“Staying Connected” is the theme of the 2011 Balcoala Yearbook. Sports activities, Homecoming, Mardi Gras, Prom, dodgeball, pep rallies, assemblies, the talent show -- all of these activities keep us connected.

The Balcoala Yearbook Staff hopes “Staying Connected” brings fond memories to mind of the 2010-2011 school year.

2. Seniors Kendra Gerbige and Elizabeth Ellis smile for the camera.

3. Cody Coleman and Nicole Pierce share a hug during a pep rally in the gym.

4. Brandon Alford, Carl Hollis, Keaton Brown and Dakota Nichols hang out during their first pep rally as BCHS freshmen.

5. Catherine Brady goofs off in Mrs. Van Arsdale's Spanish I class.

6. Dana Lawson and Roxanne Stewart catch up on the local gossip at break time.

1. Eva Dunnam, Hillary Burger and Jai Cannon at dinner the week of the program. The theme of this year's program was "Picture Perfect."

2. Hillary Burger and Jai Cannon help support the sponsor Coca-Cola before the program.

3. Jai Cannon performing her talent, a dance number to "Fame."

4. Hillary Burger and Marie Cain at the dinner, which was at the Sun Chie Grill.

5. Hillary and Eva show off their interview outfits.

6. All of the girls get ready for the poise portion of the show.

7. Hillary and Eva show their smiles along with Lexie Bertolla of Robertsdale and Caitlin Jackson of Daphne.

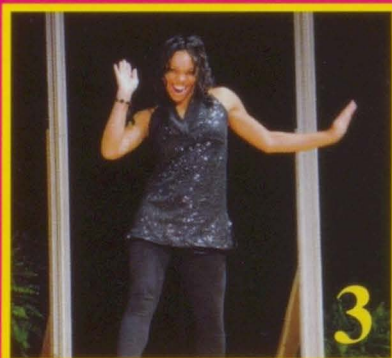

8. Hillary and Eva perform their fitness routine to "Vogue" by Madonna.

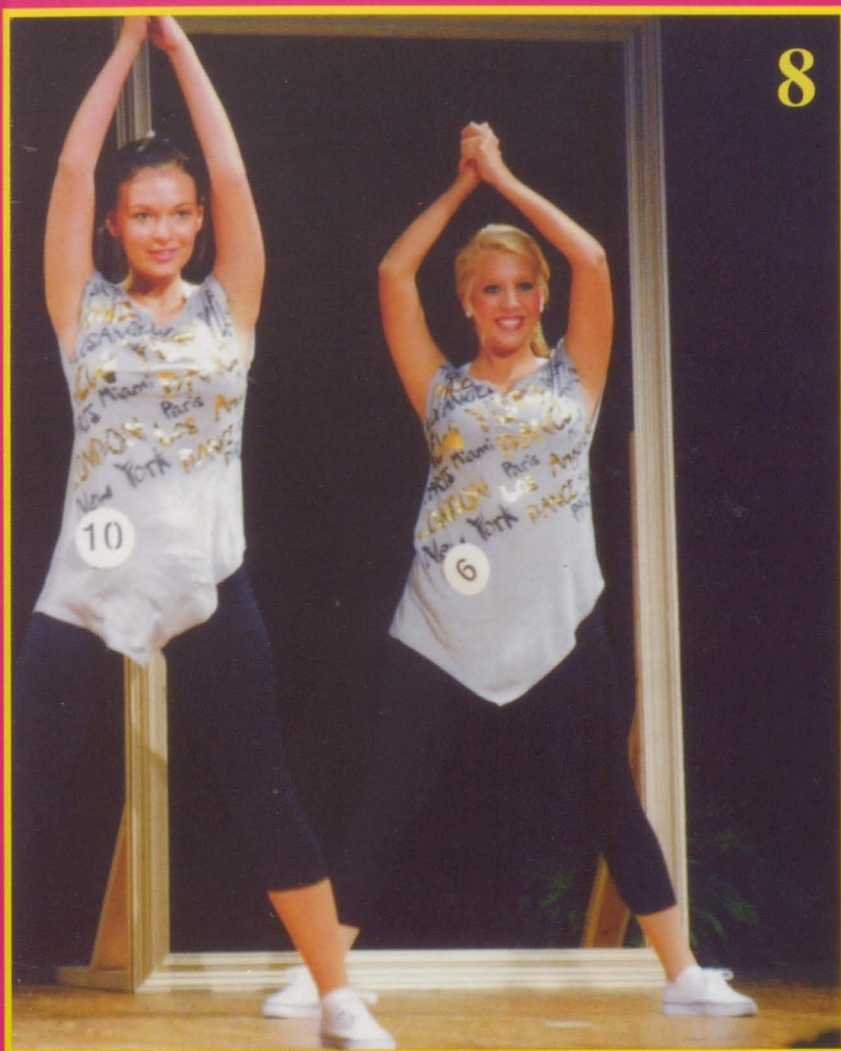

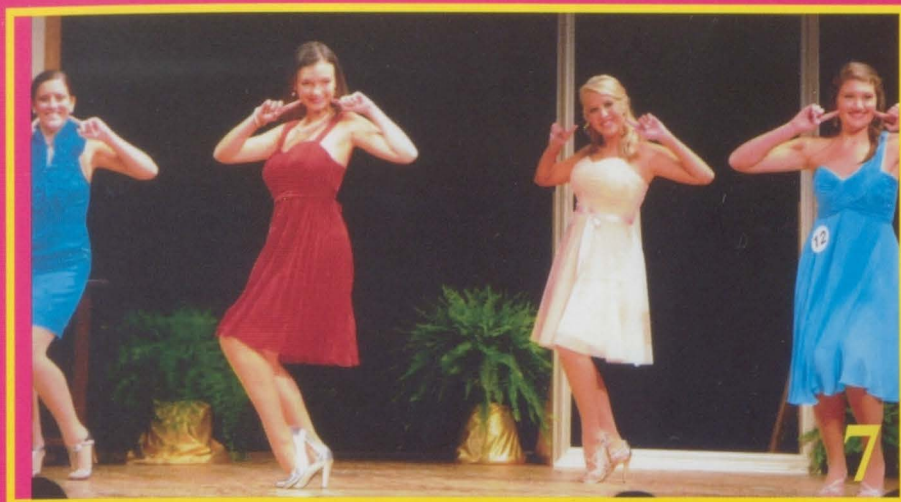

9. Hillary and Marie enjoy lunch before the program.

10. Eva and Hillary stop for a quick picture before the opening number.

11. Hillary and Eva show that they have poise, even before the poise portion of the show.

12. Jai takes a break from the pressure to play with Carmen Bosch's daughter Ragan.

