Who's that? Brandon Scott and Sarae Lambert take a break on the dance floor. Many couples enjoy spending quality time together during school dances. Sarae, as a member of the Homecoming Court, has an extra special reason to always remember her first Homecoming Dance since she was one of the three girls the freshmen class elected for this honor.

Woo! April Rabren eats her goulash meal in the cafeteria. Dressing up for Halloween is just one way BCHS students choose to express themselves. April chooses red and green colors to accessorize her "look."

showing off

The world in 1998 is varied, complicated, and rapidly changing. Baldwin County High School's student body and their activities reflect that. Some of us enjoy math, or English, or science. To others, sports are the main highlight, while still others thrive on being involved in a wide array of organizations.

At B.C.H.S. there aren't many areas of common interest. However, we're all united in preparing for our futures. The four years we spend within these walls are some of the best, most confusing, wonderful, and hectic times of our lives. Here we are developing the skills and dreams that will carry us through the rest of our lives.

The theme of the 1997-98 edition of the Balcoala, "From Every Angle," is truly representative of us, the classes of '98, '99, 2000, and '01. For anyone to clearly see what we're made of, he has to consider all of our differences and strengths. Years from now when we thumb through this book, it will help US recall what we were made of. So here we are, in the year of nineteen hundred and ninety-eight ...

Clarence Henderson, Vernon Bishop, and Michael Snowden hang out at a pep rally. Students love getting out of class early for Friday afternoon pep rallies and showing their true Tiger pride!

Pep rallies, Homecoming Week, and spending time with friends are just a few of the things that make up the life of a Baldwin County High School student. We work, study, go to school and STILL have time for fun! Of course, our ideas of fun are just as different as we are. Here we are, the population of B.C.H.S., having tons of fun ... from every angle.

baldwin co. pride tigers are #1 ...

Sherry Bryars, Bridgette York, and Veronica Carter attempt to make sure that everyone knows they have school spirit. Every class competes in the spirit yell to try to prove that they have more pride than any other. Have they got it?? Most DEFINITELY!

tigers are the best ...

Pep rallies serve many purposes. They promote school spirit, create friendly class rivalry, and give students a break from normal school schedules. Most importantly, they get our team ready and psyched up for their game. Paul Davis, Darren Killings, and Derek Needham are pumped up about the game. They can't believe the support given to them by the entire student body.

nick griffin

it's all me ... Josh Day doesn't hesitate to show his Tiger pride. Even with a broken finger he is in FULL support of his team.

oooooooooooo tigers ... Pep rallies are a good excuse to let out excess energy. Anita Bolar seems to be taking advantage of it.

be careful ...

how 'bout that tiger ...

Jennifer Lyles parades around the gym to show off her spirit. Every class tries to have more Tiger spirit than any other. The cheerleaders sponsored this particular competition in which every class had a few moments to dress their volunteer "Tiger" in homemade, wacky-looking items. A special judge (Mr. Duck dressed up as Dolly Partin) decided which class exhibited the most spirit and creativity.

attention ...

Jennifer McCarley gives one hundred percent of her attention to the Pledge of Allegiance. This moment of reverence always starts every pep rally, setting the stage for some really CrAzY events.

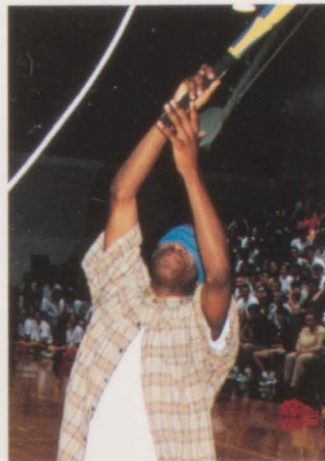

yeah, yeah ... The class of 1999 definitely has school spirit!

go!!! ... Amber Bush is sure to get the attention of any camera.

pinata time ...

The theme, "Noose the Lions," brings about an inventive activity for this pep rally: Gary French wins a chance at the Foley pep rally to burst the piñata. If he bursts it, he will get the prizes that fill it. Unfortunately for Gary, Jason Smith got to it first.

a true tiger ???

Jennifer Wilson puts the finishing touches on her tiger paw. Two hours without electricity gave many students extra time to prepare for the pep rally before school.

queen for a week... Kenosha Graves was crowned as Baldwin County High School's Homecoming Queen during Homecoming Week 1997. She was elected by the 295 seniors in her graduating class.

sunny dayz... Ashley Howell, Anita Horace, and Amity Rider find the heat hard to handle. Poor Amity!

homecoming court

the homecoming parade was held on October 2, 1997. Baldwin County High School presented the Queen and her court to the community. Kenosha Graves was crowned at the Friday night football game. As usual, the parade started on 9th street and ended in the middle school parking lot. The homecoming parade is always a lot of fun for everyone. It is full of memories for both seniors and underclassmen alike.

homecoming week

The theme for Homecoming 1998 was "Tigers at the Movies." Much of the Senior Class visited Senior Square Thursday night of Homecoming Week by decorating the square with articles from their float, including this clapboard.

welcome to the jungle

Who let those wild and crazy Tigers out into civilization? April Ferguson, Mendy Powell, Katrina Lamar, Daphne Orem, Amanda Joiner, Amanda Richerson, and Anna Pettis get ready to ride in the Homecoming parade. Participating in the parade is a really fun part of Homecoming that BCHS students love to take advantage of. We know these girls had fun!

g.i. janes

the invisible three... These three juniors, Jennifer Wilson, Krystal Kilcreas, and Rachel Hayles really blend in with their surroundings. Camo day during Homecoming dress-up week was one of the favorites, as shown by the number of students dressed in their gear that day.

twinkies... You can't help but wonder how hard Kelly Godbey had to twist J.R. Holly's arm to dress as twins for twins day during Homecoming Week.

gone with the wind... Not rain, sleet, snow, nor wind can keep Jeni Denton from working on the junior float.

home improvement... John Collins works on the junior Homecoming float. Handy-man skills prove to be a good resource for the juniors.

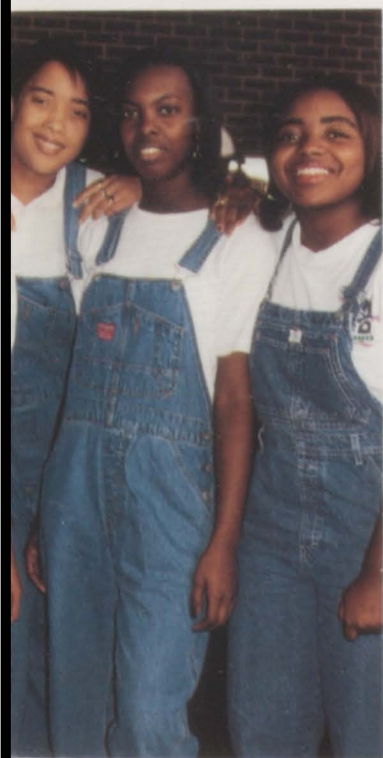

believe it or not

Since Amie and Jamie Roberts are really twins, they don't have to dress alike to be convincing. However, like all students at BCHS they find a way to express themselves and be individuals. Amie says that she and Jamie have had numerous chances to be mischievous - once they switched boyfriends, and once they even switched classes - THIS YEAR!

tigers in black

The seniors showed how much Tiger spirit they have by building a great float. It was a lot of hard work, but the time spent really paid off. They won first place in the competition between the classes.

flash back to the eighties... Jennifer Lyles, Allison Tillery, Jennifer Wilson, Brooke Stephens, Kelly Bass, Renee Robertson, Kiley Kolb, and Jessica Kersh bring back the memories of the 80s. Many students were seen in the halls all decked out in their "rad" clothes, that included everything from tight-rolled jeans and multicolored socks. Needless to say, flash back day was hot!

triplets

Meredith Rhodes, Chasity Byrd, and Lacy Rhames show off their Homecoming pride as a set of tiger triplets. Spelling T-I-G-E-R-S across their three shirts is a good idea, but what does "TI," "GE," or "RS" spell when they're apart?

hard at work

Many students helped with the production of the senior float. Michelle Davison gives Jennifer McCarley some advice. Building a float is hard work, but it's rewarding, too.

homecoming day

death by pride ...

These senior boys, Tim Doerr, Joe Daw, and Jeremiah Kolb, carry on the senior tradition of carrying the "coffin" during the Homecoming Pep Rally. For many years, this privilege has been awarded to a few, select guys and is highly important.

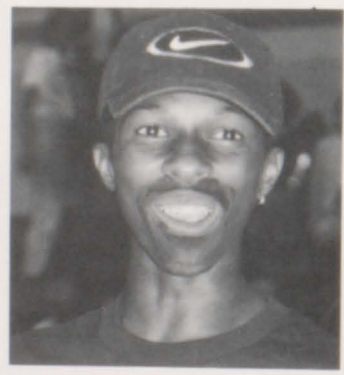

ghoulie girls ...

Adrienne Williams and a masked observer (Jennifer Garrett) show their monstrous pride during the Homecoming Pep Rally. This pep rally is almost always the most rambunctious and eventful. It is the highlight of the Homecoming school day and gives our football players a VERY supportive send off into battle ... The student body must have done something right ... we beat Choctaw County 41-0.

tiger pride or what ... Jennifer Lyles always shows her Tiger pride.

dance the night away ... Nobody can drag Misty Franklin, Dana Penna, Haley Horn, and Lucy Wade off the floor.

best buddies ... Garth Turpen and Jessica Kersh look like they are having a blast. Who needs shirts anyway? Right, Garth?

Carl Jones pauses for the "finishing touches" before entering the dance. How does this thing go ??

The Homecoming Dance is a great place to show off dance moves or learn new ones.

what a couple ...

Wayne Bryars and Jhonnelle Loper are one of the one hundred and seventy-five couples that attended the Homecoming Dance. The dance this year was held in the school cafeteria directly following the football game. The Student Council did an outstanding job of decorating. Movie posters donated by area movie rental stores donned the walls and transformed this ordinary room into an extraordinary dance facility.

what a night ...

J. P. Shiver and Raven Smith take time out to share highlights of their first Homecoming Dance experience with a yearbook staff reporter. Raven says that the best thing about going to the dance was the opportunity to spend time with her friends. J.P. says he was nervous about asking Raven even though they were going as friends.

pep rally basics ...

all throughout our high school years, we learn, we grow, and we find ourselves. During the good times and the bad, we always have people who are there for us and who care for us. When graduation rolls around, we are faced with many hard goodbyes. Even though our lives go on, we always know that we have been forever changed by friends.

fun-lovin' friends... Robby Carlisle, Lucy Wade, Danielle Duck, and Tasha Burt kick back.

stand by me... Brandi Barnes has found a loyal friend in Coly McLain.

look at us... Erica Broughton and Cynthia Bradley are always side by side.

best buds... Rhonda Bryant doesn't have any trouble "roping" a best friend, Stephanie Lores.

french fry fun Shawn Wilkerson, Chad Emmons, Kevin Smith, Zach Killcreas, & Tony Tillman love great times, good food, & lots of laughs.

give me a hug Wendy Greek and Kay Homan enjoy spending time together outside of school.

enjoy... Many students get to school a little early so that they can start the day with friends.

hanging with my homies...Mike Mason, Adrienne Williams, Mario Mims, & Wynter Crook hang out after a basketball game.

stuck in the middle... Sherry Schoppert hangs with he friends, James Quinley and Josh Vernon.

army recruit... Courtney Grimes and Nicole Vinson look like they're ready for battle.

sit back and relax... Kendall Quinley and Jennifer Clayton enjoy Shrimp Fest.

three peas in a pod... Jamie Crook, Mesha January, & Erica McCall really stick together. That's what friends are for.

where we belong

The clubs of Baldwin County High School are a very important part of student life. B.C.H.S. has a wide variety of organizations that offer something for every student. Environmentalists, chess pros, concerned Christians, technology whizzes, and academic aces can all find a club perfectly suited to their interests. So, here they are, B.C.H.S.'s clubs and their members... from every angle.

making the grades

for me?...

Jennifer McCarley holds the box tightly, but unfortunately she can't keep it because it is a present for the N.H.S. sponsors. After all the hard work the sponsors do, they deserve a present.

can i help you?...

Heather Smith, Brian Aaron, and Bridgette Rolin sport their yellow N.H.S. ribbons. The members wore these ribbons so that they could be easily spotted in the crowd. If a freshman had a question or was lost, all he had to do was look for a yellow ribbon.

naturally smart...

Will Cabaniss, Jason Smith, Joe Landenwich, and Tom Hartner pose with their candles at the 1998 Inductions Ceremony for new members. The candles set the gym aglow with their tiny battery-powered bulbs. Though a few flickered on and off, the effect was beautiful.

don't stick me... Latoya Baker smiles at the crowd while Jennifer McCarley inducts her into the N.H.S.

Amity Rider was the 97-98 N.H.S. president. Under her leadership, the club did a lot, including aiding in Extended Academics and the Gayfers Charity sale.

Mr. Blackmon, what are the requirements for being inducted into N.H.S.? "Candidates must be members of the junior or senior class. They must maintain a B average or a 3.7 GPA. Members must conduct themselves properly at all times."

the newbies...

Stephanie Ammons, Kristen Armstead, Katie Averitt, Latoya Baker, Justin Bishop, Bridget Boykin, Rebecca Bryars, Micheal Buckley, Kelley Coats, John Collins, Amber Corley, Rebecca Cottrell, Jeni Denton, Miranda Douvier, Logan Ganey, Laura Gee, Angelic Gilliland, Kelly Godbey, Bradley Gray, Sara-Kathryn Green, Jessica Hadley, Suzanne Hicks, Clint Irby, Christy Johnson, Coleman Jones, Jessica Kersh, Krystal Killcreas, Rachael Knight, Kiley Kolb, Jessica Little, Alicia McCall, Sarah McKinley, Jarrod Murray, Melanie Parker, Dana Penna, Daniel Pifrement, Miranda Powell, Faron Presley, John Price, Andrea Ratz, Sarah Reeves, Jennifer Salter, Courtney Scott, Jamie Skinner, Angela Smith, Jamie Smith, Michael Smith, Sara Smith, Tracey Stewart, Garth Turpen, Georgia Tyrrell, Danielle Vick, and Jennifer Wilson

101 tigers...

Each year the National Honor Society enters a float in the Homecoming Parade. The theme of this year's N.H.S. float was 101 Tigers, a take off from the Disney movie, 101 Dalmations. Eric Scott donated his truck which was then decorated with orange spots, ears, and even whiskers. N.H.S. members Brannan Pedersen, Jerry Boone, Emilie Denmark, Luke Nelson, Daryl Myer, and Bridgette Rolin went along for the ride.

leading the way...

The 97-98 National Honor Society Officers are Susan Thompson (treasurer), Dusty Franklin (co-vice president), Ben Yawn (historian), Emilie Denmark (co-vice president), Amity Rider (president), and Tiffany Richerson (secretary). The officers were officially installed at an installation tea, at the beginning of the year.

getting pinned... Sarah Foster inducts her best friend and neighbor, Georgia Tyrrell, into the N.H.S.

Miranda Powell, one of the 52 new members inducted, flashes a smile while Emilie Denmark pins her at the inductions.

leaders of the pack...

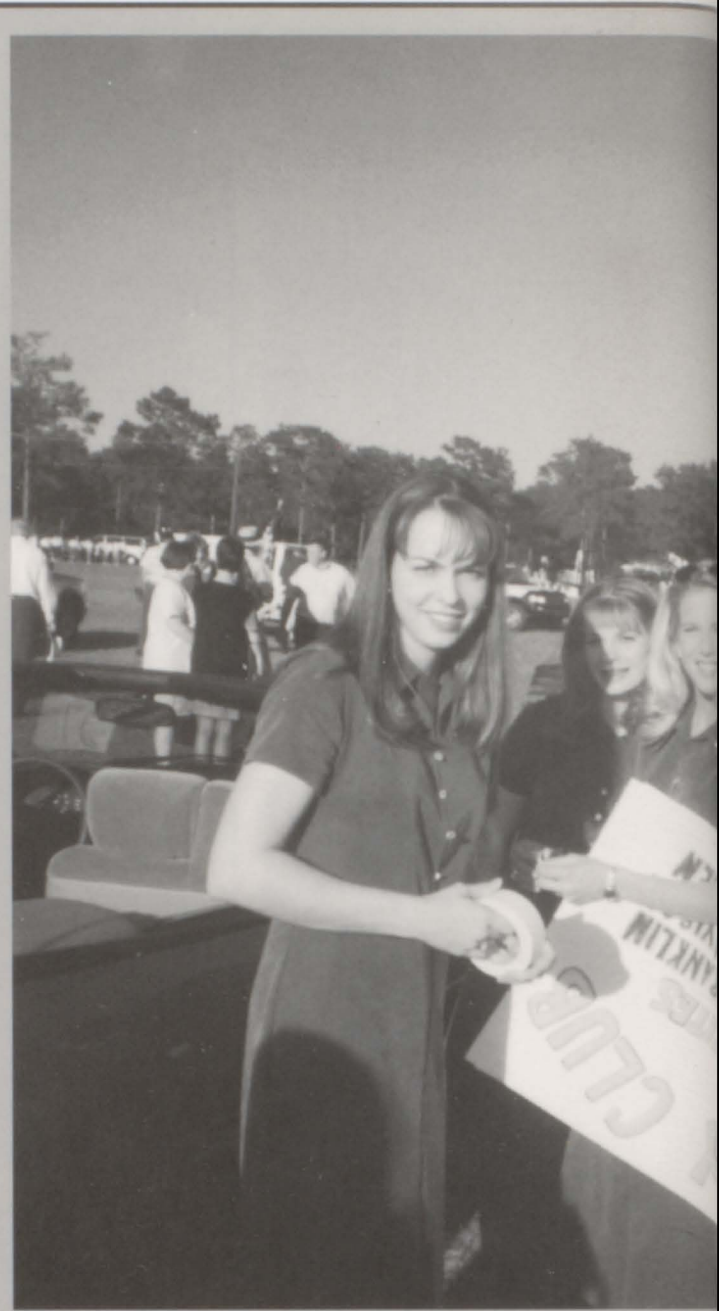

President- Will Cabaniss, Vice-President- Sara Green, Treasurer- Kayla Morries, and Secretary- Jeni Denton out cold... Nina Lambeth is temporarily out of commission after giving blood at the American Red Cross Blood Drive. BCHS was just one pint short of their goal-50. Key Club senior members help out at the blood drive every year. It is a privilege to miss class all day.

program, anyone?...

