lambeth, Jason Godwin, Zack Long, Jason Capps, Leo Luckey, Jade Dunn, Adam Rodgers, Billy Lacy, Curtis Gray, Chris Clopton, Jeremy Phillips, Damian Fisher, Micheal Eady, Brain Lee, Dan Eubanks, and Randall Hastings.

Sparks Fly: Jason Gilikin welds a rather interesting project for FFA.

Dig it: Freddie James digs a hole for the trees bought by clubs for a improved campus for Earth Day.

Scholars Bowl

County Champs Again!!

Varsity Scholars Bowl won fourteen of the fifteen games they played. Jeff Coats was named most valuable player for the third year in a row.

The team participated in the two knowledge masters open competitions. On May 14 the team competed against the teachers in the annual faculty-student Scholars Bowl Competition.

The J.V. won 14 of the 16 matches. They were also first place in Baldwin County Championship this year.

All Smarts: The members of the 1991-1992 Varsity Scholars Bowl are Shelly Salter, Mary Lucia Partin, Melanie Cain, Jessica Ammons, April Phillips, Dan Anderson, co-captain; Corry Cox, captain; Jeff Coats, Matt Goodman, Candice Carter, and sponsor; Mrs. Betty Dean.

Alpha Iota Chi

Alpha Iota Chi was an honors organization for ninth and tenth grades that was chartered last year. Through this year, those who had maintained their eligibility established themselves and the club.

Early in the year AIX sponsored the first annual street dance. It was a great success. The proceeds went to the fund for the new senior square.

AIX members worked at the open house and many other functions.

AIX: Pamela Jackson, Charolette Stallworth, Amber Baggett, Walt Norton, Carter Scott, Danny Norton, Janet Aplin, Stalene Call, Sunita Mehta, Jennifer Dickman, Leigh Ann Clark, Tomonika Williams, Julie Howell, Craig Murph, Frank Boatwright, Charlie Perkins, Melissa Powell, Joey Franco, Cathy Hicks, April Sank, Jeremy Sanks, Angela Hayes, Christy Emmons, Coral Daniels, Dana Wiggins, Bobby Thomaston, David Watson, Erika Chancery, Misty Morris, Jennifer Hawkins, Deanna Drew, Jamie Dean, Shannon Martin, Carla Huges, Kevin Pimperal, Chris May, Chad Campbell, Heather Bengston, Chris Hardy, Leigh Hayes, Lyle Partin, Dillon Mitchell, Stephanie Daniel, Robin Garrett, Tammy Burger, John Davis, Dawna Davis, Paul Lamb, Brian Penn, Scott Nelson, Mickie Williams, Jack Wurst, Brad Rhodes, Roy McLeod, and sponsors Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Blount.

Top Cookies: Alpha Iota Chi officers are Dillon Mitchell (secretary), Chris Hardy (Pres.), Lyle Partin (V. Pres.), and Brian Penn (Tres.)

Bonjour! French Club members could be heard greeting each other in their newly acquired second language as they passed in the hall.

French Club was a fun way for the students to develop their ability to speak French. They held many activities and proved this to be a very productive year. Before long, the French Club could be heard speaking in French all of the time and rather fluently, too. Their club made French fun and enabled them to expand beyond the simple vocabulary.

French Club members: Darryl America, Charlesetta Anderson, Dan Anderson, Stan Andrews, Samantha Austin, Sharon Austin, Amber Baggett, Amy Baggett, James Bass, Greg Biggs, Gabriel Baotwright, James Bolar, Maria Bolton, Travis Baykin, Becky Brayars, Vanetta Call, Brain Carlisle, Candice Carter, Bobby Clair, Laura Coletta, Robyn Coleman, Termaine Couch, Jason Creech, Pam Crook, Tylon Crook, Mathew Curry, Angelia Davis, Meg Dees, Michael Dees, Kim Dorough, Drew' Edgar, Rick Gaines, Sabrina Goodwin, Letorrance Gully, Ben Hadley, Laura Hall, Jim Hamilton, Jeff Hannah, James Hall, Chris Hardy, Rolanda Harvey, Scott Harville, Becky Heathcock, Chuck Hicks, Nathalie Hicks, Kim Hinote, April Hobbs, Alan Howell, Jody Jaye, Joy Jaye, Syacey Johnson, Ben Jones, Lynn Kobos, Kirstin Kolb, Christine Lindsey, Brett Long, LaLita Love, Angela Maihotra, Jan Malone, Tommy Mayfield, Derrick Maxwell, Josh McCullough, Nicole Middleton, Nick Mims, Carla Mixon, Jason Murray, Jessica Nelson, Tommy Nelson, Lyle Partin, Mary Lucia Partin, Heather Paslay, Kristin Paul, Brain Peace, Brad Peacock, Jody Peacock, Ward Pepperman, Kim Randall, Terri Reid, Larkin Rhodes, Hope Sellers, Julie Shivers, Chad Stewart, Leigh Ann Stewart, Elizabeth Still, Jodi Sullivan, Tiz Thompson, Wayne Turner, Ludusky Vickery, Mary Louise Wills, Bart Wilson, Robert Wills, Stephanie Wright, and Veronica Young.

Chivalry isn't dead

There were still a few student who believed in keeping chivalry alive. These students used the school as their battlefield, battling for good grades and for a better world. Yet, they remained the ladies and gentlemen in deed and thought.

The Council of Tolkien and Literature made many efforts to educate other students about the environment and safety. For Earth Day, they passed out green strips of paper to remind students to be earth conscious.

The Council Members: Ms. Jackson, Ross Presley, Tommy Hunter, Amanda Riddle, Tammy Burger, Elijah Hollinghead, Mrs. Land, Candice Karter, Mike Smith, Nikki Wenzel, David Clemmons, Sam King, and Jeremy Blackmon.

Hola! Amigos

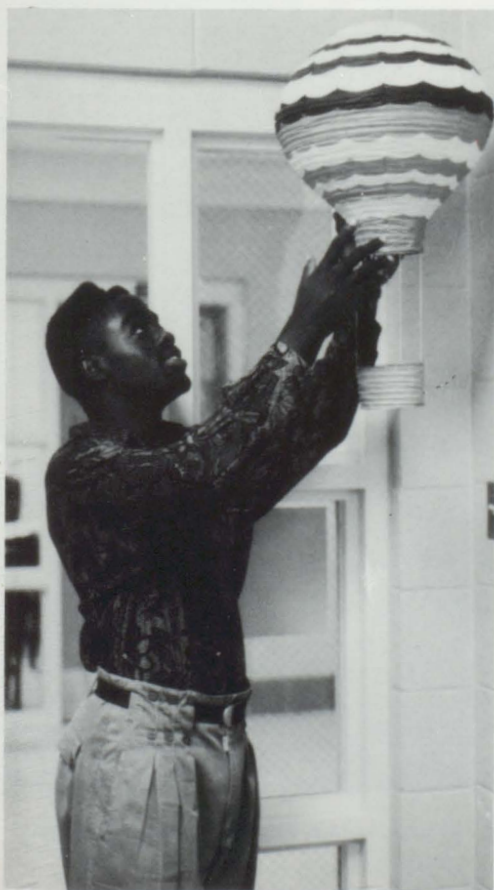

The Spanish Club stayed very busy this year. Some of their activities included Christmas caroling and pinata making. Their endeavors brought smiles to many faces while at the same time their activities became learning experiences for the students. The Christmas carols were sung in Spanish and the pinatas helped them to learn about Spanish traditions.

The Spanish Club became an exciting way to learn about Spanish and the many countries which speak the language. That experience helped the students as they headed out to the real world to communicate with the many different people in our world.

-Diana Watts

Prize-Winning Pinatas: Kim Cumbie, Nicole Byrne, and Carla Hughes share their pinatas with everyone in the library.

Spanish Members: Roberta Allen, Cielo Aplén, Reena Ardis, Roberto Ayres, Antonia Byrne, Christopher Cabanis, Amy Calhoun, Dorisa Call, Vanetta Call, Ursula Coleman, Esteban Daniels, Isabel Daniel, Antonia Davis, Gayle Dawson, Sonya Day, Wil Duck, Leonor Dyess, Christina Emmons, Julia Enfinger, Alicia Faulkner, Jeremy Findley, Isabel Garrett, Kenya Gray, Brice Hartner, Scott Harville, Jaime Haug, Angelica Hayes, Daniel Howard, Carla Huges, Raphael Hyatt, Audra Jeffers, Christina Lilte, Bridget McDonald, David Mitchem, Melissa Mosley, Jason Padgett, Genise Parker, Mary Lucia Partin, Julia Patterson, Selena Powell, Abril Prewitt, Juan Rhodes, Daronda Robbins, Tercero Shaver, Doug Sheffield, Monica Sledge, Phillip Smith, and Rodney Smith.