Every year, Faulkner State Community College hosts the Baldwin County Junior Miss program. This year, BCHS had four participants. They were: Hillary Burger, Eva Dunnam, Jai Cannon and Marie Cain. The girls were judged on poise, fitness, interview, academics and talent. Eva, Hillary and Jai performed dance numbers and Marie played the piano. BCHS had a winner this year! Marie won the academics award and was awarded a full scholarship to Faulkner State Community College. The girls practiced very hard for months and made new friends from different schools. It is safe to say that these girls did very well and made the Wolf Pack proud!

AWAG is an organization founded by African American women to benefit their community. AWAG organizes a Miss AWAG pageant every year. This pageant has been taking place for 16 years. The Miss AWAG pageant is for African-American girls, who attend any high school in Baldwin County and are Seniors. Many young ladies from Baldwin County High School have participated in this pageant. This year BCHS had six participants: Jacia Adams, Jakia Naves, Taylor Stevens, Amanda Means, Twynette Bercant and Qyuston Cannon. Every one of these young women did a great job. Three of the six participants were runners-up: Taylor Stevens placed second; Jakia Naves placed third and Qyuston Cannon placed fourth. Every young woman won multiple trophies. "Being in the AWAG pageant was the best experience I ever had, I truly can say that I enjoyed every minute of it," said Jakia Naves.

Smile for the crown

"Being in A.W.A.G was a great experience. Not only did I learn how to be poised and to have proper etiquette, A.W.A.G provided a judgment-free zone and friends for life," said Taylor Stevens.

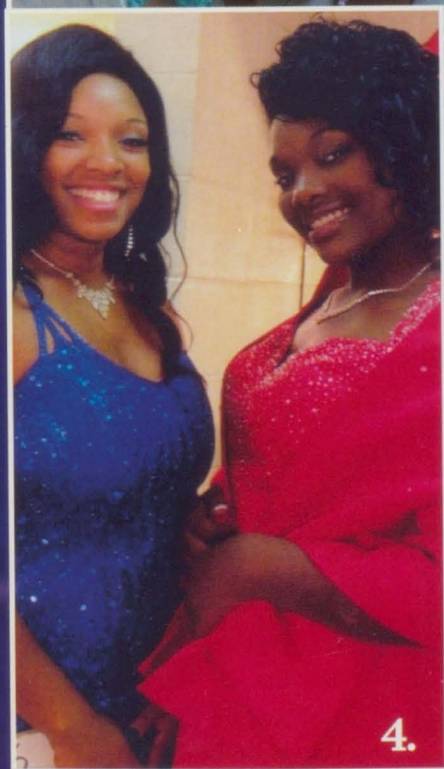

2.