Sara-Kathryn Green helps out at Graduation by handing out programs at the front gate. Key Club members are always ready and willing to lend their services at any event. Other members that helped were Jennifer Wilson, Kiley Kolb and Kayla Morries.

triplets??? Dusty Franklin, Mary Brogden, and Michelle Davison prepare their car for the Homecoming Parade.

Will Cabaniss, why did you choose to join Key Club? "I wanted to be in a club that made a difference in Bay Minette."

"This year has been a very special year because it is the last year for Favorites. The Club is now a mixed gender club, but it started out as an all-male service organization. It has now evolved into a co-ed club." -Ms. Still it ain't easy bein' sleazy...

Will Cabaniss, Sara-Kathryn Green, and Jeni Denton ride in style in the Christmas Fest Parade. Driving that new Ford truck, Will must really think that he is something.

Each year Christmas Fest welcomes in the Christmas season for the city of Bay Minette. Clubs enter floats, bands play, craftsmen sell their wares, Girl Scouts march, and stores stage sales. Santa Claus brings up the rear and throws candy to all the good little girls and boys in the crowds!

aw, shucks...

Sarah Foster, Mary Beasley, and India Nelson shuck corn at the annual Corn Boil held by the Chamber of Commerce. Key Club offers its services to a variety of community events... By the look on India's face, one can tell that she is not enjoying the task she has been assigned to do..

key club favorites

keepin' it cold... Leanne Stewart and Jeni Denton ice down cokes, preparing for another long, hot day of work.

trash collector... Haley Taylor helps clean up the stadium after a home football game.

Support team

just chillin'

Mr. Beam takes a break from the Student Council convention at Auburn to expand his mind, although, after two years, the convention booklets tend to look the same.

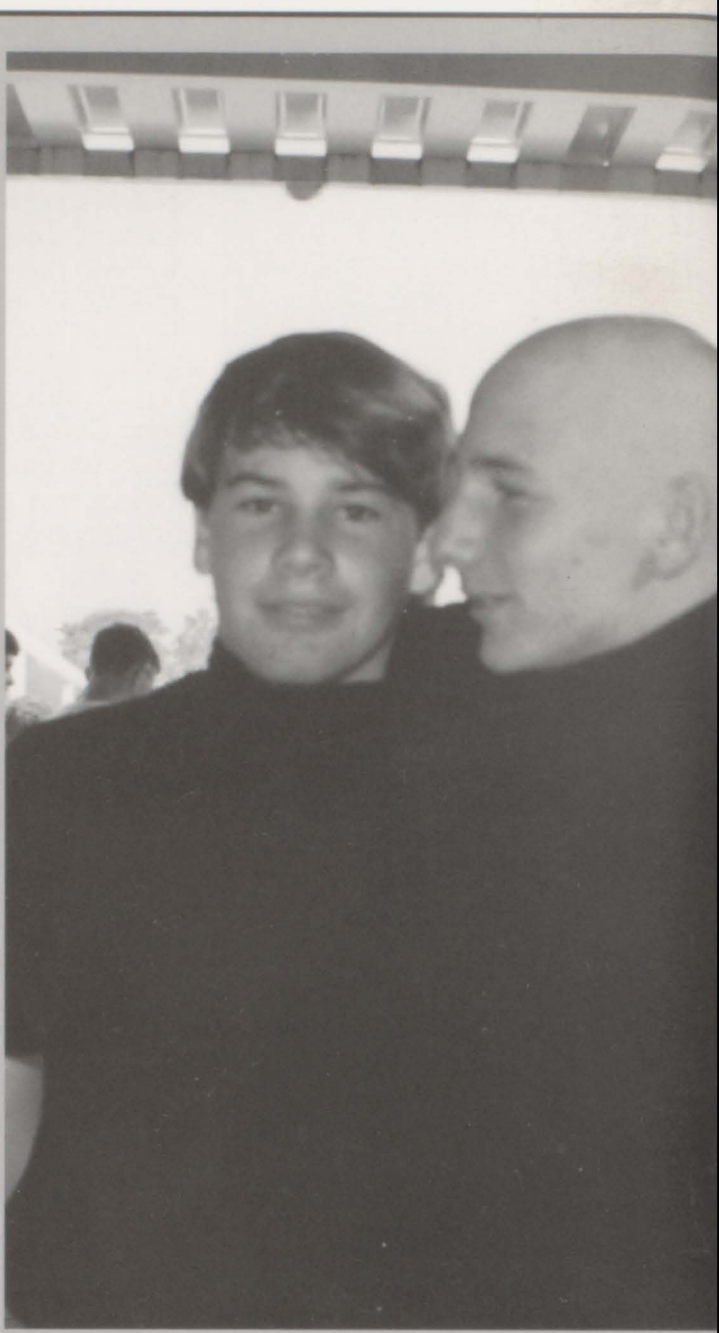

convention duties...

Jennifer Bush, John Cox, Nichole Long, Tiffani Little, and Jenny Stewart find out that convention is hard work and tough competition. The groups from other schools come armed with ideas and competitive spirits. This atmosphere is catching, and before anyone realizes, all the groups are heading home with vast amounts of new ideas, the whole idea of convention!

end of an era

Advisor Mrs. Linda Brogden has worked with BCHS Student Council for nine years, and Mr. Jim Beam has worked with the Council for two years. During this time Student Council has initiated a number of fun and worthwhile activities to serve both school and community. A special thank you to Mrs. Brogden and Mr. Beam for all of their hard work and dedication.

flashback... Senior and junior girls show their school spirit by flashing back to the 50's, 60's, and the 80's during Flashback Day of Homecoming Week.

We are siamese... Zack Killcreas and Ben Smith are joined at the hip for "Twin Day," a Student Council-sponsored dress up day during Homecoming Week.

"Pimpin'" ... Jeremy Jackson is stylin' as the infamous "Pimp" for one of Student Council's dress up days. The cane adds the final touch, Jer.

"all hail queen kenosh!" ... Kenosha Graves leads off our Homecoming Parade.

ooooh, roses... Mary Langham and Mary Brogden present tenth grade Homecoming maid Kayla Morries with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Morries proudly looks on! This is Kayla's second time to be on the BCHS Homecoming Court.

alice the camel has how many humps?

Students singing about camels, swimming in pools, and lots of laughs?...Just another Student Council meeting. The Council usually held meetings every first and third Monday of the month at 6 o'clock. Student Council President, Tiffani Little, went over all the new business and the weekly agenda, as Student Council Secretary, Melanie Parker, recorded minutes. Student Council held an attendance of about 65, and, thanks to each member, was able to successfully finish out the year.

organization is key...

Mary Langham follows Mrs. Brogden's advice by organizing down to the quarter. After trick or treating for Unicef, Mary calculates that over 100 dollars were donated.

The Student Council is an organization of students who volunteer for membership and pledge to plan and participate in projects and activities designed to enhance our school and community and make it a better place in which to live. Student Council serves the student body of BCHS in areas such as Homecoming and community projects such as Club Continental Retirement Village.

"i promise"... Shameka Taylor signs the Student Council and Safety Club's Prom Promise, promising to stay sober on Prom Night.

"ya gotta have the shirt"... Since 1993 the Council has sold Homecoming t-shirts. Shown here are Eileen Dyess and Ashley Howell with the must - have Homecoming item.

fried fish, anyone???

Kiley Brown and Wade Buckner are wondering if they want a piece of Mr. Williams' famous fried fish while Ashley Johnson and Chris Beck are the first in line to make sure they don't miss out.

This year FFA entered many different competitions and rated well in all areas. These four boys placed second in the Southwest District in Monroeville. They entered in livestock eliminations and competed against seventeen schools. The boys will go to State in June.

horseshoes anyone?

Jay Armstrong secretly wishes bad luck to fall on John Lambert, his opponent. Part of the fun of the FFA Fish Fry is putting friends against friends in a hot game of horseshoes.

just chillin... Jason Smith, Robbie Strom, Jody McMillan, and Ben Smith are trying to decide if they want to join in on all the fun and games after just eating the food Mr. Williams has cooked.

holiday scaring...

Haley Hadley and Cathlene Mitchem's scarecrow contributed greatly to the Care House holiday decorations.

Mary Shariat, Kelli Wenzel and Sarah Reeves worked hard on this Baldwin County Fair Exhibit and won 1st place.

roaarr... Tiffany Cox and Alicia McCall try to get everyone to have the courage to say no to drugs.

homemakers

chowing down...

Jennifer Finch, Ashley Bass, and Jonathan Crook serve themselves treats after entertaining the residents of Oakwood Nursing Home.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization sponsored by Ms. Goforth and Ms. Carpenter. Helping others is a top priority for the members of this club. They spend their time having fun with the residents of the Oakwood Nursing Home, making decorations for the Care House, convincing students to say "NO!" to drugs, and preparing exhibits for the County Fair.

is it good???

Ann Williams wonders if she should have put that bite in her mouth; it looked really good, but she doesn't seem to like it....

showin' off...

Tramecier January, Jason Gammage, and Brandon Armstead show off their projects they made in Home Ec. Ms. Carpenter will show students how to make anything they want.

The BCHS Chess Club is a great way for allowing students to expand their horizons. These chess players learn skills of concentration and patience, not to mention conversing skills. They have a chance to meet other students from different schools and gain not only motivational skills, but also self-respect.

mmmm... Quentin Stafford ponders on his next move. All he wants is a win. It takes great concentration to come away with a win.

critical thinking... Sarah Stewart seems to have a trick up her sleeve. Trick moves are a must for chess players.

concentration... Wilton Miller concentrates before making his move on Chris Anderson. Chess takes deep concentration, not to mention talent. Chess is a game of thought, skill, and motivation.

friendly comrades... The French Club entered their truck in the Homecoming Parade's contest. Their catchy theme, "French Kiss," won second place. The French Club always participates in the parade, since Madame Land likes her club to be an active one.

mardi gras!!!

Madame Land's French III class got into the Mardi Gras spirit by making their own Mardi Gras floats.

sunny days... Joseph Overstreet, Leigh Anne Kircharr, and Audrey Hayles have fun in the sun as they chill out on their blanket at the picnic. Games and excitement are always a part of the fun.

French Kiss

friendly faces

Kelli Lambert, Christian Lindsey, and Mary Shariat enjoy the fun and leisure of the French Picnic. This picnic is the highlight of the year for many French Club members.

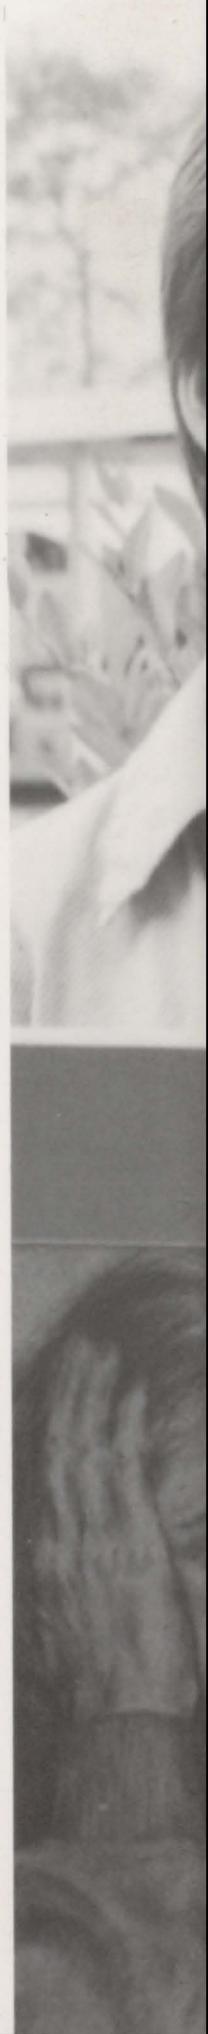

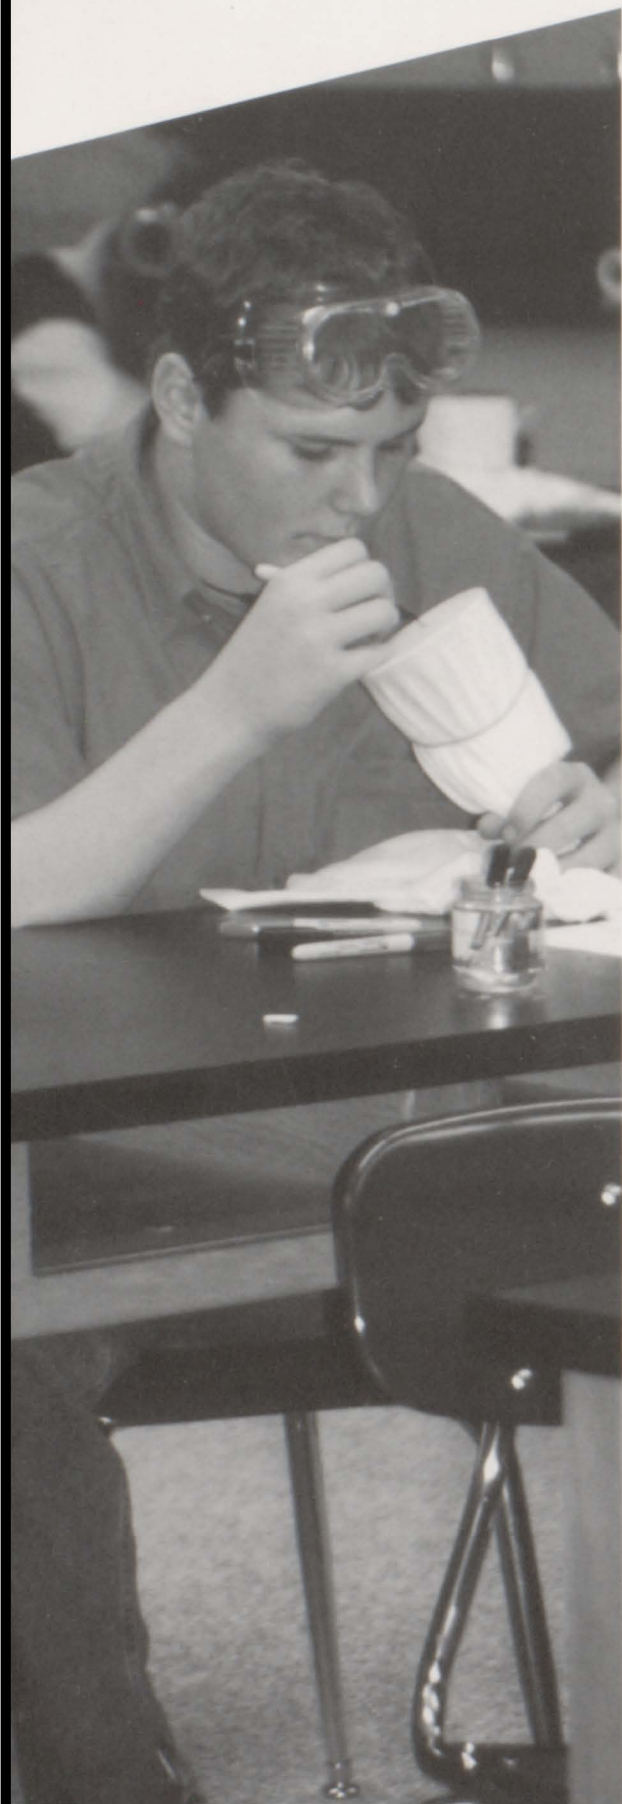

The French Club has had an outstanding year this year. From the selling of bonbons to the picnic, the French Club members have had loads of fun. This club allows students to become acquainted with another culture and allows participants to converse in another language. These members have acquired communication skills that will not only help them with French, but also with their English.

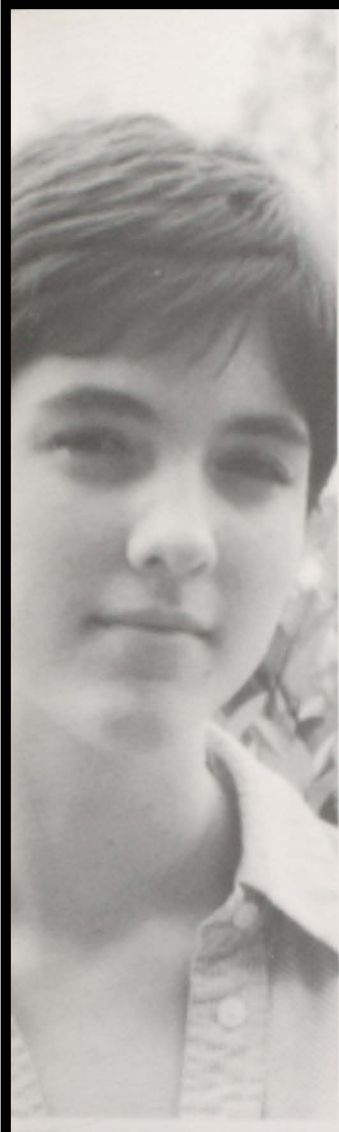

mmm good...

tasty... J.R. Holly and Keaton Coleman enjoy the refreshments at the French Club picnic. This is one pastime enjoyed by many on this occasion.

yummy... Shawn Bartley waits to be served King Cake by Madame Land. Madame Land seems to always have interesting labs...

challenging minds

"Smart" can be defined in a thousand different ways by a thousand different people. To some, it's the ability to make an "A" on every test. To others it requires the capability to dissect a frog in record time. Still others think that intelligence doesn't come from "book smarts" but instead from "street smarts" (common sense). So here we are, the "brains" of BCHS ... from every angle.

present & past

Unfortunately many students don't know or remember a lot of the people and places they study in social studies. Baldwin County High School is trying to fix that problem by requiring each student to take some type of social studies each year in order to graduate. Social studies is a very important class, formed so each student will learn and appreciate his or her heritage.

does it ever stop?...