Flyin' High: Stan Andrews gives his pinata a lift in Spanish Class.

Vocational Vocational Vocational

Melting Away: Many hours a day are spent working on a single project. Here Jared Brothers and Shane Durant work together to get their project completed on time.

Getting Ready: Nikki Frenette, Tracy Hutchins, and Mandy Tuberville are busy printing spirit signs on the printing press.

Getting a Jump on the Future

North Baldwin Center for Technology was a place for students to learn college and vocational skills the same time they were earning their diploma. This way students could get a head start in the so called "real world."

There were many different courses offered here so that every student's interest and desires could be met. Classes included everything from auto-mechanics to childcare and they were completely unbiased. Males were found sitting in the Business Education classes and females were being taught drafting.

NBCT Faculty

Life at the Vocational Center was made easier by the help and understanding of the faculty. No matter what the circumstance was, teachers and faculty were

Marketing Leaping toward the Future

"Vocational school gives me the skills I need for life." -Nakia Buxton

Marketing Education students had an exciting, eventful year. Every marketing student was a member of DECA- a national organization just for marketing education students. Highlights of the marketing education/ DECA year included : participation in the Alabama DECA Leadership Conference at Auburn University, Winning 1st place in the BCHS homecoming parade with our float entry; participating in BCHS "Pride Day," winning 2nd place in the Baldwin County Fair with Club Exhibit; sponsoring a needy child at Christmas and shopping for toys, conducting sales projects, hosting a drug abuse program for the student attending the technical center, sponsoring numerous guest speakers and field trips for marketing students, managing and operating the school store at the technical center, participating in the Alabama DECA district contest, and earning $70,000 in the co-op program. The area businesses will be holding a banquet for the students. -T.J. Arnold

Tammy Welch, Lynn Hameric, Michelle Buxton, and Jenny Davis ride on the 1st place DECA float in the Homecoming Parade.

Welding Making Sparks FLY

Students in the Welding Dept. learned basic and advanced welding skills and the importance of a good attitude in getting and keeping a job. Students were members of VICA and had the opportunity to participate in many different club activities. Students elected local officers, who attended an officer training workshop in the fall. All students enjoyed their club parties; and several students had the opportunity to compete in welding competitions, which were very exciting, but yet very difficult. We had many winners and hoped to have many more. Welding taught more than just how to weld, it gave you an edge on the future and also how to meet new friends.

-Samantha Peacock

I'm Worthy: Joe Packer shows that he is worthy enough to spice up the heat.

A.M.-Donald Johnson, Ricky Jackson, Richard Crawford, Brian Turk, Jared Brothers, Michael Jerkins, Jason Gillikin, Shane Durant, and John McQuifery.

P.M.- Carey Hughes, Joe Perkins, Donald Styron, Zeke Brown, James Godwin, Keith Stewart, Billy Steege, William Morgan, Timothy Hooks, Bull Stevens, Kenny Hall, Johnny Crawford, Steven Whidgee, and Vernon J. Byrd.

B.E. Tomorrow's Future

Those who participated in the business education course learned more than just the subject material that was taught. They learned many valuable lessons and built many close friendships--both to be taken with them throughout their lives. Other than learning shorthand, secretarial office procedures, accounting, clerical procedures and word processing, they also acquired new responsibilities that gave these students more confidence when facing matters concerning their future.

Some of these classmates participated in the co-op program. These students had added obligations, and they also received a grade on the job they held. Although times often got tough during the year these students learned to always accept a challenge with a smile and happiness.

Every Subject Counted,
Every Class Was Important!

Every subject did count and that was why each class was so important. There were many different subjects available for every type of student. For the smarter students, there were advanced courses offered which proposed a greater challenge than the regular classes, but the regular classes were no breeze either.

It really didn't matter which type of courses that you took. All that mattered was that you did your best with whatever challenge you were faced, and the teachers made sure that that was exactly what we did.

After all reading, writing, and arithmetic were the reasons we were here in the first place.

Samantha Peacock celebrates her 18th birthday in Spanish Class as Mrs. Skidmore leads the whole class in the Spanish version of Happy Birthday, or is this for "boco grande"?

Art-a-fact! Tammy Cooks wins a few bucks for her #1 mask made in Mrs. Harris' class. The art department seems to have come alive this year. Just what is negative space?

Cut and Paste-NOT! Brian Lee, Ronnie Dennis, Tammy Hadley, and James Bass work on one of the interesting projects in their art class. Few realize that making jewelry also takes a certain talent.

of all kinds

Lena Smith, Jan Malone, Christy Malden, Jason Gillikin, Melanie Cain, Jackie Cobb, Vanetta Call, Joy Jaye, Angela Williams, and Candice Carter werelanguage standouts. These students won awards at Honors Day for Spanish, French, and English.

All language classes have been very busy, as was the art department. The Spanish and French classes threw parties in honor of Mardi Gras and had numerous projects, such as Christmas stockings (French) and Pinatas (Spanish), and art has been very busy with award winning paintings. All of the activities that the French, Spanish and art have participated in made the year more exciting and adventurous to the the students who members of these groups.