"Being apart of the AWAG pageant was a great experience! I would encourage any of the girls who will be a senior next year to participate in this event. All of the ladies and girls were encouraging and good spirited. The Bible verse that I took and ran with throughout the entire time was: 'This is my command – be strong and courageous! Do not be afraid or discouraged. For the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.' I am happy that I got fourth runner-up in the Area Women Action Group pageant," said Qyuston Cannon.

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS MEAN FOOTBALL

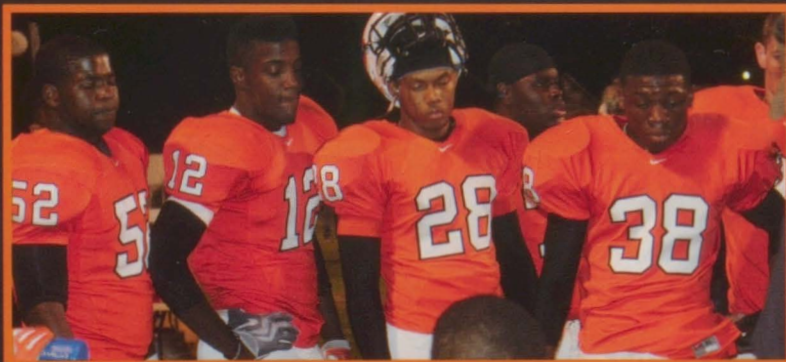

During Senior Night, the players interlocked arms to walk out onto the field and show they stick together through thick and thin.

The varsity team had approximately 60 players, 9 coaches, 4 trainers and hundreds of supporters who turned out each week. During the 2010 Baldwin County High School football season, the team had an 0-10 season.

At far left, defensive lineman DeMarco Chaney rests on the sideline after a harsh defensive series. Below defenders Chris Norman (52), Myrtis Williams (12), D.J. Mix (28), and Devante Smith (38) talk with the players on the sideline.

1) The offense looks to the sideline waiting to hear the upcoming play call. Players are Boo Simon (73), Quinton Butler (4), Ryan Williams (63), Alex Owen (55), Dylan Carlisle (57) and Steven Stevens (58).

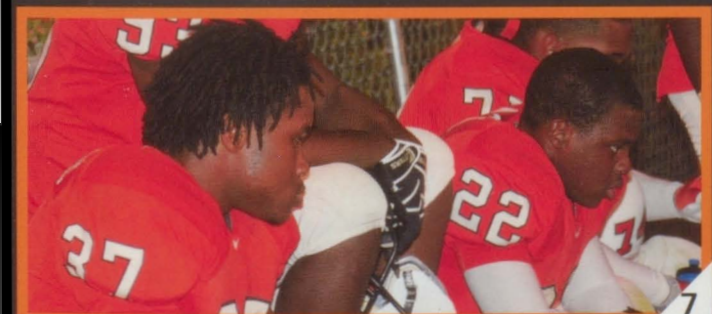

2.) Kicker Aaron Creps (9) attempts the extra point while Garrett Stewart (11) holds the ball.

3.) Offensive lineman Boo Simon (73) and Ryan Williams (63) talk to Coach Shultz about blocking schemes.

4.) Linebacker Chris Taylor (37) makes a tackle in the game against Foley.

5.) The Tiger offense runs a play in their season finale against Atmore.

"I have really enjoyed my four years as a BCHS football player, and through the ups and downs I can proudly say I'm a Baldwin County Tiger," said Myrtis Williams, BCHS senior.

"Even though it was a rough season, I really enjoyed going out and playing football every Friday night and I'm sure that all the other guys on the team did too," Ryan Williams said.

6.) The Tiger defense lines up for the upcoming play.

7.) Defensive players Chris Taylor (37), and Aaron Cox (22) rest after the defensive series.

8.) Chris Norman and Myrtis Williams run and tackle their opponent.

JV team gets ready for Varsity

Starting quarterback Nate Jones (19) drops back in the pocket to attempt a pass against Foley.