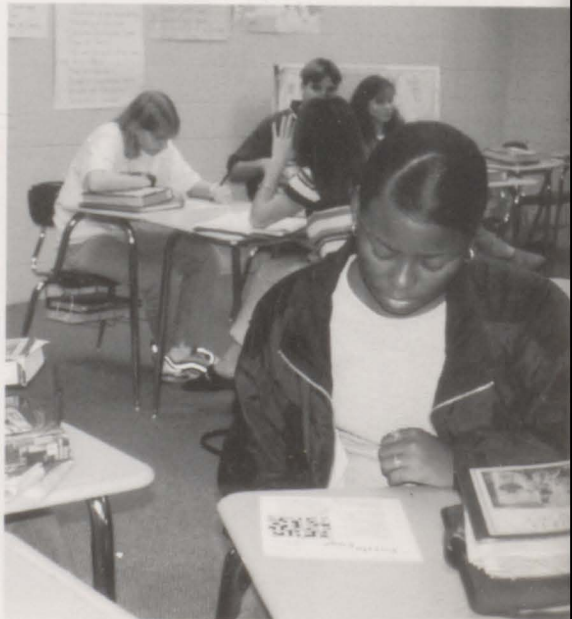

Crystal Taylor is growing a little tired of taking notes in class. She isn't alone. Many fellow students share that same feeling, but it comes with the territory.

cheese!... Ms. Robinson's 3rd period economics class stops to take a picture in front of Pizza Hut. She's the best!

Kaylanda Grace thinks long and hard about her assignment in Mrs. Brogden's class. Mrs. Brogden always manages to have worksheets to add more to her teaching lessons. Some students may not appreciate the extra work at the time it is given, but they realize that it helps them out in the long run. Students must learn to pay attention to details for the tests. You never know what questions will pop up.

typing away

We have many required classes at Baldwin County High School such as math, science, and social studies. Business education has been added to that list. Business education is in some way connected to every job because of the typing skills one is taught in the class. This is yet another class added to get students ready for the "outside" world.

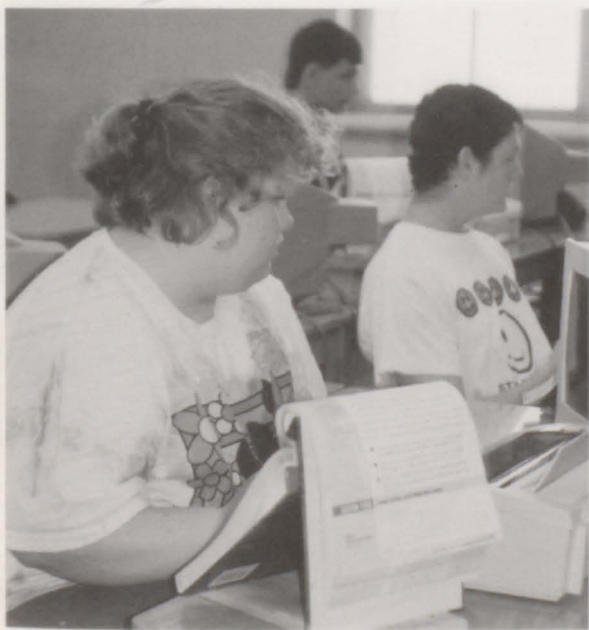

work, work, and then more work...

Sara Reeves gets a chance to do her current event in Mr. Stewart's class. He isn't the only one who requires current events: all social studies teachers are notorious for requiring newspaper article projects.

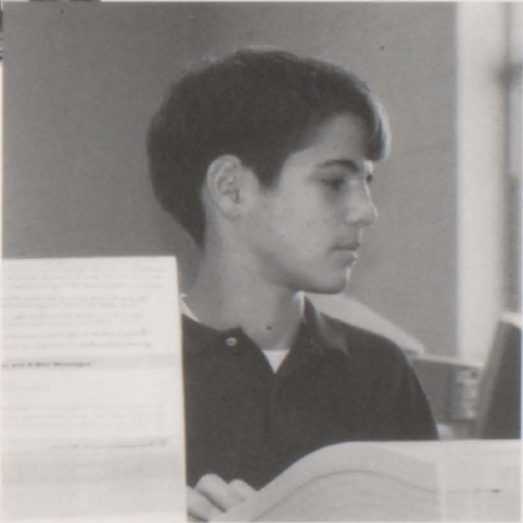

Katrina Hadley forgets all about the proper position she should be in during typing class. It is easy to lose that perfect position. Bo Harris will keep her straight.

sit up!...

what is this?...

Sara Stewart is puzzled by the directions in her typing book. With so many rules, guidelines, and other things that you have to follow exactly, the things that can go wrong are without limits. In times like these, it is really helpful to have someone sitting next to you to offer a little guidance. Nine times out of ten, he is in the same situation that you are. Thankfully, you can never go wrong if you ask the teacher.

up close and personal... David Palmer is one of the few who don't get tired in typing class. He's found out that it helps to be calm.

Cause and effect

Math is important to everyday life, but it can often be confusing at times. BCHS offers a range of math classes from business math to pre-calculus. Even though math is one of many students' toughest subjects, in the end, it proves to be one of the most rewarding academic classes.

what is that...

Nikki Paul, Angel Hiatt, Lindsey Donald, and BJ Langham are surprised at what they see in one of Mrs. Fagan's many labs.

dip and dot...

Erica Broughton and Katrina Mims learn about the properties of water. Who would have thought there was more to water than its simply being wet?

look!!! Staci Chastang and Claire Coleman are amazed at Mrs. Fagan's two-headed cat in Marine Biology.

suck the head, eat the tail...

Jon Adams, Shane Glasgow, Eddie Phillips, Leland Harris, and Benjamin Long continue an age old tradition of eating seafood (especially crawfish) in marine biology. Mrs. Fagan has been experimenting with "fishy" foods for years, and many of her students have been advised to be careful when extracting head juices. Benjamin Long can tell you that crawfish brains are nasty!!!

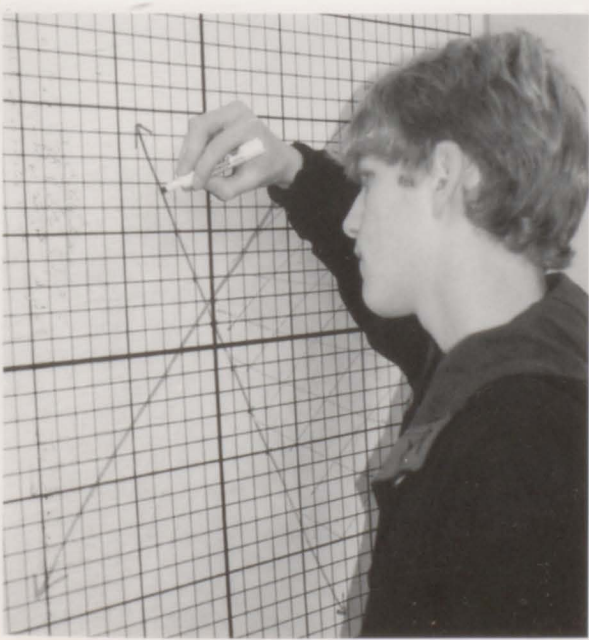

calculating digits

There are many fields of science offered here at Baldwin County High School. Everyone agrees science is a very important subject for all students. No matter what field of study students go into, this academic class will never fail them in the future.

dazed and confused...

Mrs. Still's second period class seems to be in a daze after being given their assignment. Every day there is a new, more confusing lesson in geometry. It is enough to leave anyone dazed and confused.

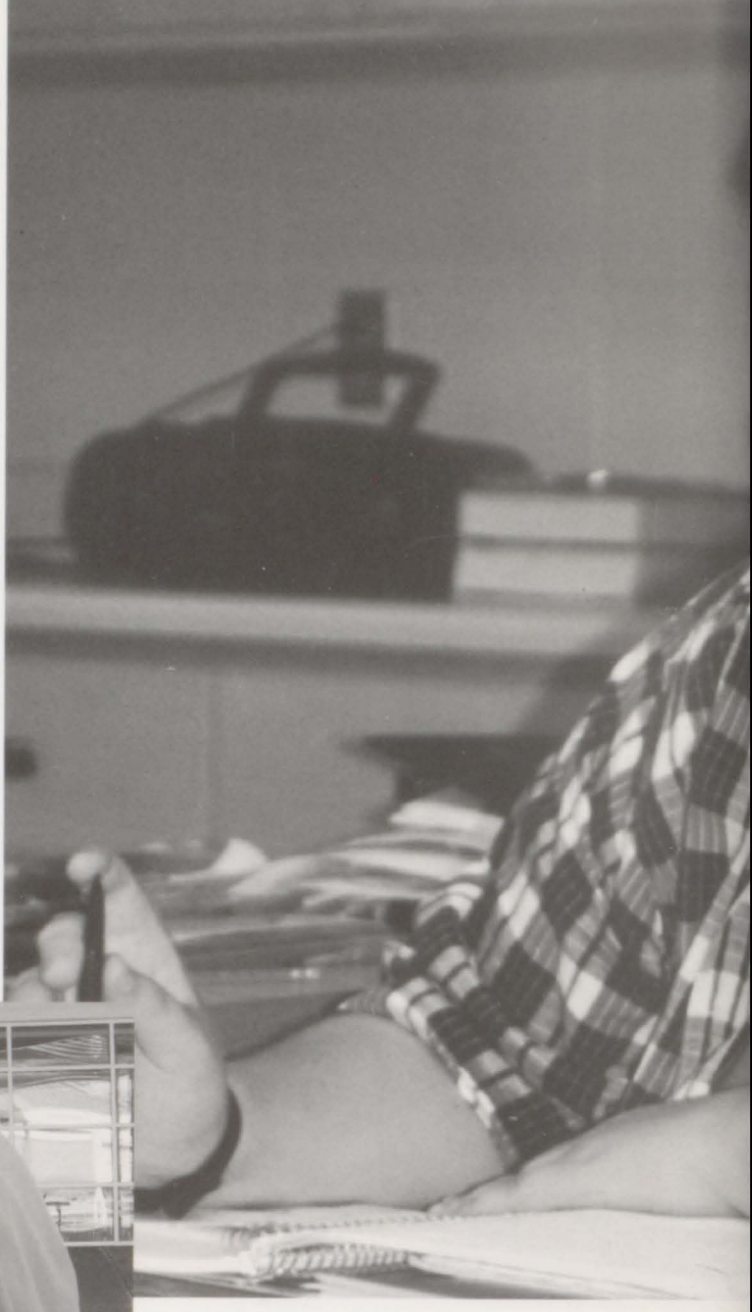

from every angle...

Michael Smith seems to have grasped the art of geometric angles. Algebra II is a tough subject for many students. As part of many academic classes, this extended algebra class has been tackled by many excellent students. Michael, being one of these intelligent few, seems to understand the angles and functions of Algebra II.

learning the art of angles??? Katie Hansen tries her best to understand geometry. Geometry is a tough course, but calculators always help.

Written Words

Like a lot of classes at Baldwin County High School, English comes with its share of work. Every student gets the opportunity to experience this through homework, term papers, and novels. Although many students find this to be a bit too much, English teachers try to make it as fun and interesting as possible. After all, this work is needed to teach us everyday skills and to give a boost to our creativity.

a real outdoorsman...

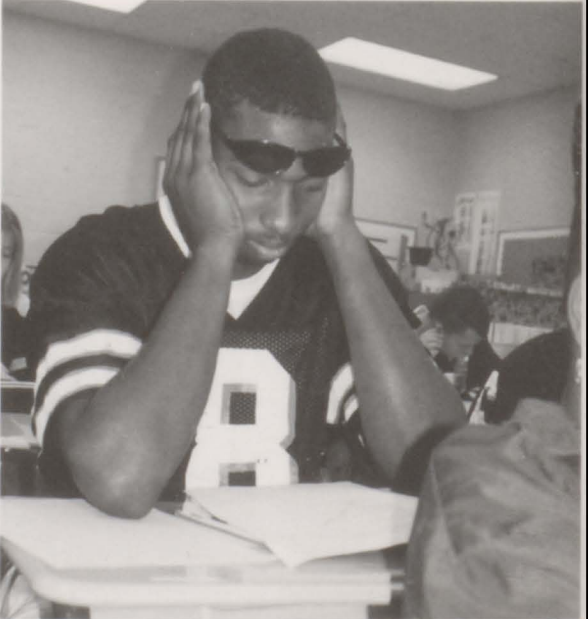

Zach Brown ventures outside with Mrs. Salamone's novel class to try to make his book, The Jungle, a little more interesting.

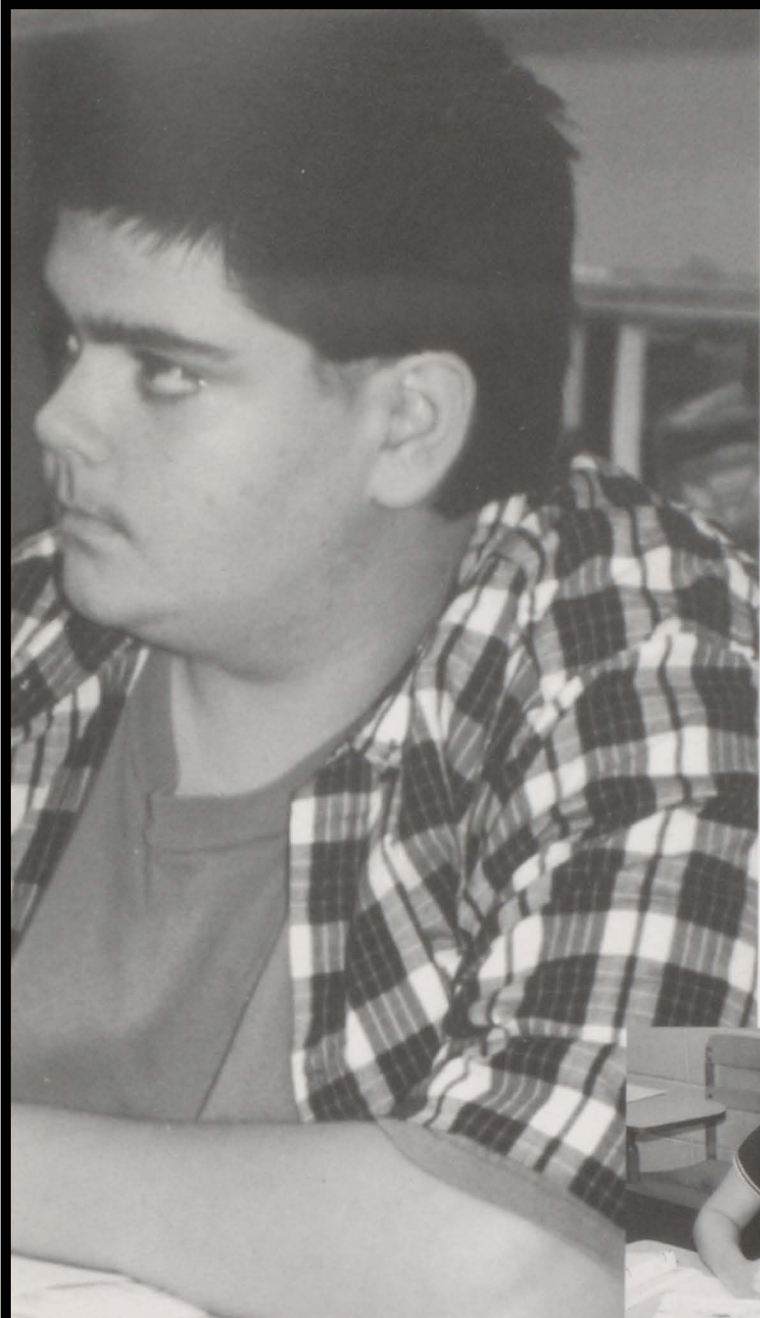

working hard?...Christopher Hastings, Jennifer Wasdin, and Jessica Davison work hard in this 9th grade English class.

how much longer?...

Alton Moore seems to think Mrs. Koepf is teaching something fun! Alton has really enjoyed English this year. Maybe it's because he is one of Mrs. Koepf's favorite students. Or maybe because he knows this is the last English class he will have to endure.

français & español!

Hablar español? or tu parle francais? Foreign language is one of the most popular electives at BCHS, and it has become a prerequisite for anyone wishing to pursue an advanced diploma. The sudden rush has caused a flood of students and large classes for Madame Land and Senora Stovall. These languages are both a lot of fun and very challenging. We can thank these two teachers for that.

can you repeat that?...

Chris Anderson looks confused in Mrs. Stovall's second period Spanish class. Learning a second language can often be a difficult task. No comprendos, amigo?

man, this is hard...