-April Prewett

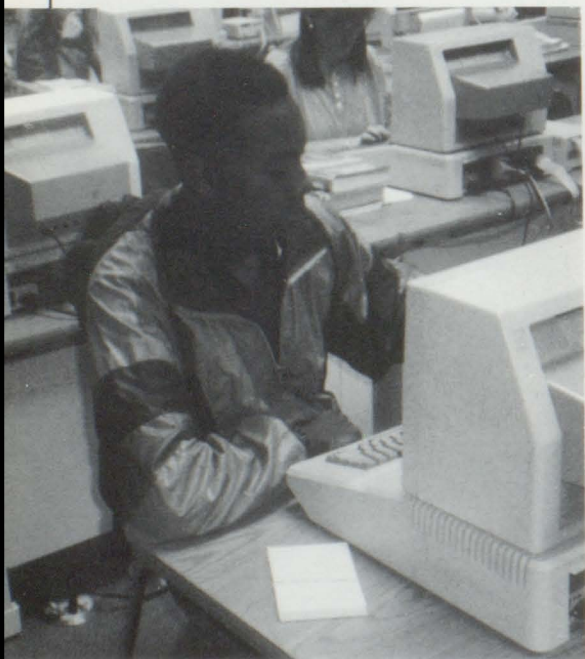

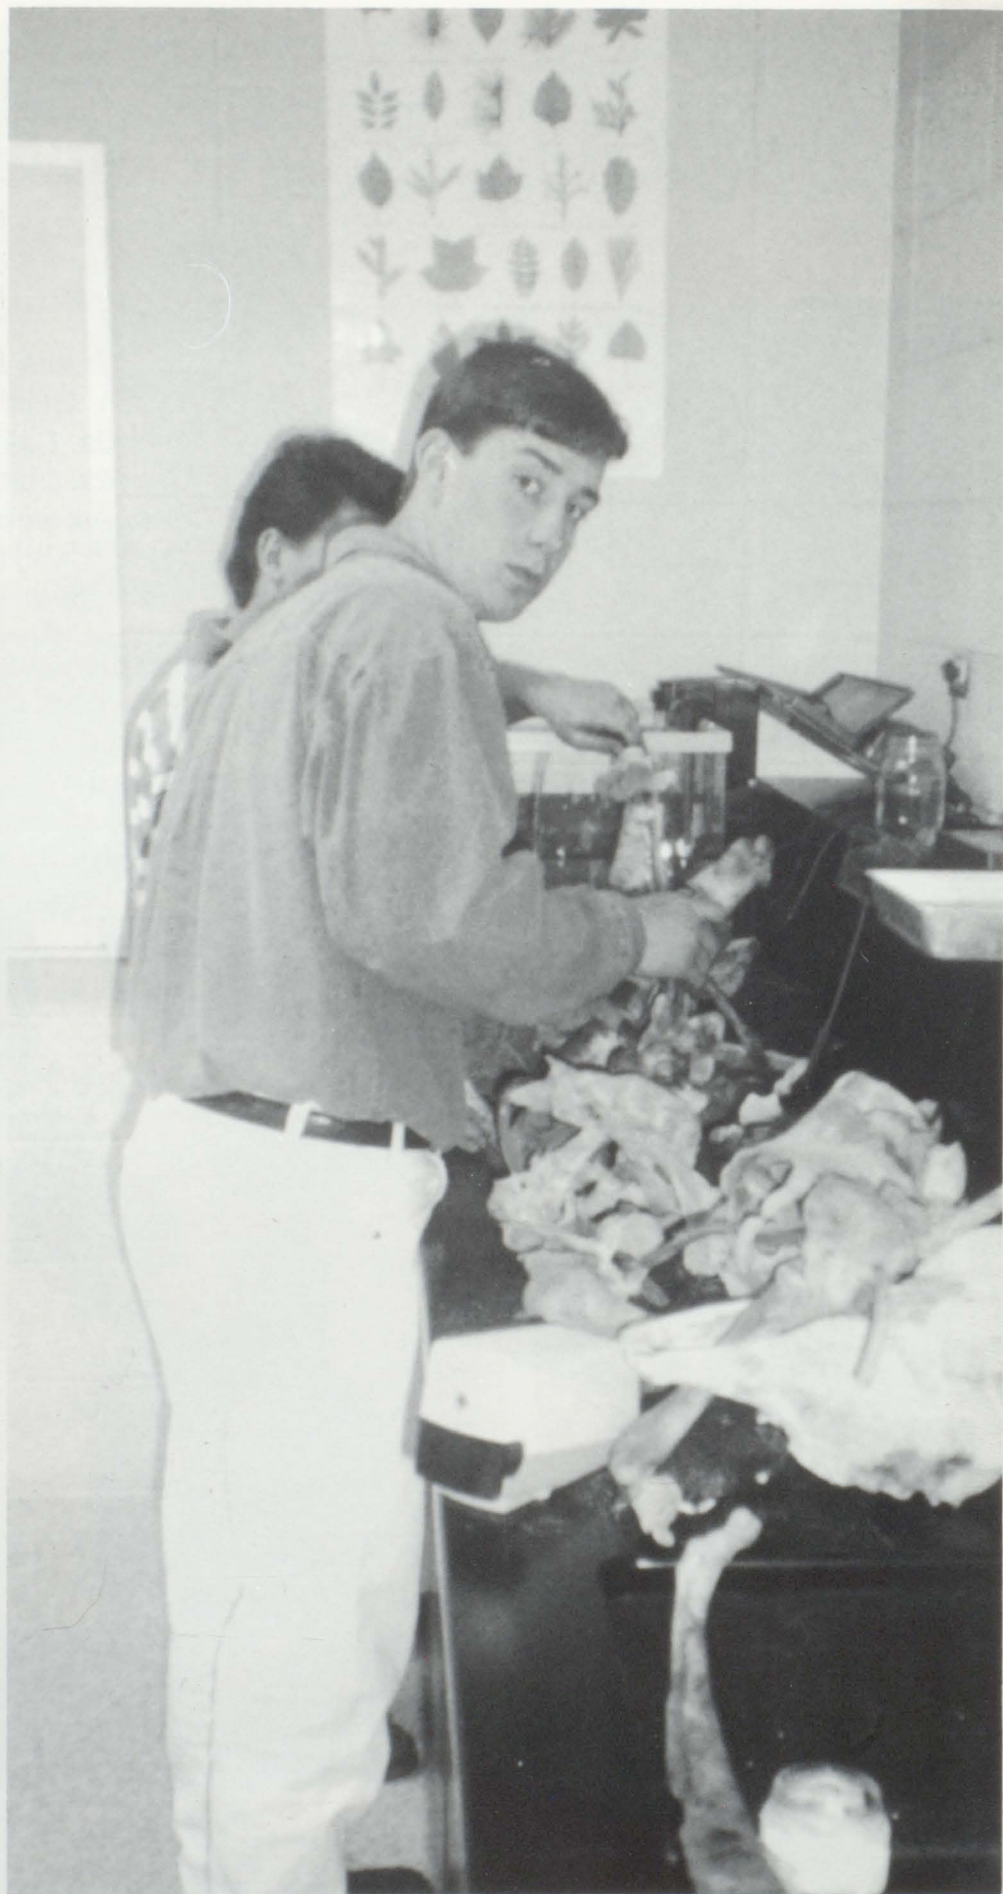

English Class: Mr. Willis a not so average English teacher, displays his many hidden talents, but some just stand out more than others.

Boot It Up: Matt Goodman, Brad Peacock, Gary Davidson, and Dan Anderson decorate Mrs. Land's room for Christmas with a few stockings.

Digging up Bones: Touching dead bones is a dirty job, but Thadd Haase doesn't mind doing it, after all the hands on experience is the best way of learning.

"Rocket Scientists?": Jamie Parker Seems to have the upper hand since Michael Ousley is obeying his instructions without any questions.

What Button: Jermaine Mitchell seems to be having trouble finding the button that will delete his few mistakes.

Science? Fun? You better believe it was! There were so many fields of science available that there was always something exciting happening. Whether you were dissecting in life science, mixing in chemistry, or observing butterflies in Mrs. Horton's room, concentration was a must.

The computer science students were always hard at work helping their fellow classmates and teachers by printing out announcements for various events. The Physics students got bogged down in all those equations and formulas, but with some hard work and a little luck, most would prevail with passing marks, thanks to Mr. Hartner. All and all the sciences provided students with knowledge that would most likely stay with them the rest of their lives.

When it came to deciding what subjects that were going to be taken, math and history were usually high on students' list. Math was a subject that varied from accounting to Algebra III. Students were required to have at least two years of math, although most chose to excel and take four years of it in order to prepare them for college.

As with math, history was also a required course. There were many different classes of history offered, such as Alabama history, geography, world and American history, government and economics. From these courses students learned more about their country and how to live in it. -Burt Beck

The classes offered were the usual selections: typing, record keeping, general business, home economics, drivers' education, and health. Even though these classes have been in high school curriculums for years, students realized that typing could be useful to their future, especially with modern technology and computers. Record keeping and general business provided a foundation for students planning to enter the business field after graduation. Home economics/health were well known classes for first year students. It taught them to the basics of food and the upkeep of a home.

Then there was drivers' education. This was a popular course among students, because if they maintained a 3.0 average, they were allowed a discount on car insurance.

All of these provided a basic background for students to meet the real world. -Burt Beck

Good Practice: Karissa Butler, Deanna Drew, Becky Jackson, Cathy Hicks, Kim Cumbie, and Regina Ardis express their enthusiasm about Driver's Ed.

Varsity Band

Making Noise: Daniel Arnold has a blast while playing during lunch for the students.

After seeing the band perform at half-time, no one would ever imagine the hard work that goes into the show. The band made it look too easy. Even through all the changes that came with a new director and a new school, they were able to excell beyond everyone's expectations.

Game after game the Varsity Band received standing ovations, not only from their hometown audiences but also from the audiences at their away game performances. Their patriotic performance tugged at the heart strings of many as they opened the flag on the field to the strains of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

At district competition in Brewton they proved that hard work pays off and were awarded superior ratings. The auxillary was awarded best in class. Many of the students participated in numerous honor bands at Livingston University and at Auburn University.