Wide Receiver Garrett Stewart (11) listens intently as Coach Jones gives him instructions during a JV game.

Junior Varsity captains Andre Cox (2), Ronnie Davis (6), and London Gulley (23) go out for the coin toss before the match up against Daphne.

Junior Varsity Football is a chance for the younger players on a football team to get a chance to play in a game situation. The Junior Varsity Football Team is made up of all of the underclassman on the Varsity Football Team, some play in Varsity games also, but most don't.

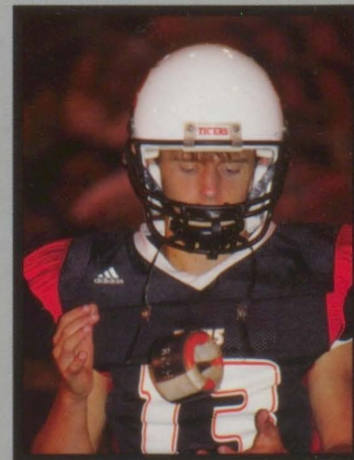

"The JV season was fun. It gave experience to the people who needed it, and it gave the people who don't usually a chance to play also," said Jonathan Jordan.

"It was a hard, but great season. Offensively we put up a lot of points and defense gave the opponents a hard time. I enjoyed it especially since I was the only offensive lineman on the team to score a touchdown," said Jordan Sellers.

Running back Andre Cox (2) runs away from the Daphne defenders.

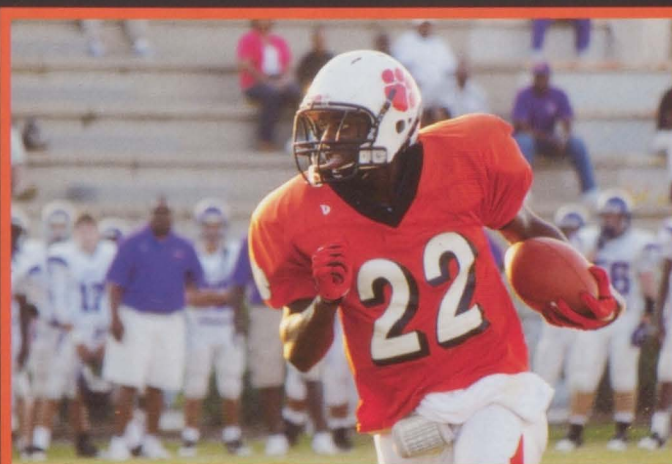

Kicker Call Watson (13) gets focused during the game, never knowing when he may have to kick a game-winning field goal.

Today's Freshmen ... tomorrow's stars

The Freshman Tigers defense makes a huge stop against the Trojans. Below: Freshman quarterback Andre Davis (17) scrambles away from the defense.

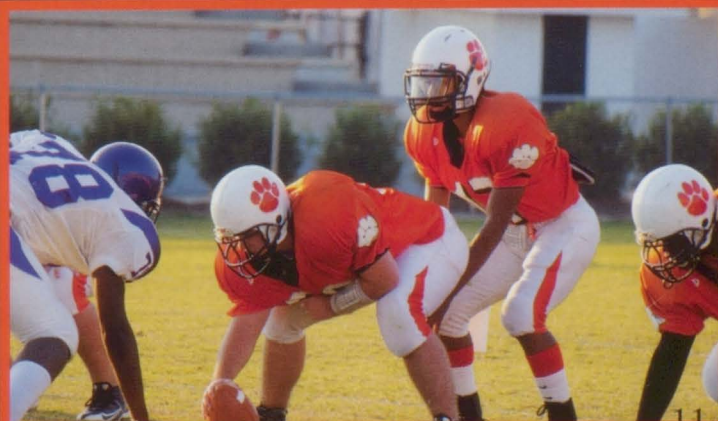

Freshman running back JaQuan Finch looks for a hole to run through.

The Baldwin County High School Freshman class features many talented individuals. Especially on the football field. This year, Coach Jonathan Hersel led the Freshman football team on the gridiron this year. Freshman football is very important because it molds this years freshman into next year's varsity stars.

"I had a very exciting year as a freshman football player at BCHS and I am looking forward to moving up to the varsity squad next year," JaQuan Finch.

"It felt great to play high school football especially since I was able to play with the varsity team at the end of the year," said Andre Davis.

The Senior Class shows its support for the breast cancer at the Cheer for a Cure pep rally.