Allison Tillery toils over her difficult work for "Profe Stovall." Allison will have no problems though; she seems to understand Spanish quite well.

dead bread for all...

Nash Harris and Michael Smith show off their "Pan de Meurto" or dead bread at the Day of the Dead festivities. This celebration is practiced annually by Mrs. Stovall and her Spanish classes. This holiday is what most Americans call Halloween.

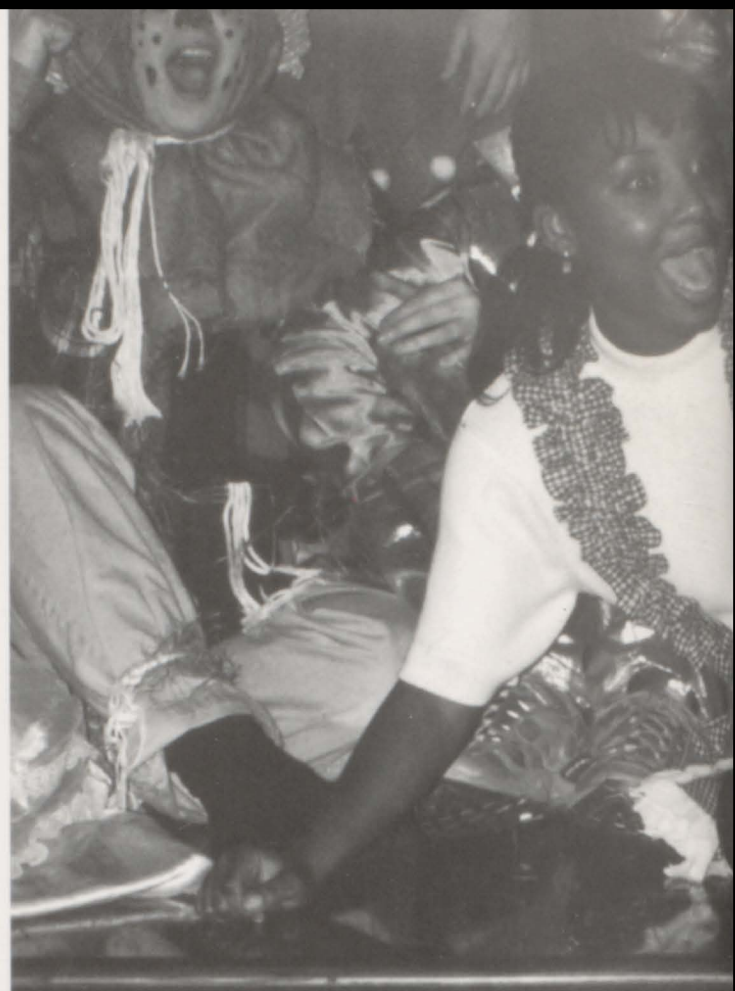

give me some help...TJ Pruitt and CJ Boilling help Mme. Land hang the French Christmas stockings.

playing for keeps

This year Drama Class was very busy first semester and put on a wonderful play at the Bay Minette Civic Center. There was a great turnout from parents and students at BCHS. The cast performed this production three times and each time was better than the last.

there's no place like home...

Anita Horace played Dorothy in the play The Wizard of Oz. Anita was one of the many stars discovered by way of the play.

matt, is that you???

Matt Thomas, Adrienne Williams, and Kenosha Graves played the rapping munchkins. Man, they sure can rapp.

pucker up... David Rhames and Tonya Blackburn prepare for a kiss.. David's dreams are about to come true.

say cheese... The evil monkeys, Cory Jeffers and Michael Smith, take a quick time-out for a picture.

saving the best

Even though the second term didn't put on a production, these students learned a lot from the many plays they performed in the classroom. They acquired many helpful hints that would help them in the future performances, whether it be on the job or in the movies.

confused...

Stephanie Ammons played a confused little girl in one play that Ms. Hudson's class put on this year.

nervous??? Jeni Greer looks a little apprehensive as she prepares for one of her many speeches required for Ms. Hudz's class.

swingin' 50's... Jeni Denton leads the way as Jamie McNeely follows.

looking pretty... Luke Nelson stands patiently as he has make-up put on. He is preparing for a skit in his second semester drama class.

driver's ed

Driver's ed is a very important course offered at BCHS, even though it is an optional class that many sophomores take advantage of in order to receive discounts on their insurance. Driver's ed not only helps students learn how to drive, but it also teaches them safety tips and cautious driving skills that will help and protect them throughout their lives.

ten and two ...

Tavis Jenkins practices the proper driver's ed hand positions on his weekly test drive.

simulator blues ...

James McCryndle experiences the challenges of an everyday driver while driving in the simulator.

watch the road ... Darick Hall finds it hard to pay attention to the road on this bright, sunny day.

ready to roll...

Debbie Kennedy unlocks the door to success. Learning to drive is scary in the beginning, but in the end, it is an enjoyable experience. I bet Debbie is glad to be out of the simulators into a real car. Every driver's ed student knows that passing the simulator is a vital key to earning the privilege of getting behind the wheel. The simulator provides an opportunity for students to drive "the road" without endangering themselves or others ... until they learn proper driving techniques.

SAVING LIVES

Health is a required class at Baldwin County High School. From CPR to the Heimlich maneuver, health students never encounter an un-useful topic. Many important, life-saving subjects are discussed that enable students to become aware of facts and issues that truly matter in the 90's.

study, study, study ...

Krystal Vilborg is studying her health. Every health student knows that in order to make an "A" one must study his or her book and complete the worksheets.

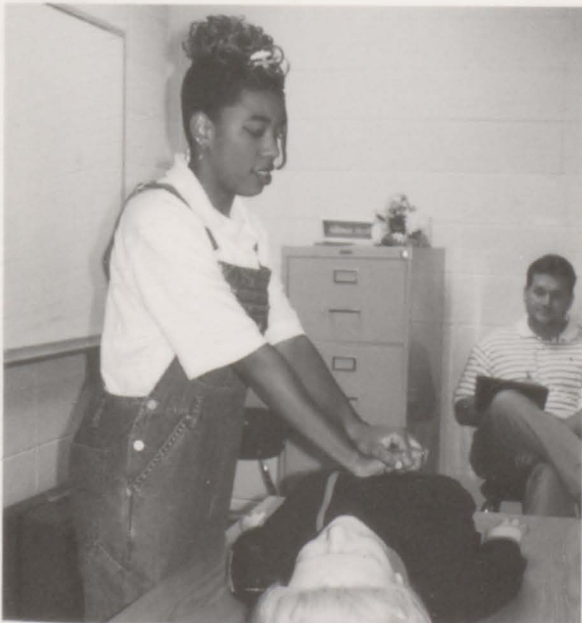

1,2,3,4 ...

Lasharon Bradley is learning the art of C.P.R. as Coach Kenamer looks on with a critical expression. Lasharon is in the compression stage of C.P.R. Knowing these stages is important for every student to know. They must know it, not only to pass the class, but to save a life. After passing the "hands on" learning, a student must pass a written test in order to complete the C.P.R. certification.

5, 6, 7, 8... Ben Mims is demonstrating the other part of the compression stage.

Whipping it up

Home economics is a class of lifelong learning. Students in this class learn the fundamental skills that will be carried along with them throughout their lives. Such skills as cooking, childcare, and sewing give the class a fun and exciting atmosphere. Many students learn skills that will help them live and work for the years to come in the world that awaits them.

a mother's touch...

Meneko Munnerlyn prepares for the future by taking care of this home-economics simulated baby for a week.

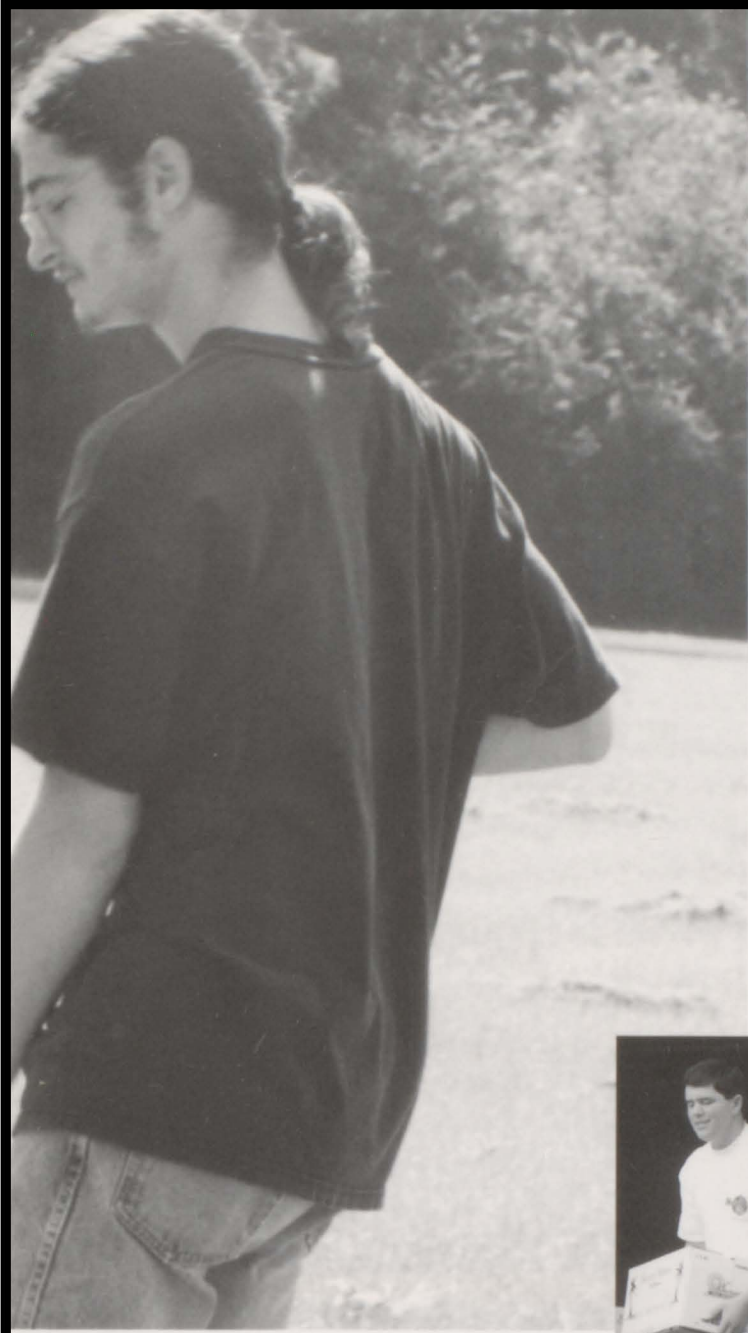

mr. bubbles... Gary Finch does all he can to help clean up the mess left after the home-ec class. Isn't he the model student?

wrapping it up...

Krystal Parker and Sarah Latulippe work hard in home economics. During Christmas, this class had extra fun decorating and getting into the holiday spirit. Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Goforth work well with their students to make sure they have the basic skills that they need in order to do simple tasks around their homes. It looks as if Krystal and Sarah know these skills.

farmer boys

Agriculture is a very important elective at Baldwin County High School. The Ag classes are involved in many activities including gardening, woodworking, planting, and even building. Not only is this class great for extended curriculum, but it gives students a chance to experience new fields and to plan their futures. In this class, "hands on" is THE motto to live by.

farmer wade?...

Wade Buckner is working hard under the hot sun during Ag class. He shows fellow students that working out will eventually pay off with a growing garden. Take all the farming tips that you can when someone like Wade is handing them out.

ugrhhh...

Jonathan Rider struggles to unload boxes of fruit while David Allen Tillery stands nearby watching. Hey, David! Maybe you might want to give Jonathan a hand over there.

he's the man...

Donald Killings shows his pearly whites while enjoying his agriculture class. Students in this class learn useful life skills while having tons of fun. As one can see, this class involves a lot of hands-on experience, the kind one needs in the career world. Many times this class can be seen outside, learning survival, farming, and construction skills that will aid them for the rest of their lifetimes, or at least they hope they will.

the cutting edge... John Stewart is hard at work while his supervisor, Wade Buckner, watches to make sure that measurements are precise.

bits and bytes

Computer and television production are very busy classes. In computer students learn how to make spreadsheets, databases, and a lot of other important skills to help students later in life. Television production students stay very busy producing many of the clips that are shown on Tiger T.V. Not only do students learn something, but they also have fun doing it!

deep thoughts...

Tom Hartner has to keep his mind focused on his computer work. Being a Computer II student has its advantages, but tons of work isn't one of them.

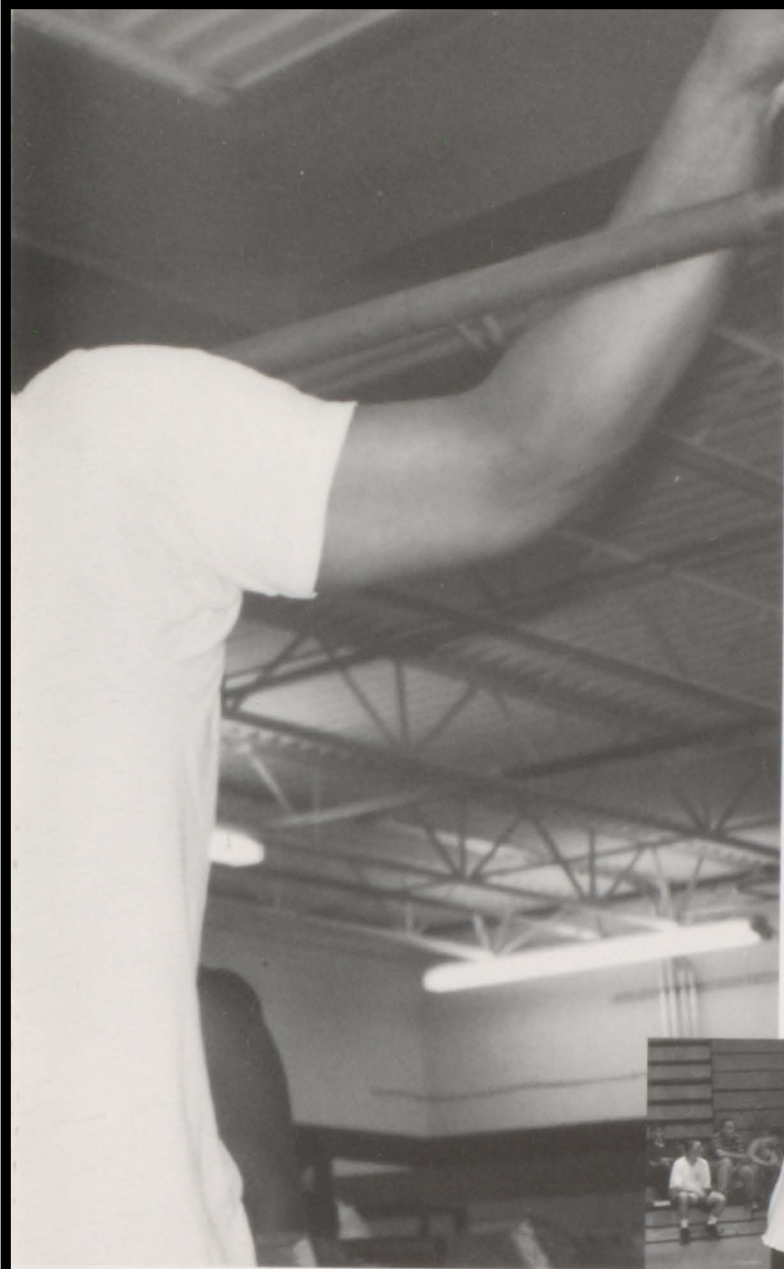

figure it out... Justin Taylor and Priscila Crowe look confused while working on the computer. Even though computers can come in handy, they can be real pains.

yeah we're editing...

Television production is definitely one of the fun classes students may take. A lot of students try to get into this class and then have to squeeze it into their busy schedules. Robbie Strom is one of these many students. I don't know about Robbie, but many students find that once they get into this class, it is a lot of fun. Like other classes, it has its share of homework.

organized play

Physical education / weight training is another privilege for Baldwin County High School students. P.E. gives students a break from their desks to exercise and to have a little fun and fresh air, too. Weight training lets students who are involved in sports build muscle and perform better. This can make a big difference to those involved.

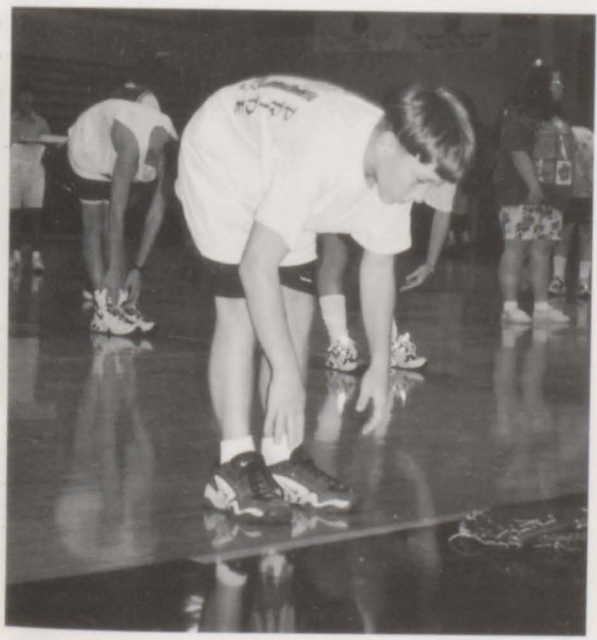

muscle man...