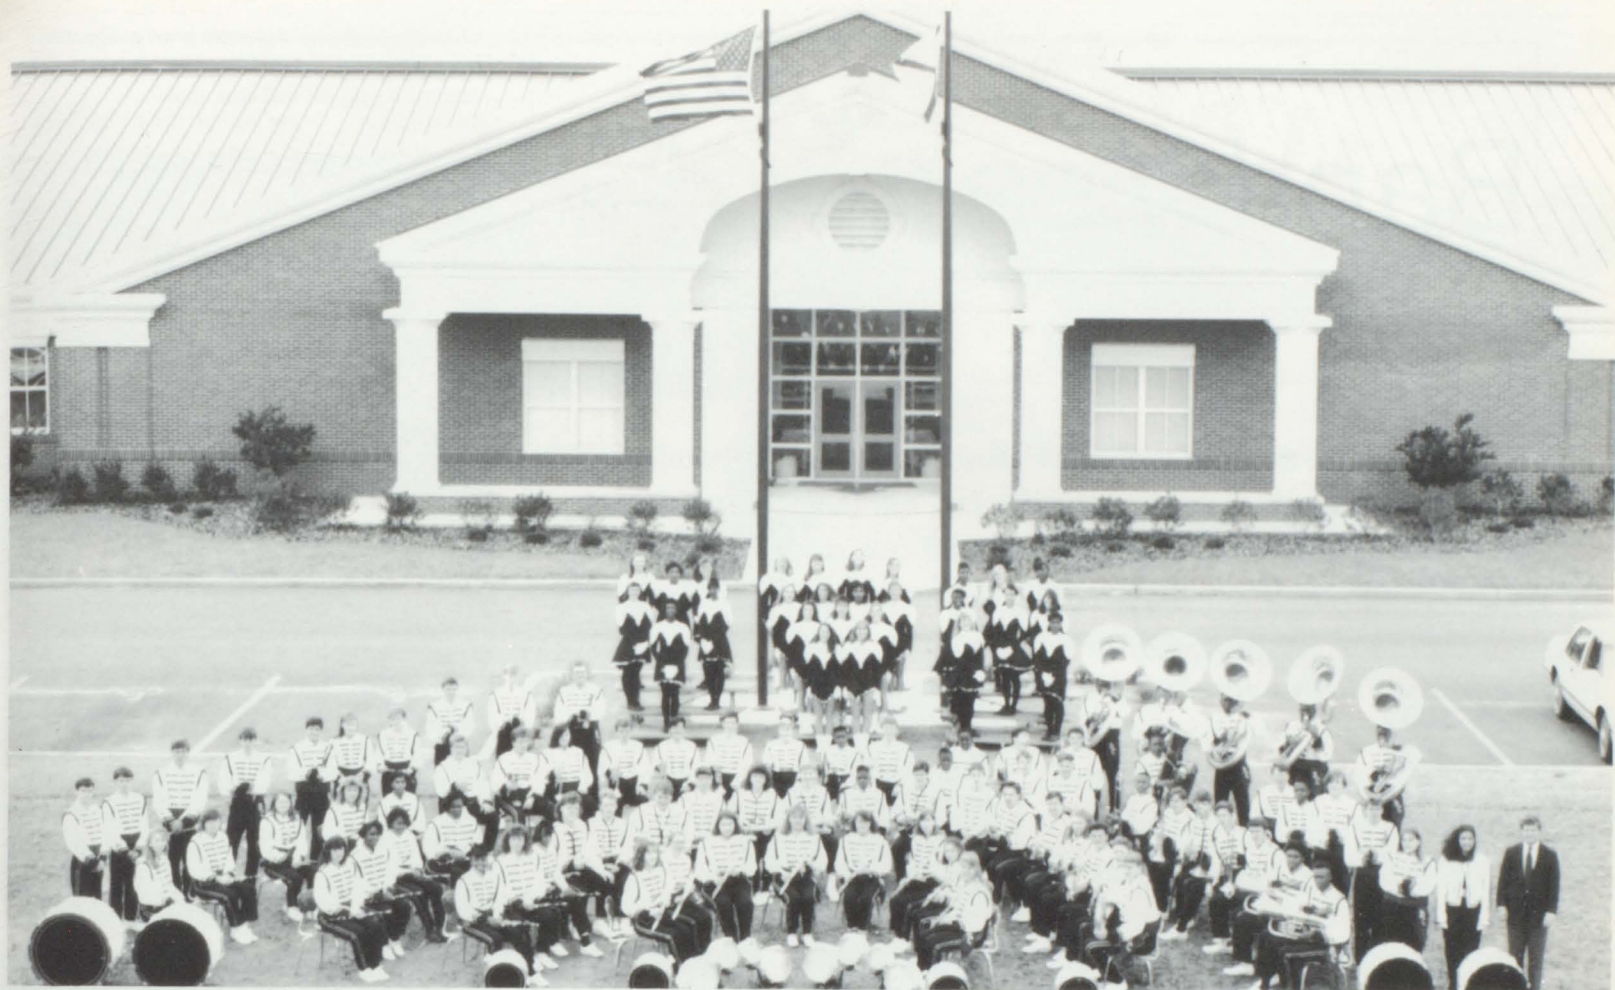

The Varsity Band proved they were a step above the rest. They were superior. -Cathy Hicks & Diana Watts Toughing It Out: Coral Daniels and Audra Jeffers hope they can make it through just one more performance. It was tough but they made it.

Trying their Hardest: Peggy Moorer, Mandy Carlisle, Melanie Kendrick, Cindy Roland, and Alecia Joseph play their best during the bands Christmas Concert.

Leader of All: Angela Malhotra is happy knowing she is the leader of the marching band.

Band Year ROUND

Fine Job: Asia Jerkins demonstrates his playing abilities during the half-time show.

Everyone thought that after football season the band would have been able to slow down and relax, but the action didn't stop there. The troupe kept going year round, not stopping even once. After football season, the band began practicing for the Christmas Concert and the auxillary for winterguard. Then it was competition time with numerous honor bands to audition for, but that wasn't the end. At the end of the year there was the hectic rush to get ready for the trip to Orlando. They never quit, yet through it all they proved their excellence, no matter how busy they got.

-Diana Watts & Cathy Hicks

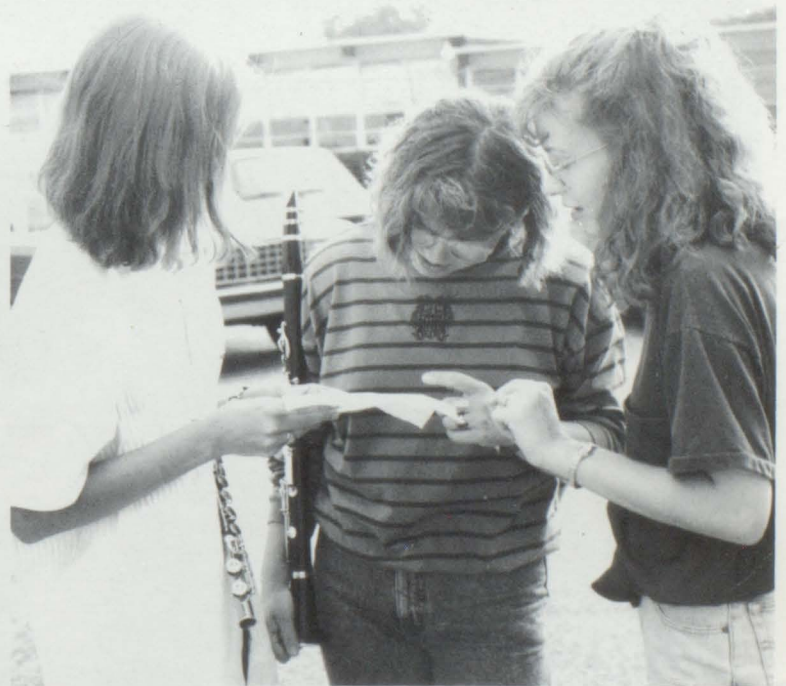

Getting it Right: Gayle Dawson, Chad Stewart, and Shelly Salter work extra hard to make sure they are the best.

Band Attention: Felicia McGrue proves her discipline as she waits at attention at a football game.

Stopping for a Moment: Nicole Skanes turns and smiles for the camera as Barbra Knight and Toni Kilcrease discuss the pose.

Last Look: Julie Howell, Nancy Howell, and Rachel McCaw take a last minute look at their music before performing in front of the crowds.

Halftime horns: Nicholas Mims, Harvey Earls, Tommy Mayfield, Les Hall, Jim Hamilton, and Jack Worst provide the entertainment for basketball games. Their sound is a break from the constant squeak of tennis shoes on the hardwood floor.

Auxillary

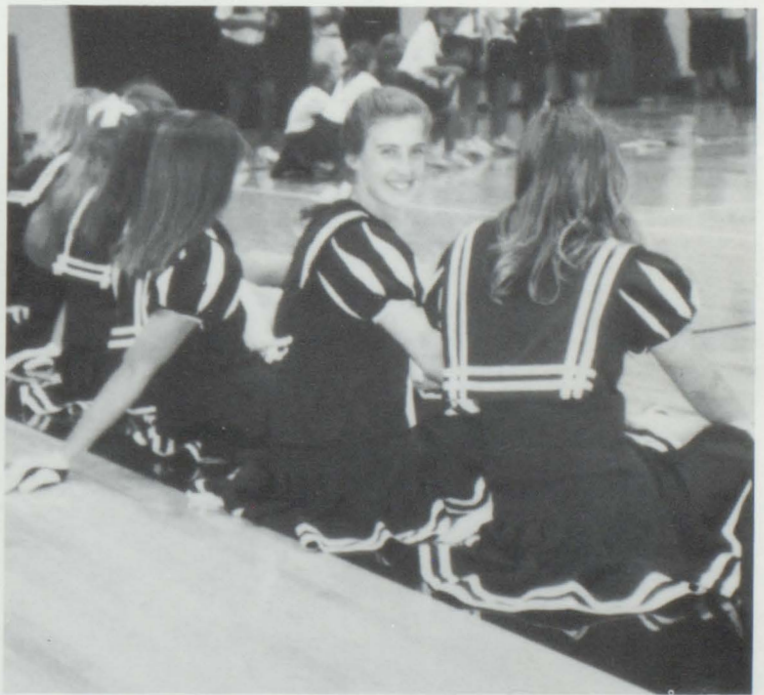

Even though they made it look easy, many hours of long hard practice went into each performance of the band auxillary. It didn't stop after football either. After football season, they had to start practicing for winterguard. It all paid off in the end. No matter where they went, they always came back with superior ratings and best in the class. I guess all those practices were worth it, but not only were they good they were like a big family. They would laugh, cry, talk, and every now and then argue together. However, they were always one big family. Cathy Hicks & Diana Watts

Flying High: Natalie Lusk does her best at the patriotic half time show to keep her flags flyin high.