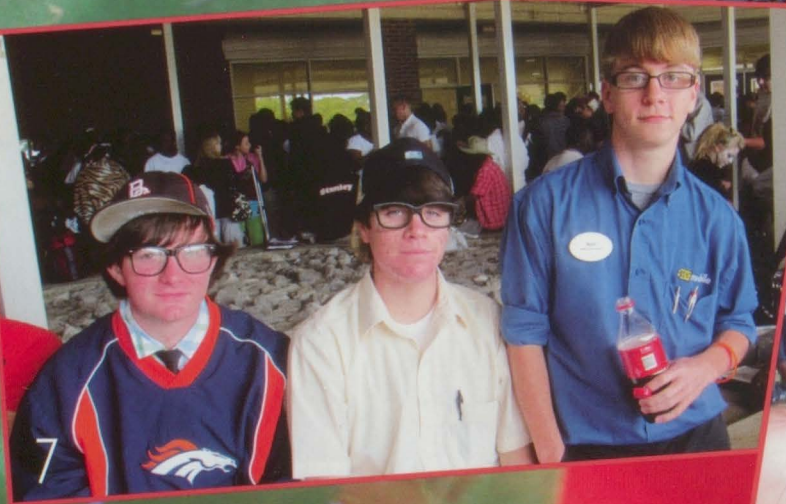

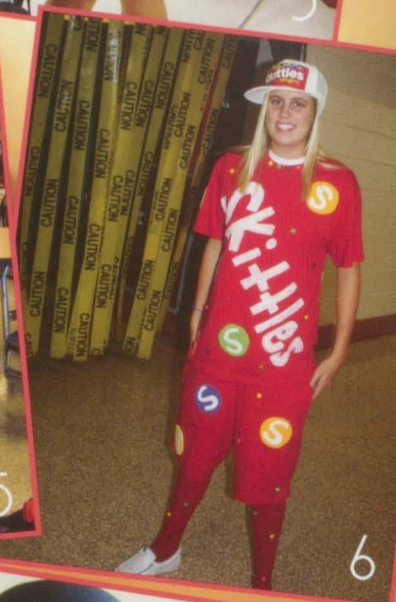

During the 2010 football season, BCHS exemplified a lot of school spirit at our pep rallies. Every week it was a tough competition between the juniors and the seniors to see who could get the spirit stick, but the seniors usually pulled out the win. The Sophomore Class started off a little slow but snagged a win in the end. The Freshman Class did a very good job this year showing more spirit than any other Freshman Class.

Director of Bands

"The band has shown great growth through the year. It's been great watching the students, former members and the community, as a whole, getting excited about the Baldwin County High School band program. I'm incredibly proud of the students who have excelled enough to represent this school at various college and county honor bands. They have spread the prestige of the program across the state. I look forward to hearing of the future endeavors of our graduating seniors as they continue their music experience."

Color Guard takes state

The 2010-2011 Color Guard began practicing in May 2010 to prepare for the upcoming football season. At the Deep South Marching Competition and the Azalea City Marching Festival, the Color Guard performed excellent shows, earning them awards for Outstanding Color Guard at both competitions. After football season, the team took its skills to the next level and began preparing for the All-American State Championship competition. After months of hard work, the BCHS Color Guard earned the title of Alabama State Color Guard Champions. Color Guard members include: Danielle Webb, Stephanie Corley, Carlee Coleman, Briana Ramer, Hailie Christiansen, Tasha Moore, JaQuise Caldwell, Dillyn White and Amber Nelson.

BCHS Presents The High-Kicking Tigerettes

1. At attention, the Tigerettes wait to take the field to perform at Fairhope.

This year, the Tigerettes gave BCHS something to brag about. The Tigerettes recieved several superior ratings at each competition they attended including: UDA Dance Camp at the University of Southern Mississippi, the Azalea City Marching Festival, The Deep South Marching Festival, second Overall at the Dixie Darling Dance Classic, and second place in pom and high kick categories at the All American Alabama State Dance and Drill Team Competition. The Tigerettes perform at halftime with the Pride of Baldwin County Marching Band, basketball games, pep rallies, local parades and community events. The Tigerettes praised their first-year coach, Elizabeth Bridges, saying that none of their accomplishments would have been possible without all of her hard work and dedication.

"Being a Tigerette over the past four years has made my high school years unforgettable! Dancing has become my passion and the friends I have made have become the sisters I never had. I will cherish these memories for the rest of my life! Being captain my senior year truly was an honor," said Eva Dunnam.