JoJo McCall works out hard to keep his "muscle man" image. If he keeps the work up, Coach Ford will make sure he is in perfect shape.

concentrate...

Josh Vinson doesn't seem to have a problem getting around Chad Emmons. It is all a part of playing a friendly game in P.E. That's what it's all about: "friendly."

head, shoulders, knees, and toes...

Stretching is important any time one plans to exercise. Every student knows that stretching is definitely a part of physical education. It is the same routine every day: line up for roll call, stretch, and get into groups for activities. Someone must have forgotten to tell J.P Shiver this. By the look of it, he doesn't enjoy the stretching part all too well.

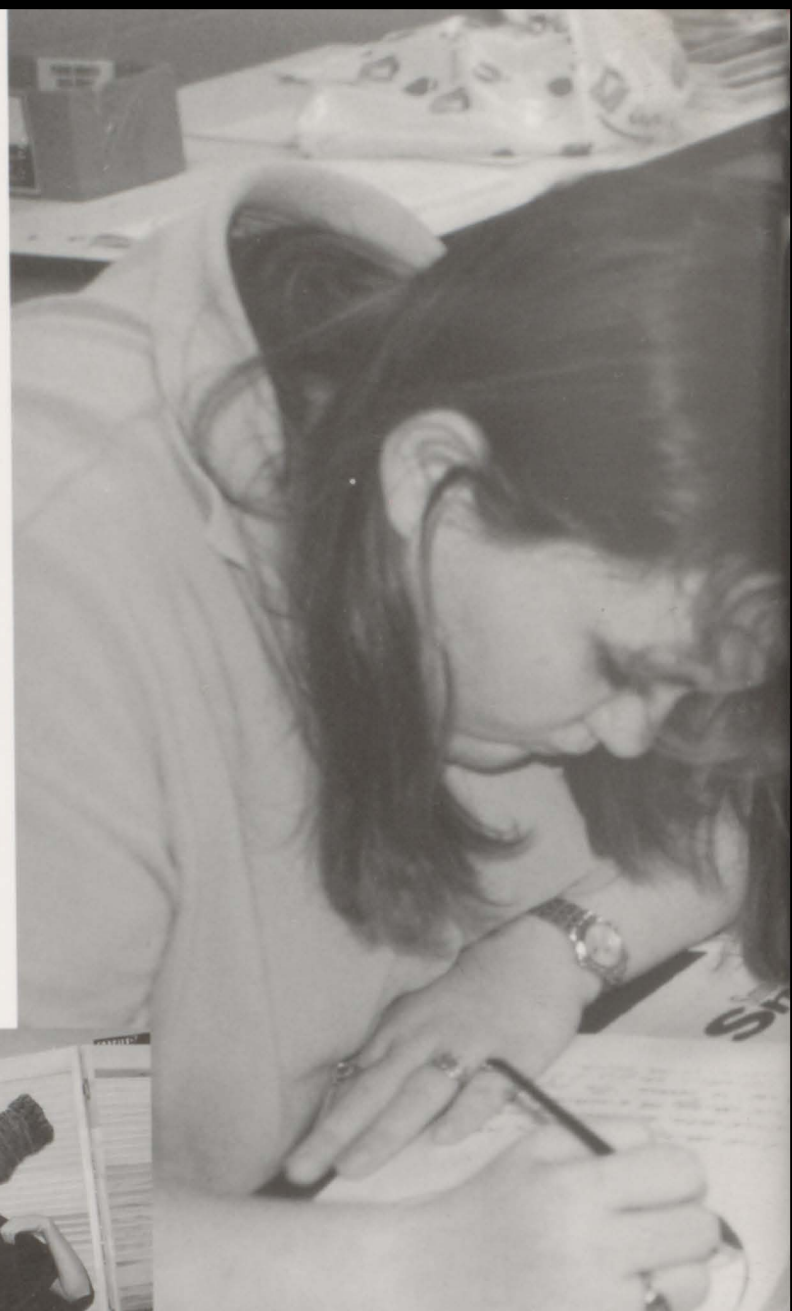

Latoya Baker is one of the many girls in weight training. She does not seem to have a problem pulling her load in this class.

testing our minds

The gifted education class is an advanced program for students who enjoy applying their intelligence. Many students go through school without living up to their capabilities. Gifted education classes give such students a chance to display their intelligence through research papers, independent studies, challenging puzzles, various projects, and participation on the Model United Nations Team.

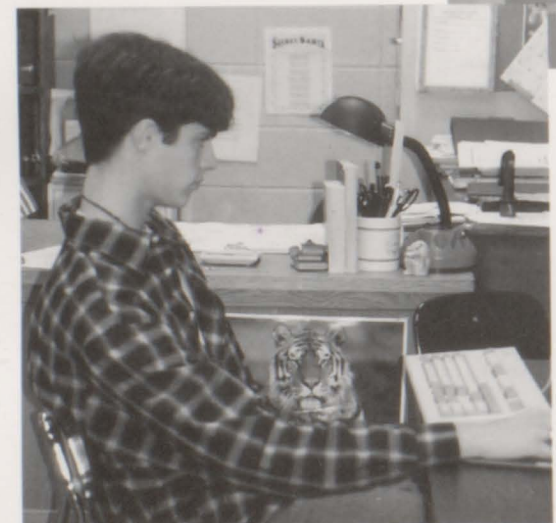

steady hands...

Crystal Smith and Stacey Stevens are concentrating very hard on their painting. Staying in the lines is hard enough, but trying to stay within the lines of a circle is even more difficult.

strike a pose...

Justin Yawn does a little bit of acting during his presentation. He hopes his costume and interpretation will pay off. Maybe Mrs. Marshall will give him an A.

Fent Taylor is concentrating very hard on his assignment, or is he just pretending for the camera?

stimulate your mind...

Emilie Denmark is putting her brain power to good use. She is using blocks to create something that is truly one of a kind. This is just one aspect of the challenging but rewarding class that entails many stimulating activities. Even though it involves a lot of extra work, gifted education is a fun class to be a part of. Emilie can tell you that.

drawing a blank

Art is a way for many students to show off their artistic abilities. Not only does art bring out people's hidden talents, but it allows for many students to let go and have a little fun. Students sometimes goof off a bit too much, but Mrs. Harris has turned many of these "goof offs" into talented artists. Just go by and look at the art board by the computer lab and see for yourself.

celebrating freedom...

11th graders, Chris Phillipy and Courtney Grimes, are showing off their stickers that Mrs. Harris gave them for finishing their exit exam. They must think they're special.

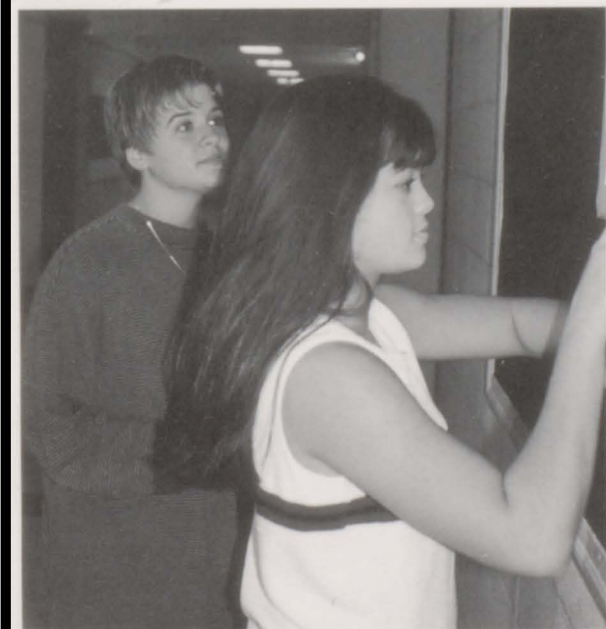

who did that?...

Jessica Durant is putting some art on the honor board by the computer lab. All art students love to have their art displayed there, because only the best work is put out for everyone to see. The honor board gives the school a chance to view the work of some of BCHS's finest. An important factor behind the success of the art program is Ms. Harris. She develops talent in every student she teaches.

free your mind... Robbie Strom gets away from all the noise to concentrate on his masterpiece. Go, Strom!

sing-along...

Wendy Powell and Jessica Holland always enjoy singing in the choir. The Baldwin County High School Choir has had many worthwhile performances. They show their school spirit by trying their best at competitions and other functions. All of their hard work has paid off. The BCHS Choir has won many awards and has received superior ratings.

oh, say can you see...

No one enjoys singing the National Anthem as much as Michelle Bryars, Bridgette Hicks, Tabatha Cole, and Melissa Grimard. The National Anthem is one song that can always be heard at BCHS.

do-re-mi-fa-so-la-ti-da... Kelly Wilson sings her heart out at the National Honor Society Induction. This is one of many special occasions at which the chorus performs. Baldwin County High School students have enjoyed their voices for years at pep rallies, special assemblies, and chorus concerts.

nice and neat...

Brad Higgins folds the flag after he and his partner lower it and retrieve it from the pole. This was a daily routine for members of ROTC. Whether rain, sleet, snow, or hail, the members were always there to take in the flag.

present arms...

These four ROTC members show their school spirit by presenting the flags. At every school function the ROTC presents the arms just before the National Anthem. Not only is their school spirit shown, but also the pride they feel for our country.

standing proud... Jimmy Waldrop, Jeremy Washington, Crystal Taylor, Nick Vinson, and Michael Buckley stand proud, for they have all exhibited great leadership ability. ROTC is all about learning the responsibilities of leadership. There are many aspects of learning that ROTC covers.

melting down

grinding away... Robin Jackson grinds down a piece of metal in his welding class. Robin knows he will be able to use welding later in life.

WOW... B. J. Tolbert looks on as a classmate finishes a BBQ grill. Welding looks simple, but these guys will tell you differently. Mr. Kane teaches this lesson well.

finishing touches... These guys learn quickly that teamwork is the key to successfully completing any task, including their welding project.

Honnea Vines, what is the one thing you enjoy the most about welding? "All the Metal Art Welding."

p.m. welding Billy Williams, Richard Anderson, Rebecca Lambeth, Brian Tuberville, Rosalyn Gaines, Robin Jackson and Thomas Ardis.

a.m. welding Don Presley, Bruce Jackson, B.J. Tolbert, Pete Joiner, Honnea Vines, Richard Brooks, and Joe McLendon.

playtime is over... Sherry Bryars takes time out to smile as she finishes her day at child care.

whoa...NBCT students take time out to go for a swing.

chalk it up... Ann Williams works hard to create an activity to entertain the children.

Learning kids

Kelly Wilson,
what did you enjoy the most about child care?
 "Working with the kids and teaching them new things."

p.m. child care Wendy Powell, Maria Mix, Ann Williams, Makresia James, Sherri Clinton, Candice Trotter, April Clary, and Sherry Bryars a.m. child care: Valerie Driver, Kelly Palmer, Jamin Collins, April Byrd, and April Snowden.

advertising smarts strike a pose... Nicole Akins strikes a pose with a mannequin during a break in marketing class. These students must learn different things about fashion.

computer craze... Beth Donald uses the computer to help out her computer skills in running a business one day. Computers also help in learning how to run a high-tech cash register.

time out... Cliff Lawson takes a minute to relax. Mrs. Conner's class can be very demanding. He works hard at everything he does and does it well.

Dara Sellers What makes your marketing class so fun? "Learning to communicate with so many different people and learning new things."

tippety tap... Heather Bush practices on a cash register to help out her skills in her marketing class. Heather will definitely use them in the future.

a.m. marketing... Heather Bush, Dara Sellers, Nicole Akins, Beth Donald, Sherri Boyington, Cliff Lawson nice suit...Kendall Quinley and Ashley Vanlandingham dress and put the marketing mannequin together. The marketing students use many learning tools to help them in class such as the cash register and mannequins.

give me that smile... Amber Livingston gives the camera her best smile. Amber can always be seen with a smile on her face. How can you not smile in marketing class while having this much fun?

marketing p.m. Monica Helms, Marie Rider, Amber Livingston, Kendall Quinley, Mandy Kleinatland, Camey Byrd, and Ashley Vanlandingham.

this is to hard ... Camey Byrd looks as if she is having a little trouble with her test. Marketing can often be a little confusing because of some of the difficult concepts this class teaches.

building it

P.M. carpentry: Bobby Stevens, Jason Dulaney, Sean Shamburger, Bill Taylor, Billy Hadley, and Ben Allen

Sean Shamburger, what do you enjoy about Carpentry? "I enjoy working with the tools and working with my hands!"

Roy Mitchell and Peter Stevens take time out to pose for the camera, even though they stay very busy in carpentry, which can be very hard work at times.

aspiring doctors

Health Care P.M. Donna Brown, Cargetta Smith, Kylie Brown, Bettina Newman, Ashley Johnson, Joie Vickery, Max Mahathy

Donna Brown
Why did you choose to take Health Care? "I love working with people and blood drives."

What We play

The 1997-98 B.C.H.S. Athletic Program started its season with volleyball and football. The Lady Tigers played hard and had some big county wins. The football team's season was highlighted by a playoff appearance in Montgomery. Winter sports fans were dazzled by the Lady Tiger Basketball Team and its "Elite Eight" state ranking. Spring sports also had a very strong season. So here are the 1997-98 Baldwin County High School athletes ... from every angle .

first and goal!

sports

The Baldwin County High School Tigers were successful yet again. The Tigers had big wins over the Foley Lions and the Daphne Trojans, two big area rivals. Who can forget the excitement of the Area IV 6A State playoffs at Montgomery's Crampton Bowl? All of the hard spring and summer practices and some major coaching changes made it an excellent season. The future looks even brighter for the Tigers, who had a lot of underclassmen starting on the varsity team.

come on!! Paul Davis takes a breather before going back in. Even the toughest guys need a break.

half time chat... The football players listen as Coach Ford explains what they have done right and wrong in the first half. The team appreciates the constructive criticism.

touchdown!!! Fred Watson holds off the Atmore defenders as Tom Hartner plunges across the goal line. BCHS wins by 13!

get physical!

fumblyaya... Reggie Gaines scrambles for a Blue Devil fumble. No one stands in his way.

junior varsity tigers

Every fall freshmen guys take to the gridiron and prepare for the eventual spot on the varsity team. With a lot of exciting county matchups, the guys need extra support. That is where the J.V. Cheerleaders come in. After meeting many requirements, tryouts for the squad are held, and the best, most spirit-filled members are chosen. The team's dedication, along with these girls' ongoing support, makes the J.V. Tigers a winning combination.

The Varsity Baseball Team has had an outstanding season this year. From amazing victories to bittersweet defeats, these players are blossoming into a very conditioned team. The Tigers are not only learning the rules of the game, but they are also learning how to work well as a team. It takes teamwork to make a team successful. The Tiger team has learned how to master this concept and show it in their games. Under the coaching of Coach Wright, our Tigers have maintained their reputation of being the BEST!! Each player on the team comes out with a sense of pride that he will remember for many years after his playing days are over!

The Girls' Varsity Softball Team had an amazing season this year as they made their way to the State Playoffs. Not only did the girls work hard for their victories, but they also had fun and grew close as a team. Their accomplishments would not have been achieved without the great coaching of Metta Roberts. She emphasized to the team good sportsmanship, faith in teammates, hard work, and never giving up. Coach Roberts is losing a tremendous amount of talent in seniors Tasha Burt, Rebecca Cottrell, Michelle Davison, Kenosha Graves, and Jamie McMillan, but her returning players are ready to take up the slack.

As one of the various sports offered at BCHS, golf is enjoyed by girls and guys alike. Even though golf isn't as familiar to us as other sports are, it doesn't mean it is any less important. Many students look at golf as a way of escaping the harshness of school life, relaxing, and enjoying something they're good at. Not only does golf give students a chance to do something they enjoy, but it also gives them a chance to get involved in an extracurricular activity. As part of the Golf Team, students learn valuable skills such as patience and humility. Just ask Tiger Woods!

Baldwin County High School has become a big contender for county track meets. In the past, Baldwin County High has been overshadowed by other county foes, but those days are over. The Tigers' Varsity program did great while the freshman team was unstoppable; five team members captured state honors. What these runners, hurdlers, jumpers, and throwers must keep in mind during the long, repetitive practices is that their individual victories add up to team scores. The better the individual does, the better the team total is. Teamwork counts here!!!

The Baldwin County High School Cross Country Team is making great strides toward success. The Cross Country program at BCHS has been around only for two years now, but it is already making its presence known within the county. Our runners possess a discipline much different from that of a team sport such as football or basketball. These athletes can measure their success only against their watches. Improved times mean improved team standings. Hills and rugged terrain add to the difficulty of this sport, not to mention heat and rain. These runners are to be commended for their dedication to this relatively new sport at BCHS.

makin' music

As a leader of spirit at pep rallies and football games, the band is a very important asset to our school. Its cheery sounds and great enthusiasm always get the Tigers in the mood for victories. As a faithful and loyal supporter at the football games, the marching band fades from the field and into the second term melodious sounds of the concert season. To be a member of the BCHS band, one must be willing to attend band camp (a week of long hours in the hot sun) and also must be dedicated and willing to work. Being in the band is indeed hard work, but the rewards for the work are many.

performing.... Jarrod Murray doesn't even flinch when he performs before the student body.

toot your horn... Nick Jeffers, Brian Aaron, and Jeremy Andrews perform at the Christmas Concert .

march to the tune.... All the band members march in the Homecoming Parade. The band performs not only for the school but also for the public.

dancing feet

The Flag Corps and Tigerettes, under the direction of Margaret Roley, became "groovy" this year as they flashed back to the 70's during the half-time show with tie-dyed flags and go-go boots. Both groups also received top ratings in competition which proves how much hard work and dedication the girls put into their show.

don't break a leg ... Apparently Christy Johnson took the saying literally. Several Tigerettes suffered service-related ailments this year.