TIGER TONES

The Tiger Tones were again made up of talented individuals. This year the group won awards in all the competitions they attended. They went to district and received all ones. This enabled them to compete at state. Also, they placed 3rd at National competition held in Nashville, Tennessee. They had a very productive year and remained at top performance level through it all. - Watts/Hicks

Celebrate the Good Times: Aaron Collins and Nick Mims prove to the crowd that it is time to celebrate. The assembly that they worked so hard on is over and now it is time to party.

TRI-TONES

This year's Tri-Tones strived for excellence in everything they did. Their performance ability was proven as they sang many of their songs accapella, which took great talent. They did very well at district and National competition at Opryland in Nashville, Tennessee. They had concerts in 9 schools other than this one. They also worked many community events. This group was in constant demand to perform.

Putting names to the faces...and

Too many times when speaking of students, we had a tendency to group everyone into classes, clubs, or teams. Very seldom did an individual find himself being singled out for anything other than a discipline problem. We tried to change this error by highlighting specific students and presenting them as a person, with a name, a particular personality, likes, and dislikes.

Did you know that Hank Lancaster was an excellent observer and has expressed very nicely the mixed feelings that most of us had about the new school? Check page 155 and see for yourself. We put a name by his picture and followed it with facts that made him unique.

Where it all begins

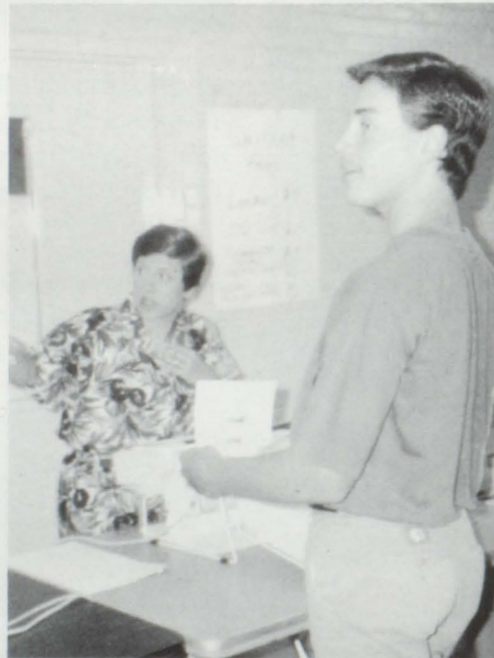

Being a Freshmen meant the beginning of the four-year-stretch! Not only did they have to worry about how things would affect them then, but they had to think about how it would affect them a couple of years away.

Academically, they would have to be working on good grades because the colleges would look at their grades from ninth through twelfth grades. Physically, they would have to work as hard as they could in their sports, so they would be good enough to make it when it came time for varsity.

The freshmen had a long road ahead of them and a lot to learn along the way. It was going to be a lot of hard work, but the time would fly by, and they would be able to look back on what they had done and be proud of their accomplishments. -Thadd Haase

Exclusively Fresh

Along with a fresh new class came some fresh new teachers. About ten new teachers were hired and many taught the freshman students. Mrs. Phyllis Law, an English teacher, helped students distinguish a subordinate clause from an independent clause. Mr. Robin Brackman, in Biology I, got everyone through science labs. Mr. Brett Orso taught students to lead healthier lives and save one if necessary in health. Mr. Orso also helped with coaching our football team and our J.V. boy's Basketball. All these teachers joined the faculty to get our students through what could be the roughest year.

Freshmen

As freshman, there were many different subjects that were to be taken. The students were required to take the five basic subjects: math, English, science, history, and a half semester of health and a half semester of home economics. Then they got the choice of one elective, which usually ended up being P.E.

Nonetheless, the students became more rounded persons because of the opportunity, they were given to study, many different subjects.-Kim Dorough Healthy Habits: During health, students are required to take a lesson in CPR. Billy Long demonstrates just how it is done.

Freshmen Frenzy

They were everywhere, and they were doing everything! No matter what corner was turned, they were there helping out and showing their spirit. Just because this was their first year in high school and they were the underdogs did not mean a thing to them. They showed that they were just the same as the other classes by showing spirit at the pep rallies, participating in various sports, and helping out in events sponsored by different clubs. At one pep rally, they even won the spirit yell over the Seniors. If you can't hang with the Big Dogs, stay at the middle school! As you can see, the Freshmen are at high school. - Kim Dorough

Pumped Up: Amy Little, Tammy Davis, and Amanda Harville get into the swing of things with their enthusiasm at a pep rally.

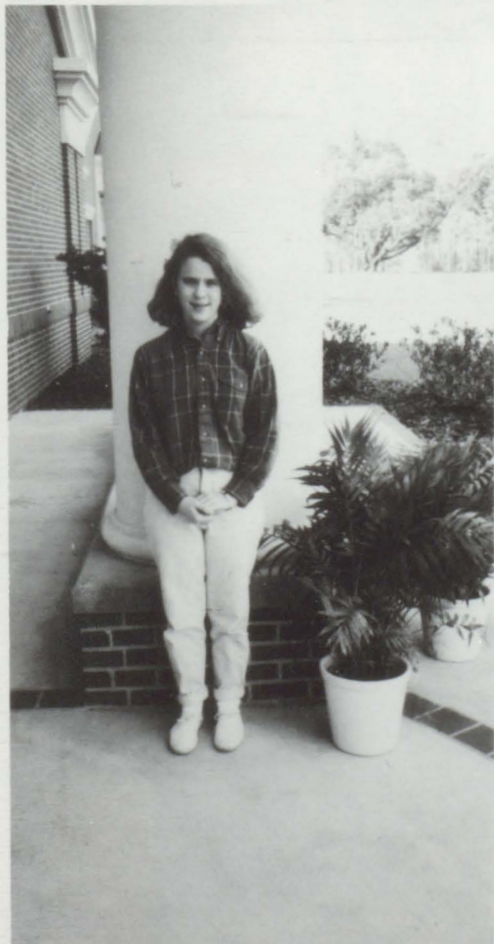

Bicycle Fever: Not only were freshmen active on campus, but off as well. Dewayne Gardner demonstrates his ability to perform different stunts on his bicycle.

Freshmen Class Officers

Freshmen Favorites: Selena Powell, Felicia Stewart, Alicia Stewart, Elizabeth Thompson, Jodi Sullivan, Jeremy Canaan, Carlos Dees, Chad Killcrease, Danny Stevens, and Brian Scarborough.

Elizabeth Thompson held the position of Freshmen President. She was also an active member in the French Club, a board member on the Student Council, and a Freshmen Delegate of Sigma Delta Phi.

In her spare time, she enjoyed playing the piano and occasionally played at her church.

Felicia Stewart held the position of Secretary- Treasure of the Freshmen class. She participated in many different sports such as junior varsity and varsity basketball, junior varsity volleyball, tennis, and golf. She was also an active member in Student Council, and a freshmen delegate of Sigma Delta Phi.

Altogether these were two outstanding students well represented the Freshmen class.

The Last of Both Worlds

New Traditions-Old Traditions, Would it be the same? The Sophomores perhaps knew the answer because they were the last class to attend both schools. If a tradition was to be carried on or blended in with the new it was up to them. They started with spirit at Pep Rallies and finding new places to skip class, such as the attic, the parking lot, and under the bathroom sinks! For all these important aspects of high school, the Sophomores would be the last class to carry over experience from "the old high school."

- Ward Pepperman

Sophomores Scoop

Seniors were making plans for the future and the juniors couldn't wait for their senior year. The Freshmen weren't quite sure what was going on; so what was it that the Sophomores did? We took a little peek to find out for ourselves, and we found out that big time gossip was spread during break and lunch. And, you ask what kind of gossip? Well... anything from who was seeing whom to who was fighting whom. With their academic status and a little time for socializing, the sophomores led a very interesting life.

Favorite Folks: Stephanie Daniels, Dillon Mitchell, Deanna Drew, Julie Howell, Cathy Hicks, Tony Martin, Brian Penn, Chris Hardy, Frank Boatwright, and Joey Franko are the class favorites.

"Being president of the sophomore class has been a great experience. I've never been real involved with something until I became the president of my class. I never realized how hard it was to do certain projects within your class. Being involved with the projects helped me realize how hard the sponsors work to make everything work. They honestly deserved more recognition than they did. They always went out of their way for us, and they never got any gratitude."

"I was glad that I was elected president of the sophomore class; but, honestly, I didn't think I had a real chance."

Juniors

Juniors began the year with anxiety and wonder. They experienced a sense of disillusion because of their ties to the old school, but had a sense of excitement because of what was ahead of them. At least the juniors would be adjusted to the new school and surroundings by the time their senior year rolled around. Within the first few weeks, the junior class adjusted well and once it started there was no stopping them. They became involved in everything and the school year flew by, leaving time to dream all summer about their senior year. -Jeff Coats

Getting it Right: James Bolar tries to decide which ring to get during his allotted time period.