Making way for the future

The Academics of BCHS

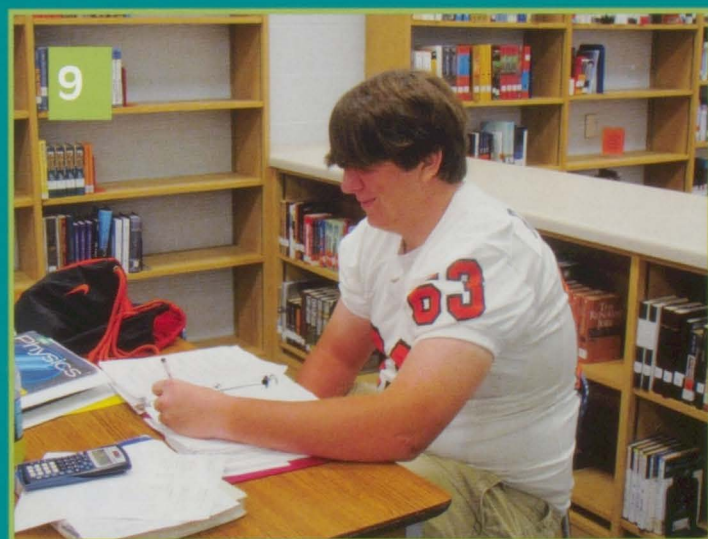

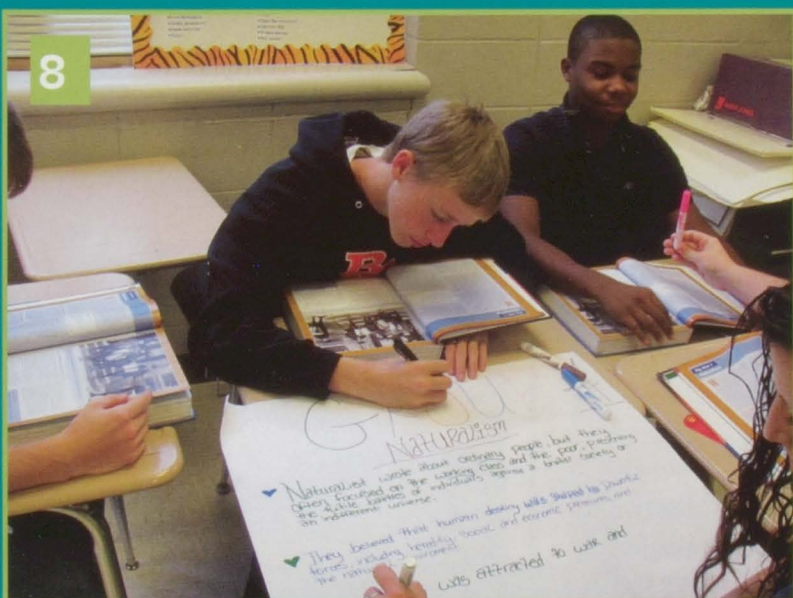

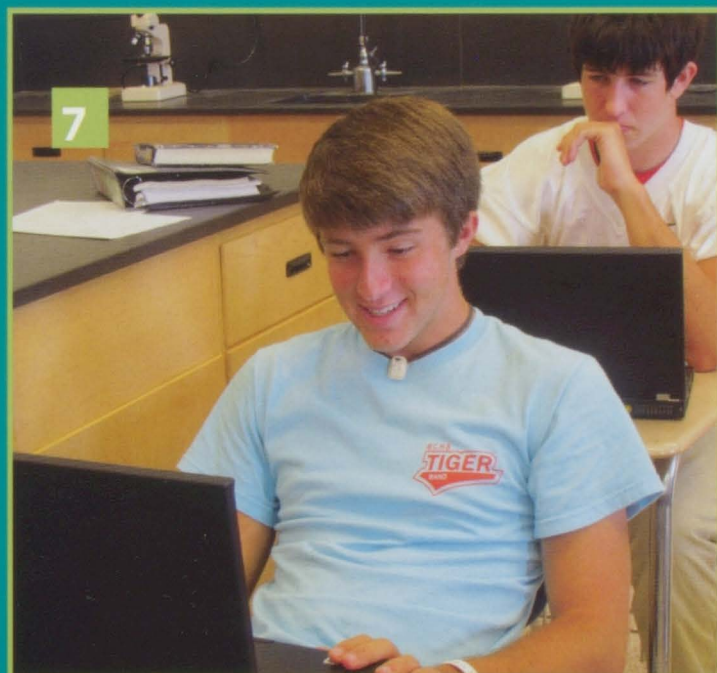

"The 2010-2011 school year was, in all, a very successful year for academics," said Janice Simon, BCHS curriculum coach. This year BCHS made AYP by the State Department of Education, a huge accomplishment for the school. Also, more students passed remediation than in the past years. The class of 2011 is also the largest graduating class with full academic diplomas on record.