Through their time together the Tigerettes have grown into a close-knit group that enjoys spending time together during various events.

practice makes perfect ... Molly Jones along with the rest of the flag corp spent countless hours preparing for their shows.

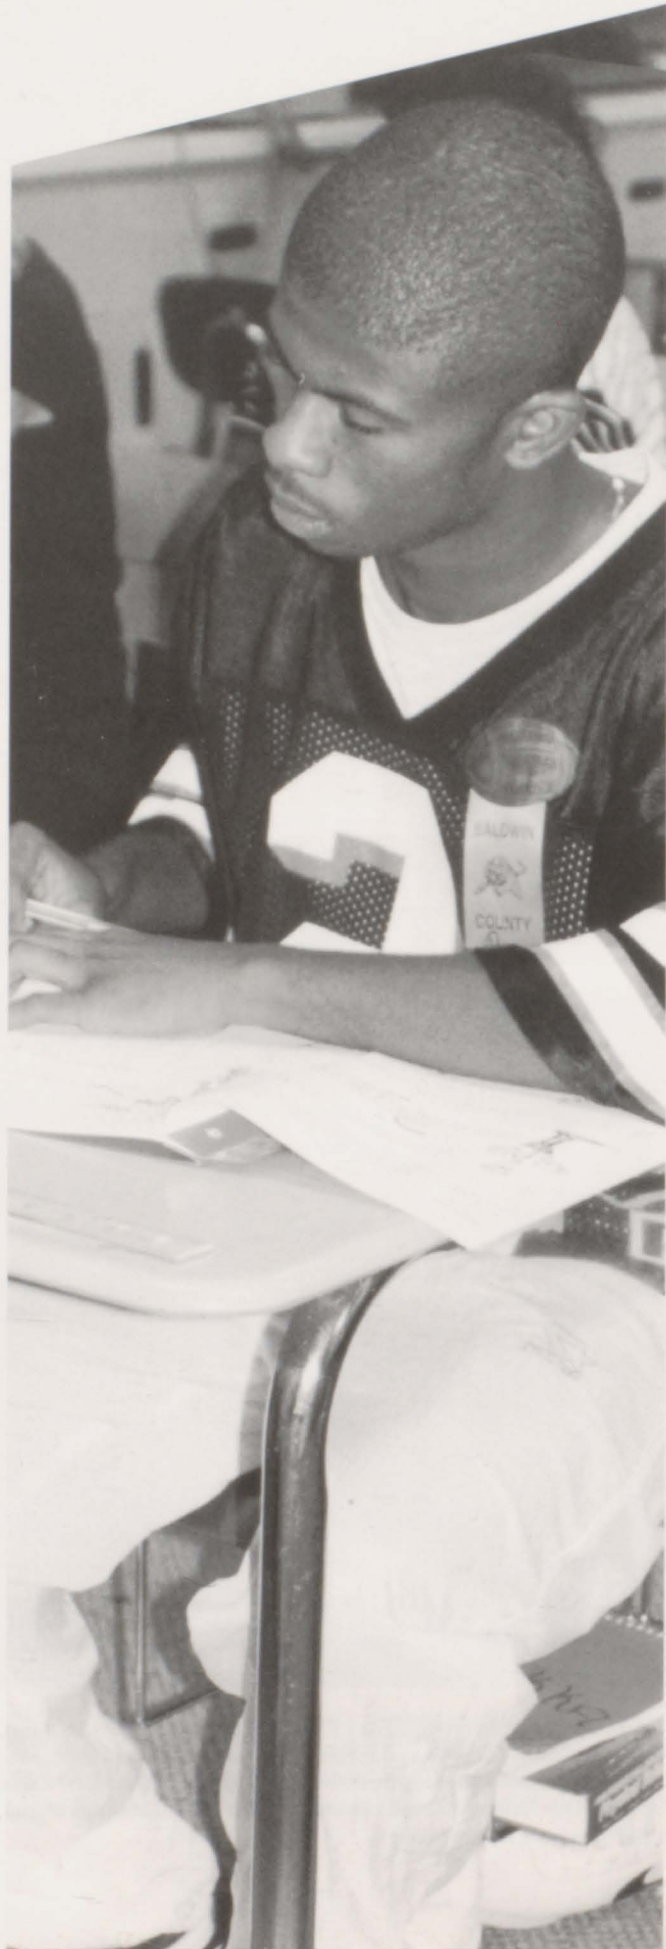

Color Guard - Left to Right : Back Row : Miranda Powell, Tiffany Roberson, Dana Owens, Molly Jones, Tabatha Johnson, Lauren Geddie, Brandy Shiver, Miranda Daniel, Crystal Allen. 2nd Row : Melanie Parker, Jamie Smith, Theresa Gilbert, Jessica Goins, Laura Aaron, Jessica Hasting, Sarah Boyington, Shiloh Gross. Third Row : Emily Wood, Claire Coleman, Carolyn Gambrel, Katie Sedberry, Shandra January, Heather Tolbert, Mareppy Myrick, Brianna Fowler. Front Row : Katie Averitt, Beth Glasgow, Amber Corley.

What was the most embarrassing moment of your two years on the flag corp?

"The first football game when we all had to tease our hair."

-Melanie Parker, 11th

countless faces

Sir Thomas Browne says "It is the common wonder of all men, how among so many millions of faces, there should be none alike." This is definitely true among the 1250 students currently enrolled at BCCHS. We are all developing our own styles, personalities, and fashions (after all, that's what high school is for, RIGHT?). So here we are, the "faces" of Baldwin County High School ... from every angle.

Cassandra Davis is your average, optimistic, and outgoing sixteen-year-old who loves to watch movies and collect beanie babies in spite of being homebound at times. For the past two years Cassandra has taken up the hobby of beading necklaces. Along with a few friends, she also enjoys going to Mobile to shop and watch movies. Recently, on March 16, 1998, Cassandra returned to school for driver's ed. She plans to obtain her license after completing driver's ed; she has a Neon coupe waiting for her. Next fall Cassandra plans to come back full time; she is really looking forward to O.C. class!

The ninth graders started the year, as usual, nervous but eager to be a part of BCHS. It didn't take them long to figure out where they had to be and when they had to be there. It took them even less time to figure out how much fun they could have screaming their lungs out at the pep rallies held in the gym before football games. And the spirit yell thing. They finally caught on to this, and boy did they do well!

In class, freshmen became accustomed to the block schedule. Who could imagine SITTING STILL for 96 minutes at a time???

Homecoming was an exciting time for these freshmen as they constructed their first homecoming float for the parade. They learned at this time that being organized was the most important float-building aspect.

Being a freshman is difficult at best, but one thing is for sure: it surely beats being an eighth grader at the Middle School! Life at BCHS gets better and better for these kids as soon as they learn the ropes!

get along gang......a group of freshmen gather at their "official" spot. Most groups pick out their territory and stick with it all year long. Many groups have been known to "stay" in their spot for all four years.

The Sophomore Class can be described in one word: "sangfroid," or calm, says Class President Jennifer Davison. The theme of the sophomore float came from the movie Dante's Peak, but the class titled the float "Pride Peak." Under the sponsorship of Ms. Cassady the sophomores have a successful year. Many sophomores went the extra mile to help work on the Homecoming float. Brent Jones, Misty Franklin, Nick Griffin, and Jonathan Jones all contributed time and ideas for a successful float. The Sophomore Class accomplished many achievements this past year, including the spirited class support during pep rallies. The Sophomore Class loves to spend time with fellow classmates, including going to the beach, going shopping, hanging out at parties, or just spending some TLC with that special someone.

"Spirited" is the one word used by Junior Class President Kiley Kolb to describe the Junior Class. The class was brought closer together throughout the year via events and activities. The juniors won second place for their Homecoming float, "Tigers of Oz." They also raised over $10,000 in magazine sales, and they sold Prom shirts for the Prom. Many classmates, sponsors, and parents assisted the Junior Class in these activities. Juniors Rachael Knight, Kelly Godbey, and John Cox did an exemplary job in helping with Prom and Homecoming. Whether partying at Buck Point and Live Oak or just hanging out at someone's house, the only thing that really matters to this class is being with their friends. The juniors have one more year to enjoy many more memorable experiences with each other before all the hustle and bustle of graduation and life after high school. For now they are enjoying the easy lives juniors have....

shaping minds

we have lives, too... Our faculty at BCHS is as diverse as our students are. Each teacher has his or her own interests outside of school. For instance, Mrs. Steedley is equally at home in her classic suit (complete with her Nikes) as she is in her camouflage hunting gear. Mr. Blackmon preaches when he's not "preaching" to his students here at school. Mr. Hartner and Coach Koziol would gladly hit the greens when they're not busy earning the green stuff here at work. Ms. Carpenter keeps her eyes on her baked goods here but keeps her eyes open for the obscure jubilee on the shores of the bay by her home. Teachers are masters at juggling their professional lives with their outside lives.

perfect picks

fab fashion... Jonathan Melton says you can put the school in the cowboy, but you can't take the cowboy out of school. Michelle Levesque and Seth Crenshaw can make a laid back style look put "together." Stacie Russell shows off her unique taste in jewelry. Zack Kilcreas shows how bell bottoms have come back in a BIG way.

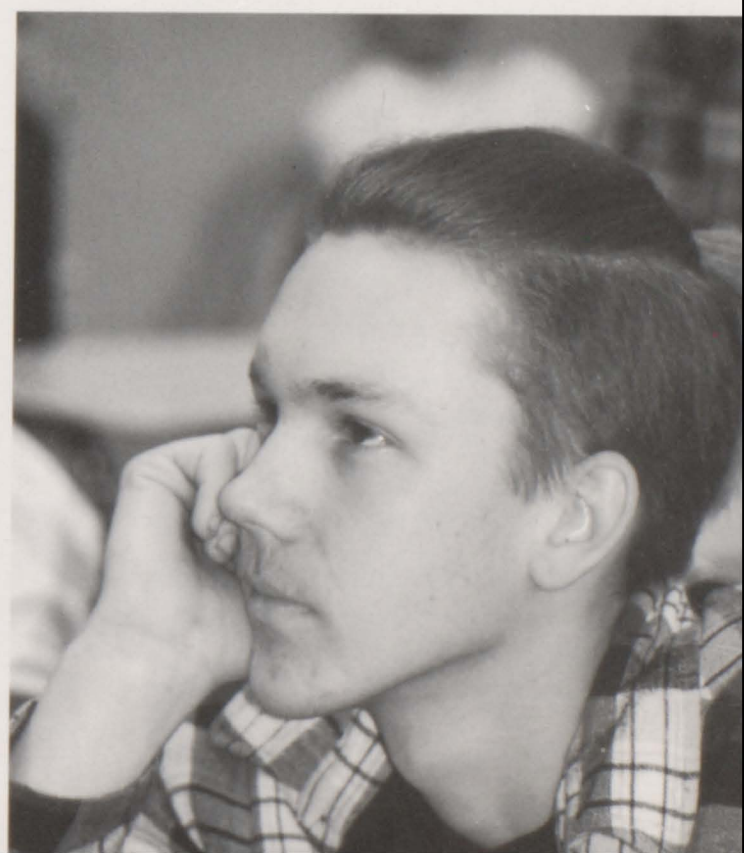

different strokes for different folks... Kristy Coleman and James McCryndel wear hair do's that change from day to day. Wes Boyett shows off his casual style by sporting his Oakleys and a baseball hat. Claire Coleman's got it going on with her upbeat style. Greg Butler's smile makes any outfit look perfect.

dressing to impress... Baggy jeans are one of the styles that are worn by many different people. Jennifer Davidson sports a totally trendy look. If your style is sporty, then you'll like the warm-up shirts.

stylin!!! Sara Tanner dresses to thrill. A plain white shirt can look glam with a cute little skirt. Brian Holland shows how versatile long hair can be by wearing it up and down. Cynthia Bradley shows her outgoing style through her outrageous hair styles. Chris Harville is known for sporting his favorite team.

seniors rule

The Class of '98 is composed of 295 students. We are a varied, highly original group of incoming adults. We have seen the fall of the "iron curtain," a very short war with Iraq, the return of Hong Kong to China, and the trial of a scandalous President. These are the times through which we have reached adulthood. Now, here we are, the Class of nineteen-hundred and ninety-eight ... from every angle.

senior spirit ... The senior class has always been known for their antics at the pep rallies. Without them, it wouldn't be nearly as interesting.

scary tactics ... Joe Daw, elected by the senior class as the male with the most school spirit, is always easy to spot at pep rallies. He always manages to invent a new way to boost morale and scare the opposition.

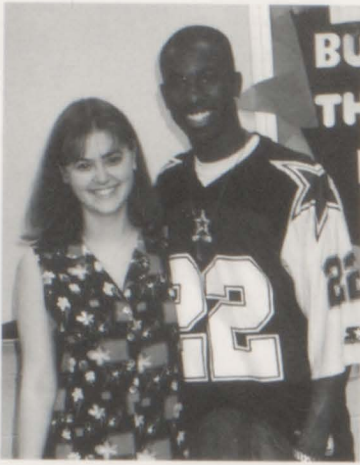

Mr. & Miss BCHS

Will Cabaniss was voted Mr. BCHS by his fellow classmates at the Senior Breakfast in April. Will is very active at BCHS and in his community. He is a representative of the Ambassador's Belles and Beaux, a member of National Honor Society, and he is president of Key Club. Through yearbook and soccer, Will shows his outstanding talents and determination. Will represented BCHS at Boys' State in eleventh grade and received the Kimberly Clarke Scholarship upon graduation.. He plans to attend Auburn University where he will major in engineering.

On April 17, 1998, Susan Thompson was awarded Miss BCHS at the Second Annual Senior Breakfast. Along with being Class President and treasurer of National Honor Society, Susan is also a Key Club Favorite, a member of the Tiger T.V. Staff, the Spanish Club, the American Technology Honor Society, and the Varsity Scholars' Bowl. Susan is involved in tennis and the dance line. A very busy student at BCHS, Susan also is an active member of the First Baptist Church. She plans to attend Troy State University on a Chancellor's Scholarship where she will major in accounting.

Made in Heaven

good things come in time!!! The 1998 Junior-Senior Prom took forever to get here, and it was gone in a flash. For weeks, couples debated about where they would go to eat before the dance and where they would go after the dance. The fancy do's, manicured nails, tuxedos, and fresh haircuts transformed reckless girls into ladies and restless boys into gentlemen. Then, as usual, after lead-ins, most couples began to slip away from this most formal of atmospheres where they changed into their cut-offs, ditched their bow ties and corsages, and HEADED TO THE BEACH for the REAL FUN!!!

the perfect pair...

Tocarra Castile and Travis Brown rest before returning to the dance floor. What an awesome couple they are!

up close and personal...

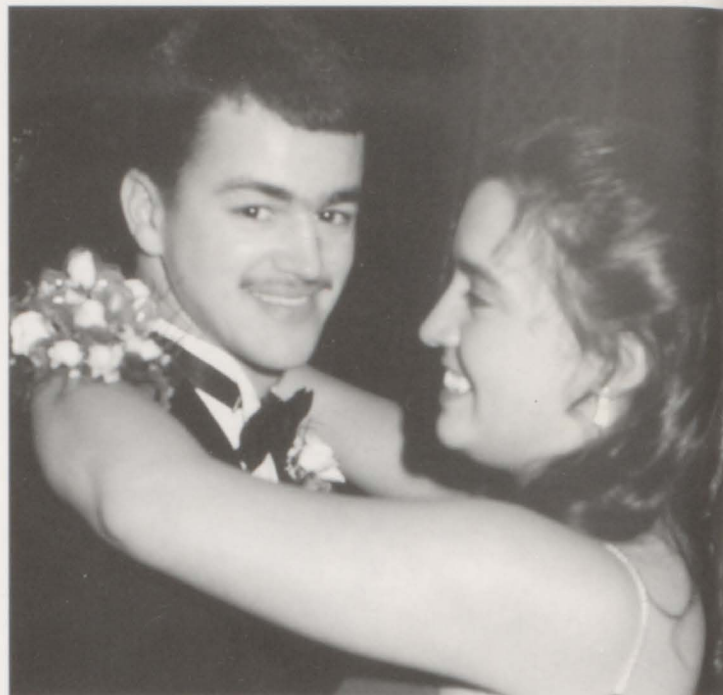

Erica Broughton is obviously swept off her feet by her date.

posing perfect...

Chris Anderson and Carough Ann Hobrock say cheese to the camera before heading off to the prom.