The Ring Thing

All year long the Juniors waited for that day when they could receive their prestigious classring. And when that day came, their eyes lit up like little kids waking up on Christmas morning. The ring ceremony brought all the Juniors together to receive their rings and get a chance to let people turn their ring "93" times. The last time was meant to be "locked" by someone special.

The ring usually signified age and maturity. It also served as a symbol to remind them to hang in there for a little while longer. Being a junior was just that - next to the senior and a long wait for their diplomas.

Is That It?: Brad Cooper and Tony Davis figure out what design they must get on their rings.

Juniors

Jam Session: Jim Hamilton, Brett Long, and Justin Robinson put their musical talents on the line and perform on the Faulkner State stage.

Take the spotlight

They say that everyone has a talent for something, some just have more talent than others. The junior class definitely was not lacking in this department. On the contrary, they were bursting at the seams with creativity in music, art, drama, the Beginning of the END!

BUSY BUSY BUSY: Amber Holcombe works hard to organize the textbooks. There was never a spare moment during registration.

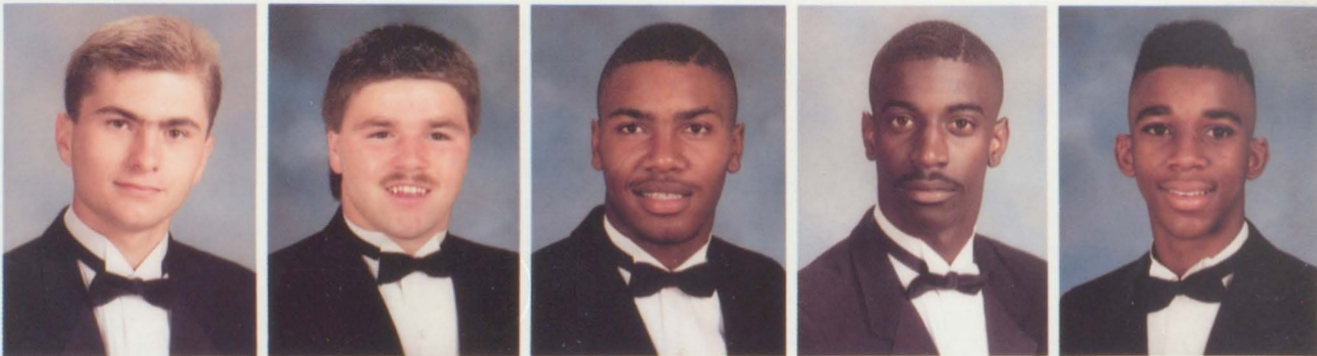

RR egistration

For most it was a day of confusion, frustration, and panic, but for the seniors it was the beginning of the END!

Registration was a day of hassle for most. Everyone had to give up a normal summer day just to visit school! Most everyone showed up to receive schedules, pay for locker combinations, and parking spaces, while others had to fork out even more money to pay for books that they had lost the previous year. The seniors went through a little more pain than the rest of the students though. Once they arrived, they found that they had to receive measles shots before they left the building. Most were horrified at the terrible news. After registration, everyone began to realize that the fun in the sun would soon be over, and the hectic eight hours a day five days a week would begin. Also for the seniors, it was the beginning of the end. -Kim Dorough & April Prewett than words!*

*Expressions

BRING IT ON: Terrence Bryant, Roosevelt Sanders, and Kenneth Crook challenge any underclassman to try to come up with a better way to express their school spirit.

xpressing?...
xactly!

There were many ways of expressing one's self. No matter what the situation, you always got your point across.

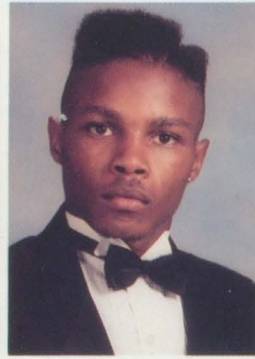

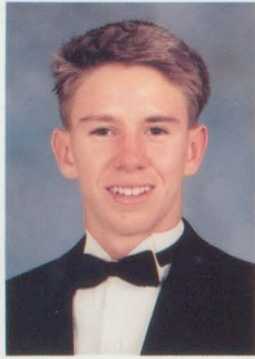

There were so many expressions that were shown throughout the senior class. The good times were expressed with smiles, as were the bad times with frowns. Nevertheless, we were mainly all one big happy class, and we had the grins to prove it.

During the many pep rallies, we came up with very original and different ways to express our school spirit. Whether we were wearing orange bandanas around our heads with our own special sayings on them or yelling funny sayings such as "2 Legit 2 Quit" or "Sr. '92," we were letting everyone else know that we were the seniors and proud of it! And you can bet that it was worth every bit of it. -Samantha Peacock & Cathy Hicks

Hank Lancaster: "We'll, the start of the 1991-92 school year was fascinating. For most people, a new school meant a new beginning; but for the seniors, it meant the beginning of the end. For the first year here it has really been a big change for us, because the spirit class, undying memories that we once shared at the old BCHS, are now being shared here. There are signs everywhere on campus that show there is much pride and friendship among the teachers and the student body. Now the end is near for the many of us seniors who keep the hopes alive that we have cherished for several years, graduation!"

READING ON THE JOB: As you can see by Carla Mixon, many seniors' summers were ruined when they found out they had to read books over the break, we just never dreamed we would have to read them on the job.

MORE MONEY: Many of us hated to bring those senior bills home to our parents, and after adding up her total bill, Tammy Hadley was, too.

MORE RESEARCH: And they told us that the teachers slacked down on you your senior year. Yeah, Right! Jimbo Raney researches for his final high school term paper.

What don't you like about your Senior Year?

"Teachers don't cut us enough slack."

-Damien Fisher

FEEDING FACE: Although our senior year wasn't all we expected, we did expect the free food on senior career day; and like Todd Sellers, we all enjoyed it.

Senior lumps

Usually when you think about becoming a senior, you think about all of the good times you'll have; but once you get there, it's sometimes a totally different story.

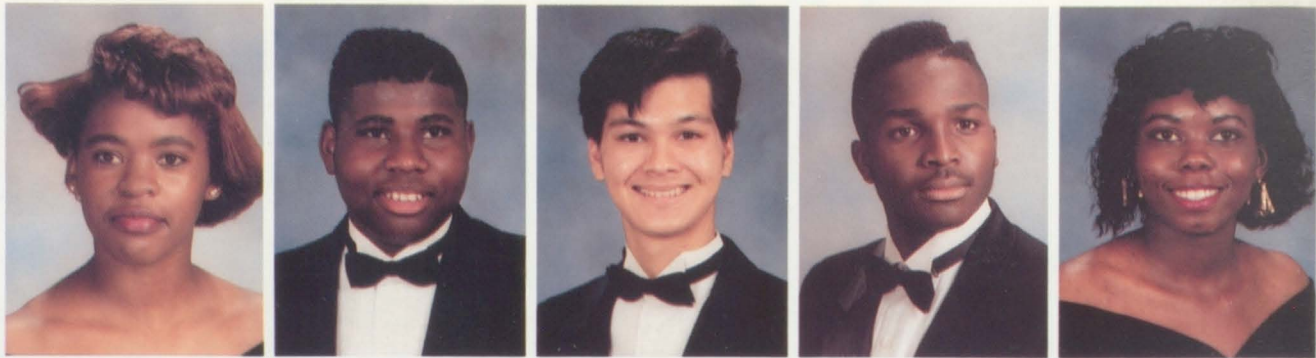

As Joe Senior walked down the hall on the 1st day of school, he felt a sense of excitement all around him. I had finally achieved what I had always waited for... seniority! Joe was the big dog, and he was going to make the best of it.

Every other senior entered the campus with the same feelings as I had, but as the year progressed, they all entered into a state called the senior slumps. No one had imagined their senior year would be like this. No one had warned them about all of the expenses, lectures on college, and especially all the work in Mrs. Bulman and Mrs. Hudson's English classes. It was all so unexpected. This was supposed to have been the year for the seniors to sit back and relax; but, boy, were they all wrong.

So what happened to all of those excited seniors on the first day of school? They had all gone crazy from filling out all of their papers for college and were broke from all of the senior expenses. Was Graduation- Worth It?

Mims, Nicholas: "The things I'll miss most about BCHS will be the faculty, especially my English teachers. I'll miss them the most because they taught me how and what to expect from one year to the next. I appreciate their wisdom and inspiration.

I'll also miss the music directors of BCHS. They made a special effort to see that my talent is expressed with self-confidence and control.