This year also kicked off the start of an new class, the essential block, more commonly referred to as "E Block," a class designed to "meet the needs of the student." Students now have the opportunity to explore their creative interests, enter tutoring and have access to the Internet. Test scores on the Alabama High School Graduation Exam have gone up thanks to Essential Block. Essential Block has been an achievement for the school as a whole and Mrs. Simon hopes that the success will continue in the future.

Classes make history come alive for students

The history classes at BCHS cover a range of subjects and historical events such as the French Revolution, the American Revolution, the World Wars and many more. The history classes are taught by Mr. Jonathan Crawford, Mr. Alan Blackmon, Coach Tim Lopez, Mr. Mark Leavins, Coach Scott Daugherty, Coach Joseph Jones, Coach Lee Everett and Ms. Misty Morries.

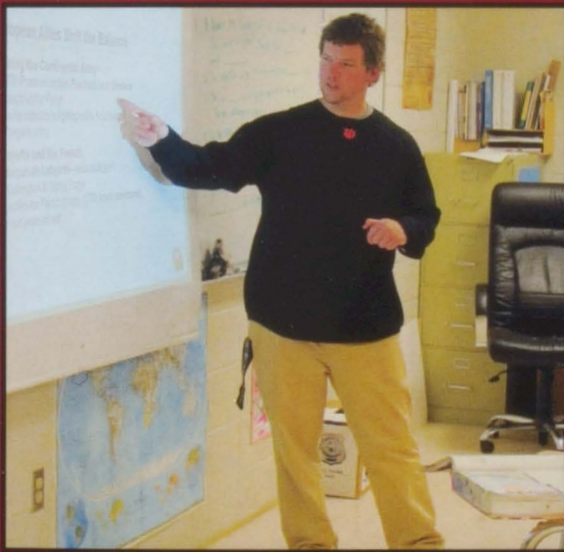

Student Jessica "Bunny" Yost said her favorite history subject to learn about was classical history. "Caesars and the Olympics ... Cleopatra and Marc Antony... it's completely captivating," she said.

This is a guillotine that a former student made for a French Revolution project in Mr. Leavins' class.

Students listen to Mr. Leavins lecture during freshman history. In the background are pictures and book covers that Mr. Leavins has posted to the walls in his class.

Dissecting science

Students can take a variety of science classes, including biology, marine biology, forensic science, anatomy and physiology, chemistry, physical science and physics.

1. Tyler White, Bryce Zarr and Ashley Lewis learn how to produce different color flames out of various chemicals in Mrs. Steele's chemistry class.