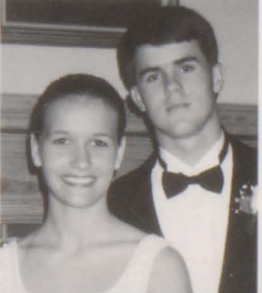

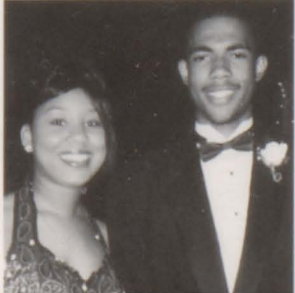

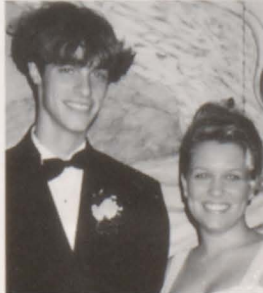

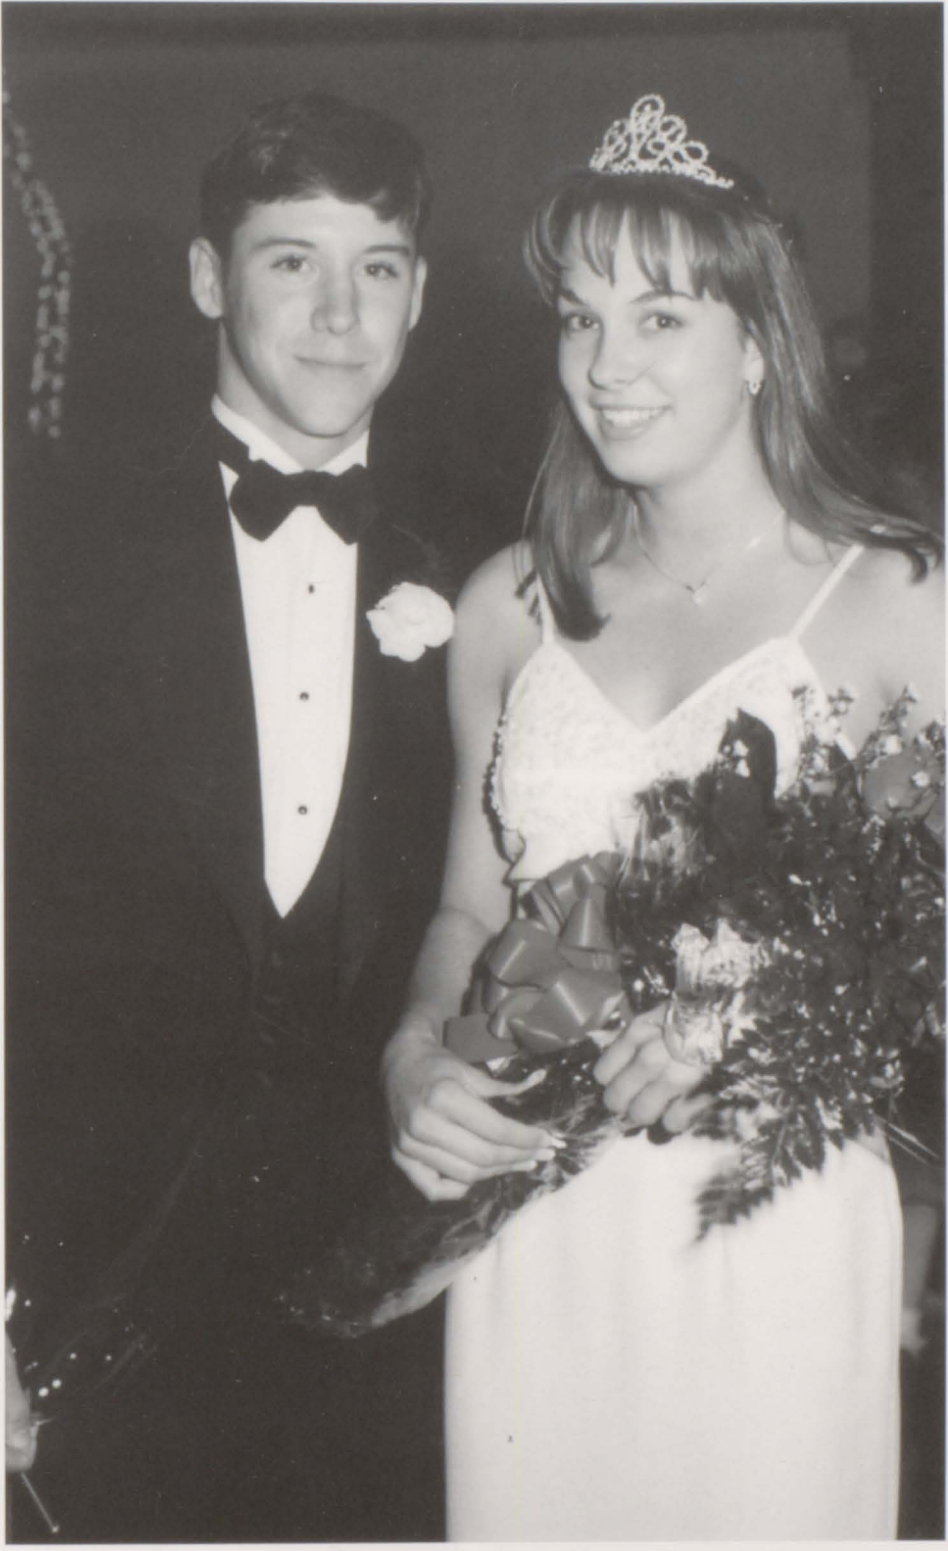

get a little closer... Kevin Emmons and Ashley Howell get close-up at the Prom. Dancing has been a long time tradition for couples at the Junior-Senior Prom.

drink up... James Goodley takes advantage of the refreshments provided by Stagecoach. The Junior Class did an excellent job decorating the Bay Minette Civic Center and in making the Prom a success.

Prom King and Queen
Tom Hartner and Dusty Franklin

senior week

proud to be a senior..

Veronica, Lashonda, Sherry, Adrienne, Shee, Nikki, and Pateasa live life at BCHS to the fullest. They like being seniors, and they like letting everyone else know they are!!!!

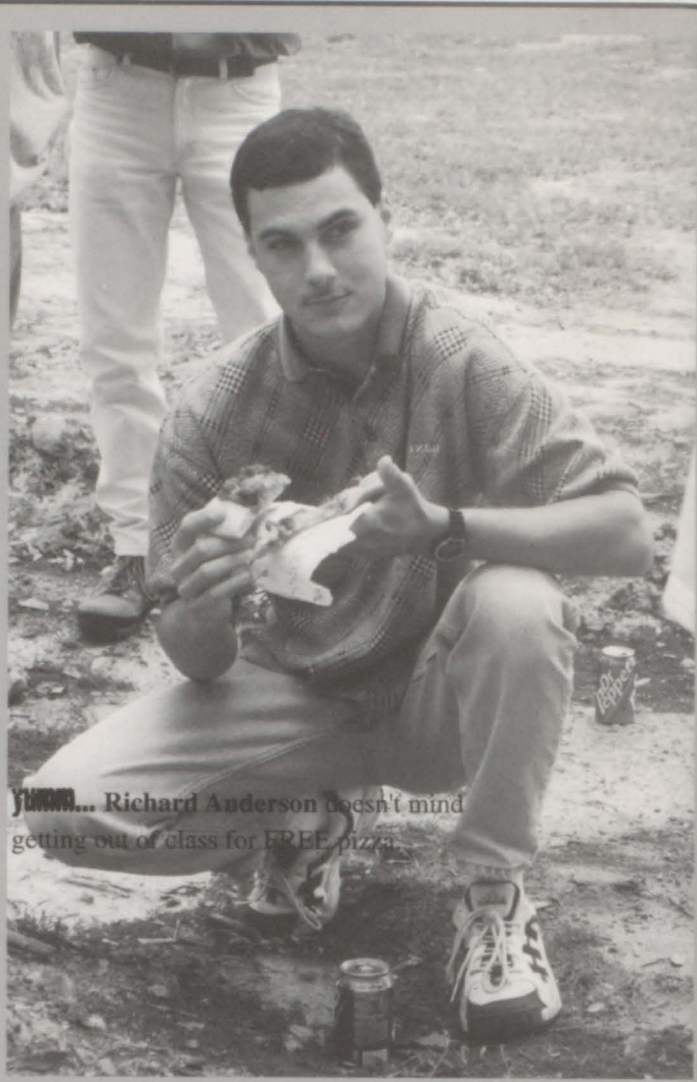

you wished you had some...

Jessica Etheridge, Rebecca Cottrell, and Natasha Burt make sure everyone sees them eating pizza, especially younger classmates. They want to make sure to rub in and show their special advantages of being a senior.

yummm... Richard Anderson doesn't mind getting out of class for FREE pizza.

yes, we are seniors...

Cordell Campbell and Devin Crawford take advantage of senior privileges during Senior Week (Hats are usually not allowed....)

hey wait a minute ...

Carl Jones informs us that he's a soon-to-be graduate of BCHS and that he will miss this place more than life itself!!!! He also informs us that there is nobody around that could fill his shoes and that we will have to try hard to get along without him.

check us out!!!

These seniors are proud of their senior shirts. They have worked hard for the right to wear them.

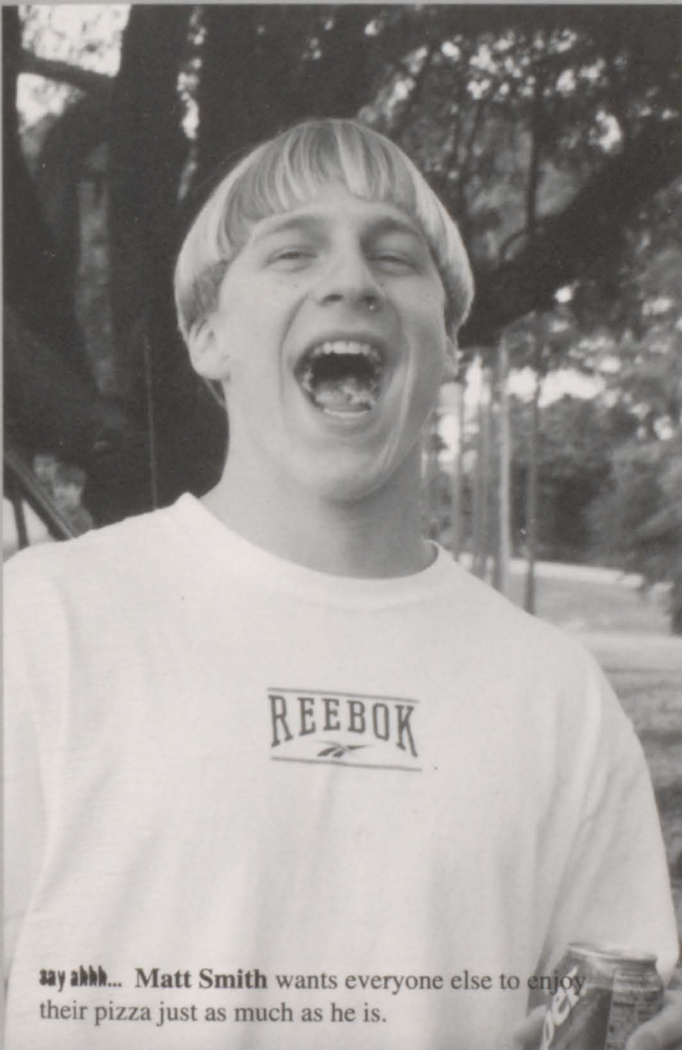

is this crazy or what???

Jennifer Lyles and Tonya Blackburn have been waiting all year to be able to show off their hats and socks.

i'm finally here..Kiley Brown has been waiting in line to get into the Senior Breakfast. She waits patiently to be checked off the long list of students. Senior Breakfast has become a tradition during which Who's Who awards are presented to deserving seniors, and parents get to watch!

say abhh... Matt Smith wants everyone else to enjoy their pizza just as much as he is.

Monday: crazy dress up day
 Tuesday: hat and sock day
 Wednesday: senior supplies
 Thursday: senior shirt day
 Friday: senior picnic

it's bedtime..

Monique Barnes wears her PJ's to school on Senior Dress Up Day, or is she sleep walking and doesn't realize that she is at school?

i'm hungry...

Amanda Benton can't wait to sit down to begin to start eating her breakfast. She knows it's always the last who gets the hash....

five bathing beauties... Jamie, Tonya, Michelle, Amity, and Leanne will soon be graduates, and they won't have to pretend to be wearing their bikinis at the beach. THEY'LL BE THERE FOR REAL!

SUPER SENIORS

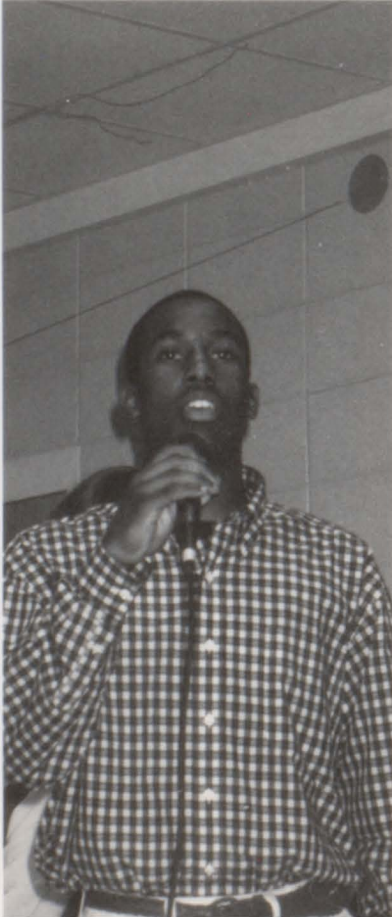

The Graduating Class of 1998 has an outstanding variety of talented seniors. From roping to modeling, our seniors truly have a gift. Here at BCHS we feel that everyone should be rewarded for things they are good at. Many students are involved in other activities and hobbies outside of school, and we recognize this fact. Only a few of our talented seniors are mentioned; it's hard to distinguish all the amazing talents our students have. It's nice to know that so many seniors have such bright futures.

rodeo ga???? Who would have thought Dusty Franklin, voted Prom Queen and Best All Around Senior, would be a horse ridin' cowgirl....

blackmon vs. the bull...These bulls seem to have met their match!!!

i'm coming, apollo!!! Cordell Campbell won an invitation to sing there this summer! Go, guy!!!

practice makes perfect... Jeanne Lee McMillan has mastered the art of playing the piano. Could the fact that she has played this instrument for most of her life have something to do with this???? All the hours she has spent practicing have paid off, though. She played the piano in the Junior Miss Pageant and won a spot as a finalist!!!

winning smiles... Winner of Junior Miss, Tiffani Little, and runners up Jeanne Lee McMillan, Emilie Denmark, Susan Thompson, Amity Rider, and Brannan Pedersen make a splash at the Junior Miss Pageant.

Rah, Rah, Rah... Sarah Foster will join her sister Rachel, as a cheerleader at Graceland College this fall. Both girls were highly successful at cheering in high school.

southern living... Amity Rider, Nick Jeffers, Anita Horace, Shawn Irwin, Will Cabaniss, Susan Thompson, Brent Powell, and Brannan Pedersen all represent BCHS as the Baldwin County Belles and Beaux.

she's got the look... Ashley Vanlandingham definitely has the model look. She made her debut at the Elite 1998 Model Search. Way to go, Ashley!

karate man... Chris Smith is one man NOT to make angry. His hands are weapons!

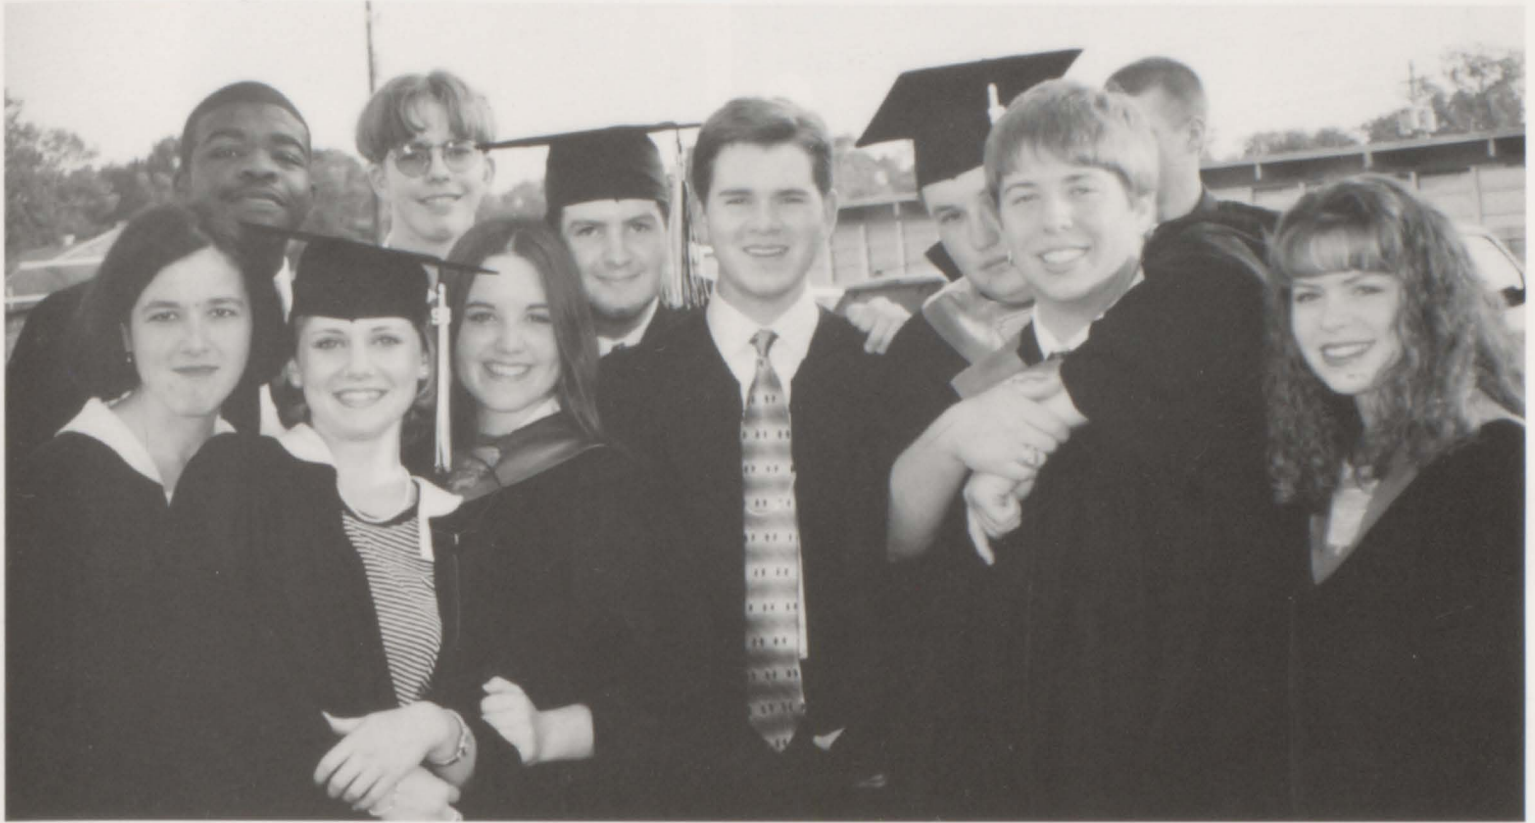

Baldwin County High School's Class of 1998

Valedictorians for the Class of 1998:

Matthew Dunning, Jennifer McCarley, Mary Langham, Emilie Denmark, Chance White, Susan Thompson, Ashley Howell, Tiffani Little

new beginnings... Stacey Boykin, Chad Chastang, Kerry Clewell, Shawn Irwin, Amanda Benton, Jennifer Finch, Tara Geranis, Jeremy Andrews, Brian Aaron, and Beth Glasgow pose for one last picture as classmates before they put high school behind them and focus on life after school.