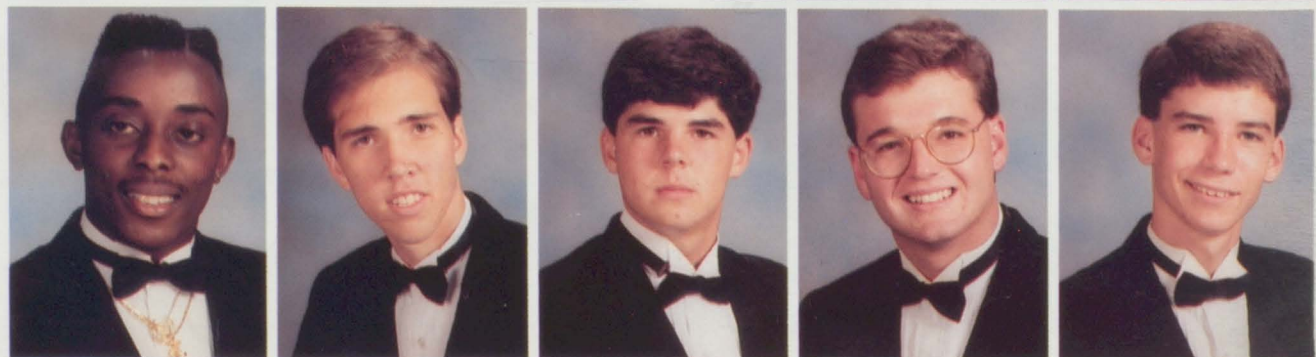

In a way, I won't miss a thing, because I'll still be yelling "Go Tigers" at L.S.U."

Yes, Mrs. Tucker did fuss a lot, but the musical training I received will be with me for life. Thanks, Mrs Tucker! Being part of the Tiger Tones was one of the highlights of my senior year. I will think that one of the good things about the year ending is that I will not have to spend another day at the North Baldwin Center of Technology.
On a serious note, I'd like to thank all of my teachers who had a part in my education. With a very special thanks to Mrs. Dawn McMillan!"

Whatever was being done , the seniors were sure having fun!

Remember those long nights of riding aimlessly throughout town looking for a favorite party? Many seniors found it hard to find a place to party on the weekends. Some used their time to earn some money, others just hung around the numerous empty parking lots. Every once in a while the seniors would get a little dangerous and would throw a party at Stockton School Yard, Old Live Oak, or some other isolated secret spot. Any place out of town would do.

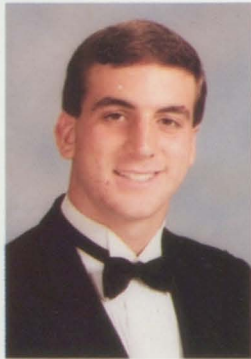

During football and basketball season, Key Club graciously provided seniors with a place to relax their bound up energy. Dances were held after home games as a safe place to have fun.

There were times when someone's parents would go out of town. This gave another opportunity for the seniors to party. No matter what occasion, no matter where, if the seniors had a chance for a weekend party, you can bet you would have found the seniors there. -Matt Dagen & Diana Watts

Future
ancies
Whether it was the military, college, or simple relaxation, each senior had his own dream for the future.

As the year passed on, all of the seniors realized the important decisions that they would have to make. College applications were being mailed, military recruiters were called in and student counselors were being visited. The seniors came face to face with the age old question asked every year to each senior. "What am I going to do after high school?" The uncertainty of the future seemed to grow heavier on the weary minds from these one of a kind seniors. As these decisions were made, they possessed an aura of confidence which was instilled by their past four years in school, and they were pleased with their decisions.

We were fortunate in this little town. Even in an economic recession, the churches, merchants, and citizens gave financial aid to us. The help was in donations to complete our school, landscape the grounds, fund the athletics, provide goods for special projects, and purchase ad space for this yearbook. When sales of cars, clothes, and extras caused the businesses to cut back on their spending, they continued to support us--the future depended on it.

*My Daughter
As time will come and go
Sometimes like a distant wind
My life sees many changes
And I'm thankful for true friends*

*But as I long for wisdom
And search for that distant light
I think of yesterdays
When I watched you sleep at night*

*And nothing that I touch
In a sometimes lonely world
Will ever mean so much
As the love for my little girl*

©Herman Ross Fillingane

In loving memory of my daughter Elizabeth, whom we love dearly. All the memories we have shared: the beach, the boat rides to the island, having your friends over, the telephone, and just you being there are memories we will never forget.

Your sister Sonya misses you so much, but you are in her heart each and every day.

And, to her class of 1992, I know, as her mother, she would've been honored to walk the field and receive the diploma with such a great class and great friends. Although Elizabeth is not with us physically, she will be in our hearts forever.

Your family, friends, and loved ones miss and love you so dearly, but I will never forget the times "When I'm with you." -Sheiff

Youth on A Mission

Spending a week of summer vacation working at the Upper Sand Mountain Parish in North Alabama taught members of the UMYF that giving time and talents to help those less fortunate meant blessings for them too.

15 youth and 7 adults canned potatoes, repaired and painted several homes, repaired roofs and distributed potatoes to the needy. It was a week filled with hard work, fellowship with one another and a renewal of their faith in Christ.

K.P.: The temperature in the potato cannery soared into the 100's. Kane Morris, Julie Shiver, and Ben Jones were just a few of the youth who worked in the cannery for two days. 276 quarts of potatoes were canned. The reward for the week's work was a trip to Dollywood.

The majority of colleges cost more than most families can afford.

Not FAULKNER STATE COLLEGE.

FAULKNER STATE COLLEGE has the lowest tuition in Alabama.

FAULKNER STATE COLLEGE is close to home,
with campuses in Bay Minette, Fairhope, Foley and Gulf Shores.

And the courses you take at FAULKNER STATE COLLEGE transfer to whatever university you plan to attend.

So, ask yourself, can I afford college?

We think you know the answer.

Plan for the future.

At SouthTrust, we're building our future by guaranteeing our customers will be satisfied. Quality service is the cornerstone of our philosophy.

While you're planning for the future, you'll need to include a strong financial partner to help you along the way. With checking services. Savings accounts. Loans for college. Later, even investment services.

SouthTrust would like to be a part of your plans. And that's why we don't just promise good service. We guarantee it. Come talk with us about what we can do for you now and in the years ahead.

Carla Mixon

Carla,
Eighteen years ago we found an angel with wings not yet formed.
The stars that shined within her eyes, the grasp within her hand,
Reassured us of a future that would be forever sound.
Pebbles have rested beneath her feet, stones have bruised her heart.
Now her strong wings will soar her over mountains high
And protect her tender heart.

Mom, Dad, & Brandilyn

Jan Malone

We are so proud of you.
You have made life so much fun for all of us.
We Love You,
Mom, Dad, & Jeff

Robin Yarbrough

May the wind carry you to safe and distant shores-and the moon and stars be your faithful guides.

May the child in you never stop questioning your soul always be peaceful and free. May you find the strength within you when life calls for it and have the ability to control your weaknesses.
May your heart be filled with love and pride, as ours is today when we think of you, our daughter.

We Love You,
Daddy & Mama

Diana Watts

A long time, hard work, but you are here!
We Love You,
Mom, Dad & Cheryl

Thadd Hasse

The relationship between a child and his parents is greatly enriched when there is laughter in the home. You have provided immeasurable joy for all of us.

We love you.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Jeff, Tom, & Betsy
"Carpe Diem"

Chantelle Smith

Every year that comes and goes, you grow a little dearer! We love you! Remember, always look for divine guidance to help you through life.

Love,

The Final Step: After years of hard work and dedication, Misty Wallace, Christy White, and Angie Pridgeon are ready for the final step...graduation.

Three Say Goodbye: After receiving their diplomas, Paul Kelley, Kenneth Thomas, and Brian Barnes take a moment to think back on all of the friendships and memories that were made and say goodbye.

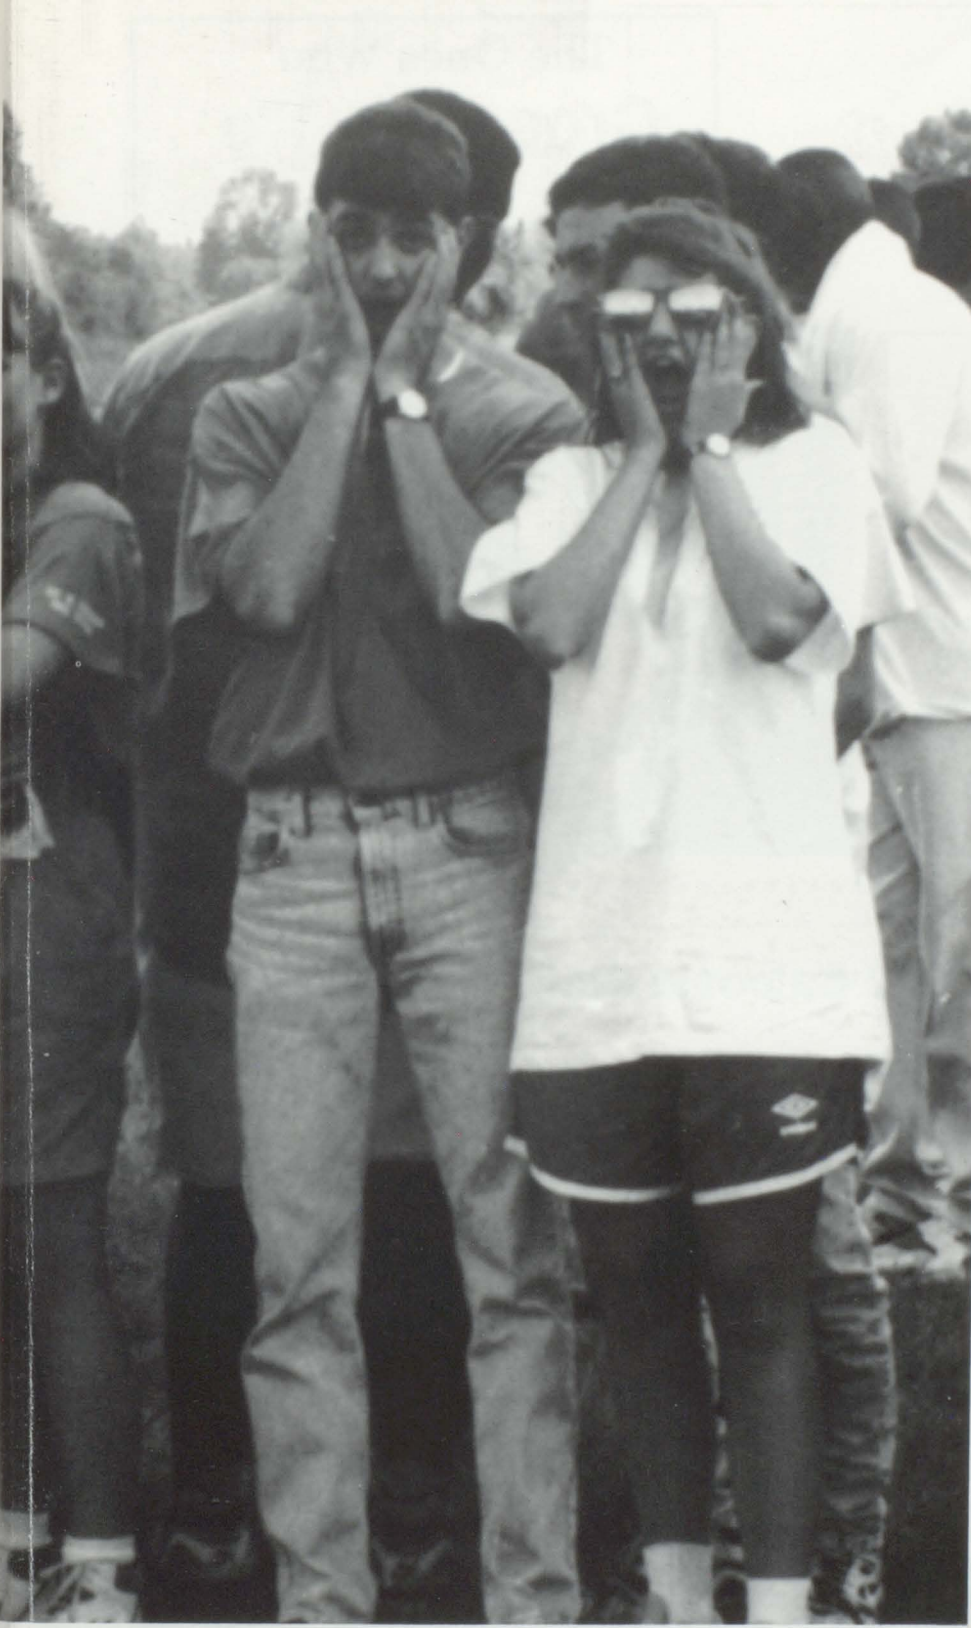

Two Thumbs Up: They're no Siskel and Ebert, but when Nick Newell and John Davis were asked to give their opinion of the new school, they didn't hesitate to give it a definite two thumbs up! Oh, and by the way, everyone has the right to voice his own opinion.

At the beginning of the year, many questions were raised as to whether the move to the new school was worth it, but as the year progressed, the students realized that it definitely was.

There was the larger cafeteria with a window view, split lunch waves which allowed quicker service, a bigger gym that made it easier for the large crowds during the pep rallies; and there was also the mural of the tiger on the gym wall that gave !!! Pride !!! Fine School !!! Caring People !!!

Leaving Her Mark: Leigh Ann Stewart is one of the many seniors that signed the senior walkway. The walkway was designed to recognize the first graduating class of the new school.

Home Alone...Not!: Being left home alone would be exciting for these two, but Brian Turk and Heather Paslay are more excited about the new school.

everyone a sense of pride whenever they saw it. Overall, the new school provided a better environment and that was important.

No more questions were needed. A whole year passed and everyone knew that you no longer had to ask "Was it Worth It?" You just knew that it was.

Yeah,
we do it like

!!! Better Environment !!! Landscaping !!! Pride !!!

Colophon & Editors' Remarks

Volume 70 of the Balcoala was published by the annual staff and printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks, in Montgomery, Alabama. 550 copies were printed on 160 pound bordeaux paper. The cover was a French straight grain with a silkscreen on the front and back. The colors were black and white with an etched silver stamp.

The type was mostly Helvetica and Times Roman and other types from the Macintosh SE programs were used for headlines. The copy was 10 or 12 point, captions 8 and headlines varied accordingly. Jim Owens Photographics took the school day pictures and senior portraits. All other photographs were taken by staff photographers with help from Daniel Kern.

To our representative Randy Claybrook, the staff would like to say "thanks." You have helped us through some rough times when we needed it most.

To the staff we would like to express our thanks and appreciation for your hard work and dedication. You have been very helpful. We would also like to thank Mrs. Hudson for being there whenever we needed her and especially for all of the laughs. You mean a lot to us and the book would not have been possible without you. Many friendships were made and we are glad we were able to be a part of them.

And finally to the student body. Without you there definitely would not have been a book. And as far as the new school, you came, you saw, you experienced, but the question still remains... "Was it Worth It?"

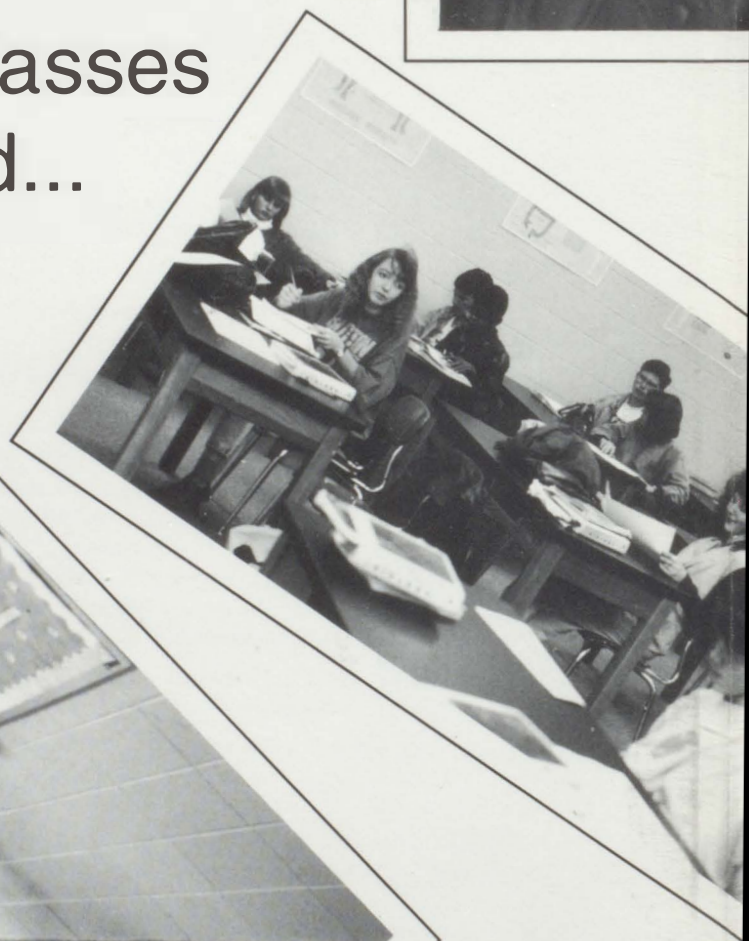

Jennifer Richerson & Christine Lindsey

We registered, the teachers taught, we had class, and sometimes we played.

Even in the turmoil, there was sameness amid the new, and fun mixed with the hum of routine. The classes competed, bonded and...

...and slid into the new routine!

"Was it worth it ?"

You bet !