What's that, c.j. ???
Jeremy Cale And C.J. Bolling are ready for anything. Who could resist those smiles?

cool shades!!! Kim Watson shows off her cool sunglasses to Bill Taylor.

dressed to kill...
Wendy Greek, April Hicks, Chrissy Kimmons, and Jennifer Dean pose for one last picture in their caps and gowns.

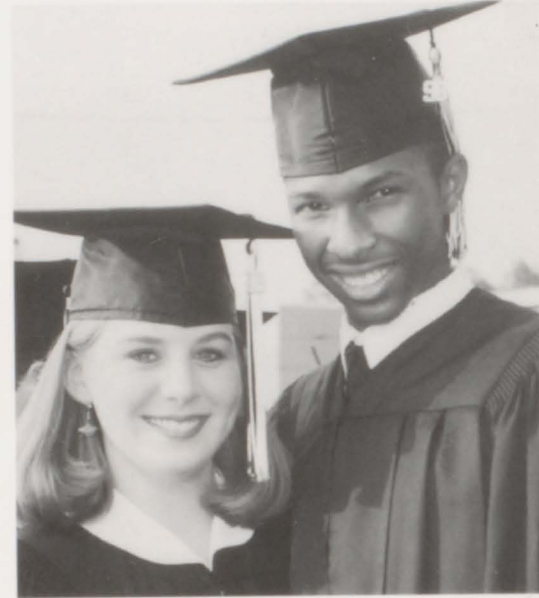

no tears ... Chance White, Cordell Campbell, and Matthew Dunning will miss BCHS even if they don't think so now!!!

happy endings

We made it!!! Ashley Barac and Candy Harvill made it through high school and are ready to take on the real world.

making memories... Anitrea Mason, Joyce Taylor, Lashonda Jones, Sherry Bryars, Meko Munnerlyn, Callie Kelson, Monque Barnes, Angela Gaines, and Maria Mix get together for their last times as seniors at BCHS before they graduate.

glad it's over with... Jennifer Lyles and Dewayne Lymon are really glad they don't have any more stress from teachers, principals, and school work.

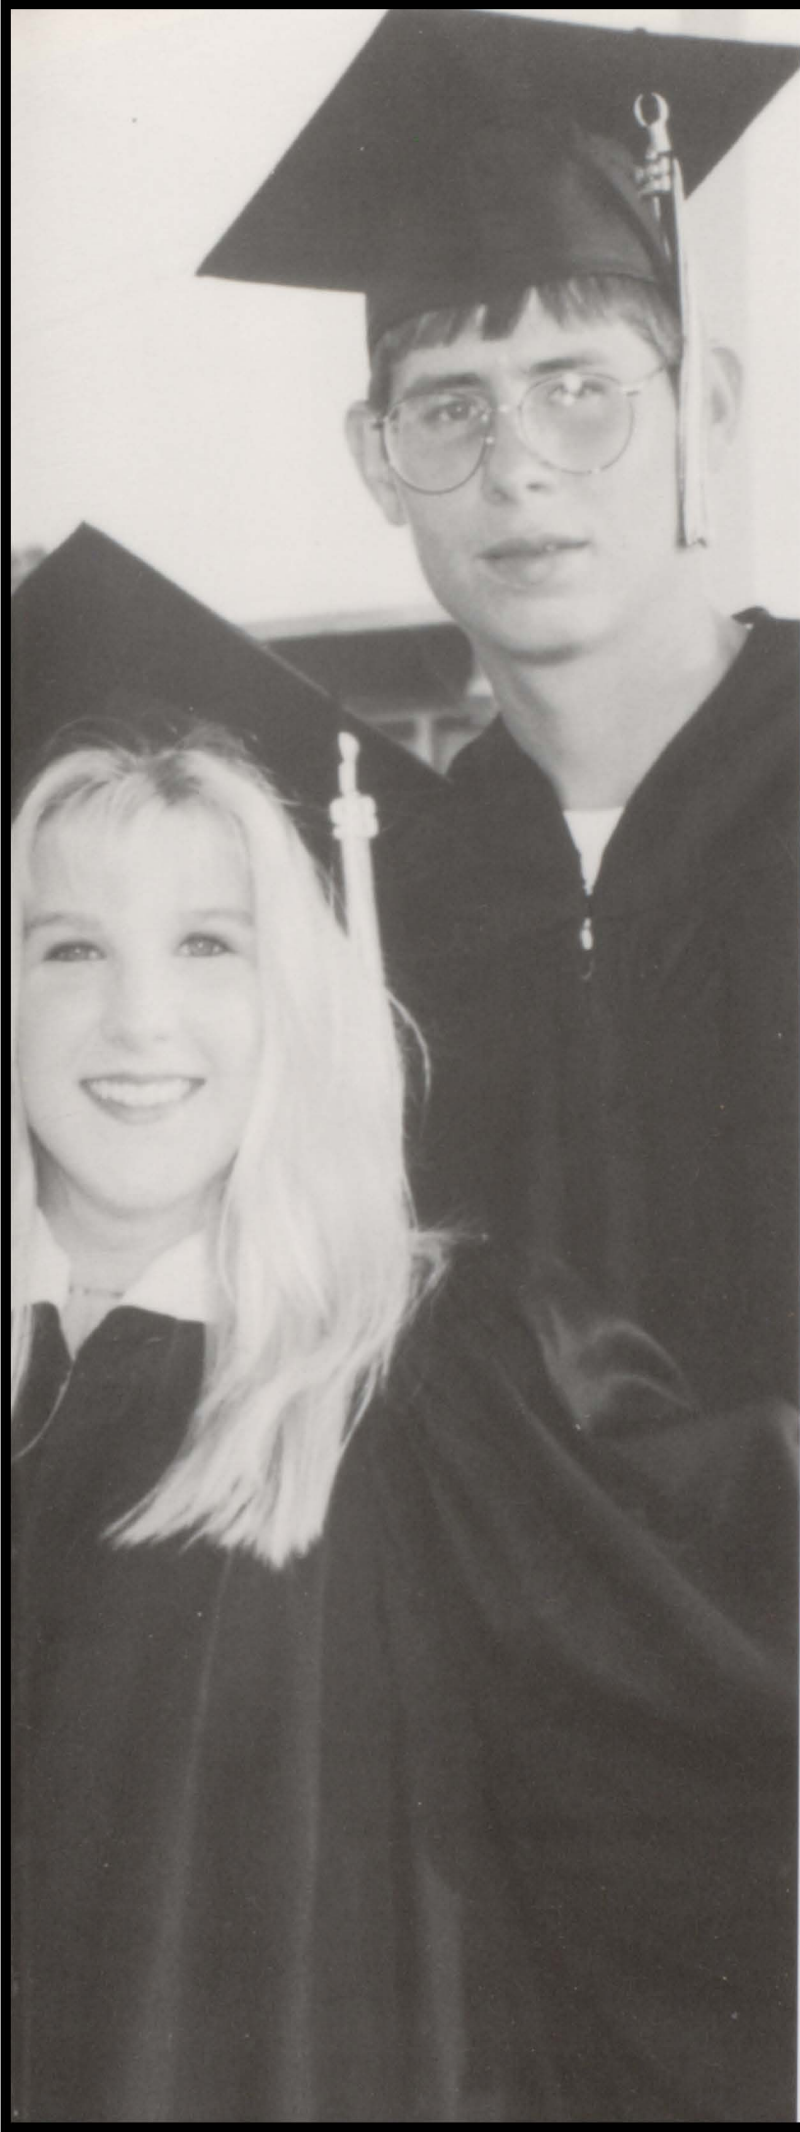

finally... It took 12 years to get here, but Joie Vickery, Marcus Thompson, Stephanie Russell finally know how it feels to be graduating!

time to celebrate... Carl Jones, Luke Grimes, Seth Crenshaw, Stacie Russell, and Isaac Ney can't wait to celebrate an end to high school and the start of their futures.

a perfect example... The expressions on Jennifer Garrett's and Tommy Geeck's faces show the happiness of graduation and the fear of what comes after; becoming adults is a scary thought.

waiting patiently... April Ferguson, Faith Ezell, Jessica Etheridge, and Jennifer Finch wait for everyone to get ready and for everyone to be seated before they can walk on the field of dreams with their diplomas.

getting ready!!! Danielle Duck helps Courtney Bell finish getting ready while Robby Carlisle does the inspecting.

frew another world... Daniel Piefremont, Paul Noveck, and Alex Janiszewski finish up their year at BCHS just in time to go back to their homes abroad.

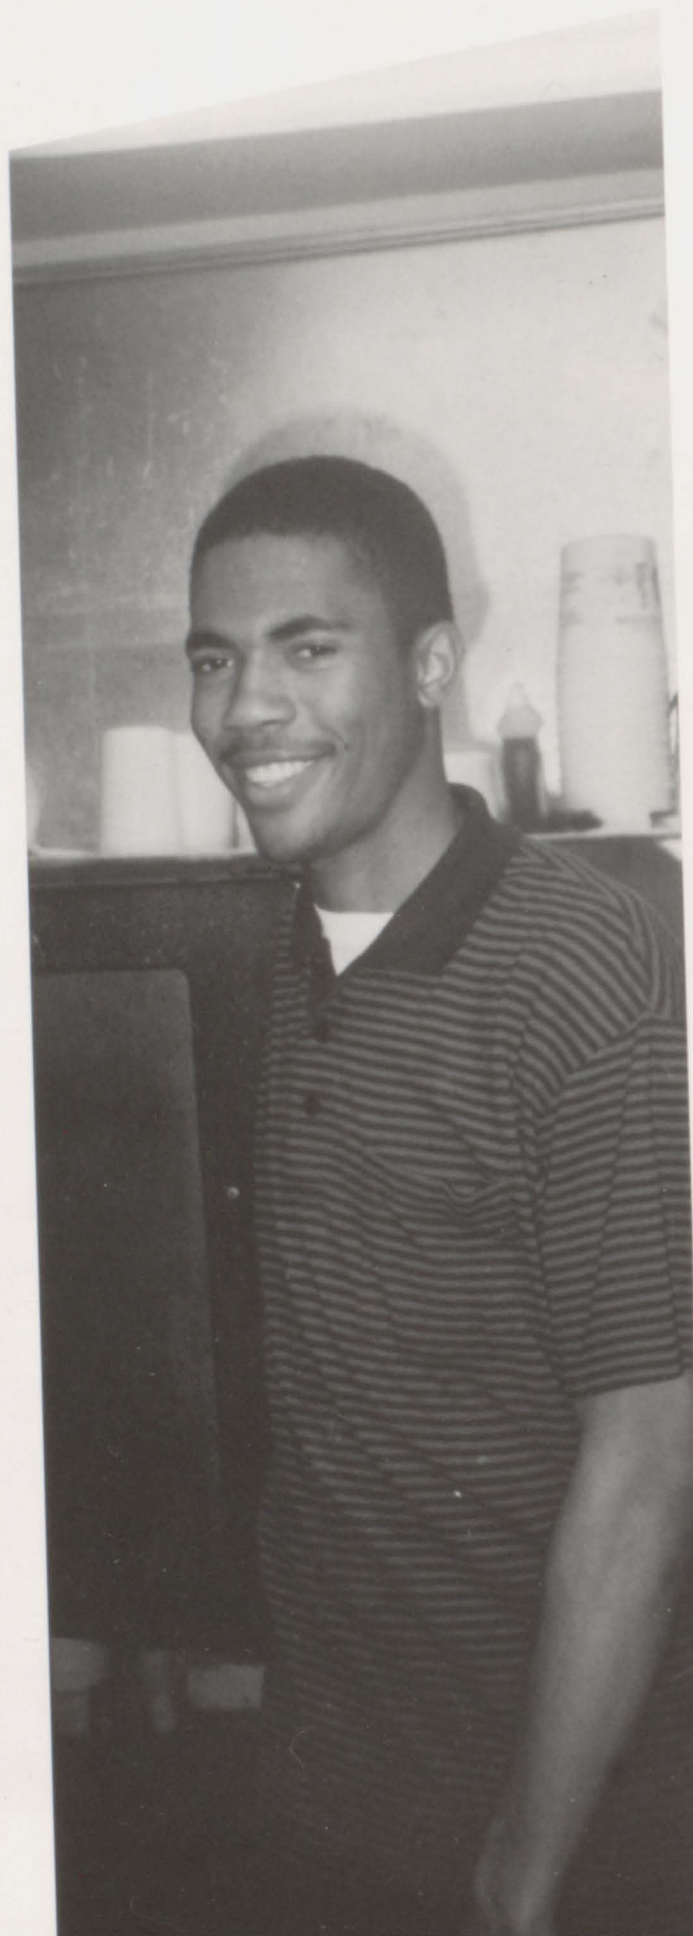

mr. invincible... Luke Nelson is Mr. Intelligent and invincible. He shows just how strong he'll be as he goes into the real world.

supportive funds

Being from a small town has many advantages, especially when you're a yearbook staffer who is trying to meet an ad sales quota. Businesses throughout our area faithfully support B.C.H.S. and the Balcoala staff by buying ads. Without their help we would not be able to preserve the many different memories and moments of Baldwin County High School ... from every angle.

*From the moment the parents Are told "It's a boy,"
A son is a source of excitement and joy.
As year passes year,
He goes through many stages,
And some of them seem
To be lasting for ages,
Till all of a sudden
His folks realize
He's grown up overnight-
Isn't that a surprise!
And you can't keep from smiling
To think of the fun
That's been yours since you raised
Such a wonderful son!*

Bill Biles,

Remember, dreams are not just for the other person. Always dream and always strive. You can accomplish the impossible if you work hard enough. The price of victory is high, but so are the rewards.

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Klinner

Jennifer "Jen" McCarley

My gift, my daughter, my friend. You have always been the best at whatever you have attempted to do. We know whatever plans you may choose for your future, you will continue to be yourself and do well. And, we will be proud of you, as we always have been throughout your life.

*Congratulations,
We love you,
Moma, Meme, and Kim*

Jennifer Lyles,

We are proud of you and we love you very much!

Momma, Daddy,
Jamie, and Julie

“Let love and faithfulness never leave you; bind them around your neck, write them on the tablet of your heart. Then you win favor and a good name in the sight of God and man.”

Proverbs 3:3,4

Chris Harville,

You've brought smiles to our faces, laughter to our hearts, and joy to our lives.

We are so proud of you...our “baby man”!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Emilie Denmark,

If all the little girls in the world were lined up...

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Sean

Tim Doerr,

Life has many contests. Maybe because you are the youngest, you always try harder. We hope that you will continue to reach far and obtain all your goals in every challenge.

Love, Mom & Dad

Jessica Durant

Jessica,

Congratulations! We are so proud of you. You have brought much joy into our lives. Keep your goals high. May God bless you wherever you go. We love you very much.

Hey, Sissy!

Well, it's been a long time coming but you've done it, and you did it well. I can't begin to tell you how proud Daddy and I are of you. I knew 17 years ago when you came into this world that you were going to be a force to be reckoned with.

We have had our hard times but we've always come through them even closer. I wouldn't change a thing about you. You're beautiful, smart, and caring. You're our pride and joy. Go out and conquer the world, but remember we will always be here when you need us. We love you! You're a wonderful daughter and an even better friend.

-Mama, Daddy, and Marc

P.S. You can't lose me.

Byron Ray Cox,

When you were only one year old, we knew that you liked to drum a beat. Now we know why!! Keep up the good "beat" on your drums. We are very proud of all of your accomplishments. May you be successful at whatever you decide to do in the future. It's time to "get out there and get it!"

Love,

Mama, Daddy, Scarlet, Nana, and Papa

Jeanne Lee McMillan,

We love you and we're very blessed.

Love,
Daddy, Momma, and Robert

Why God Made Little Girls

God made the world with its towering trees,
Majestic mountains and restless seas.
Then paused and said, "It needs one more thing—
Someone to laugh and dance and sing.
To walk in the woods and gather flowers,
To commune with nature in quiet hours."
So God created little girls
With laughing eyes and bouncing curls,
With joyful hearts
And infectious smiles,
Enchanting ways and feminine wiles.
And when He'd completed
The task He'd begun,
He was pleased and proud of the job He'd done,
For the dearest joys
Of heaven above can all be found
In a little girl's love.