2. J.D Duddy has fun in anatomy class with the model skeleton.

3. Coach Hartner talks to a student while handing out papers in his physical science class.

4. Mrs. Milstead talks to her class about dissection in marine biology.

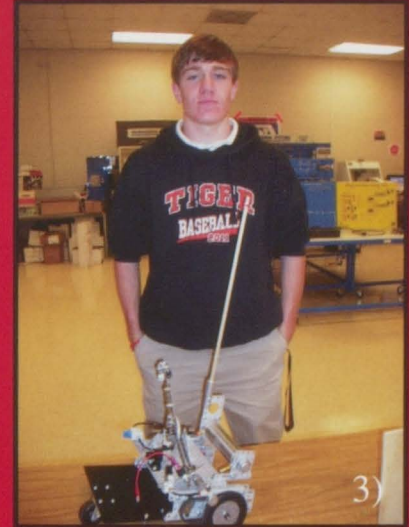

5. Brandon Logan and Colton Pennington work on labels in anatomy.

6. Rustin Foster and Bridget Lambeth dissect an animal in marine biology.

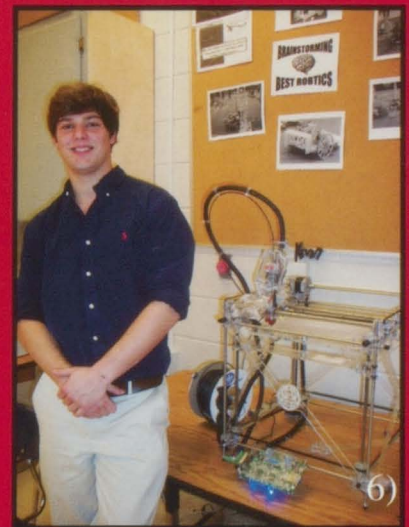

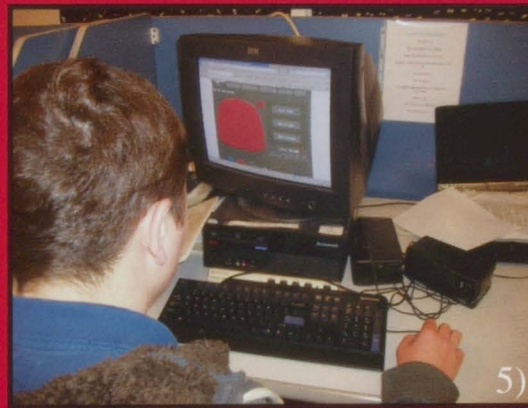

7. Kendra Kleinatland and Nate Jones show off their labeled bones.

8. Corene Jarrell examines her test tube while working on a lab in Mr. Beckett's biology class.

Engineering Technologies prepare students for world

- 1) Kaleb Baker works hard on his project.
- 2) Aaron Creps perfects his car design.
- 3) Garrett Stewart shows off his robot.
- 4) Andrew McClelland demonstrates the proper way to work a machine.
- 5) Chris Holmes is working hard on his class work.
- 6) Kevin Reed shows his robot design.

If you enjoy working with your hands, building, problem-solving, learning to use computer software and fixing, things BCHS' engineering classes will be a perfect match for you, it might even lead you to a career in the engineering field. This year Foundations of Engineering, Engineering Applications, Engineering Research and Design and Engineering Systems classes worked as a team to build functional pneumatic robots and trebuchets. Engineering Applications' students built a full-scale trebuchet. Students also learned how to use CAD Academy which prepares them for the real world, according to Mr. Jeff Boone, instructor for the engineering classes.

Foreign language classes

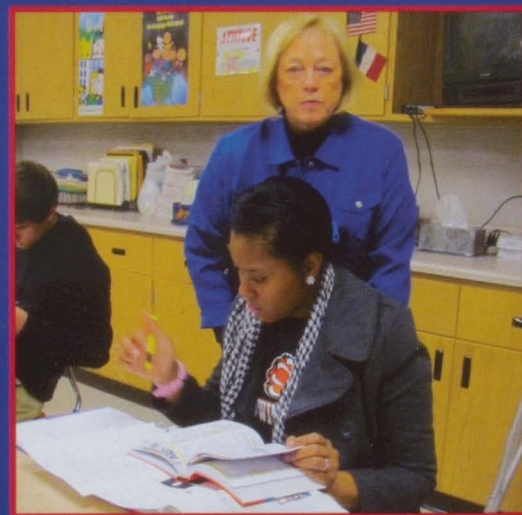

Above, in no particular order, Holly Barber, Elizabeth Barnett, Christian Dabney, Dustin Davis, Taylor Edwards, Curtis Evans, KayLeigh Gardner, Tiana Grace, Taylor Heger, Kenneth Holley, Summer King, Jordan May, Brooke Middleton, Thor Midgorden, Jasmine Mims, Carlie Reed, Taylor Robbins, Nikki Wallace and Alison Watkins in one of Madame Land's French classes.

Madame Katherine Land's approximately 122 French students studied vocabulary, grammar, literature and cuisine in an attempt to get to know the French culture more in-depth. Mdm. Land also sponsors the French Club.

Students Eva Dunnam, Elizabeth Peebles and Jenny McDowell sample some French cuisine. Madame Land's croque monsieurs, a type of hot ham sandwich, are well-known for their delicious taste.

learn more than words

Above Raven Barac, JaTavia Bradley, Catherine Brady, Courtney Brown, Jamard Fields, Timothy Flowers, Dustin Hamilton, Summer Harrelson, Collin Harris, Kate Harrison, Daniel Jandran, Judge Lee, Charity Massingill, Kaila McCaw, Maria Melesio, Jessica Minter, Samantha Palmer, Justin Stevens, Samantha Thompson, Brittney Thorton, Alexandra Travis and Mrs. VanArsdale share a laugh in class.

At left, Mrs. VanArsdale the Spanish teacher at Baldwin County High School. She taught 145 students during the 2010-2011 year in the Spanish I and II classes.

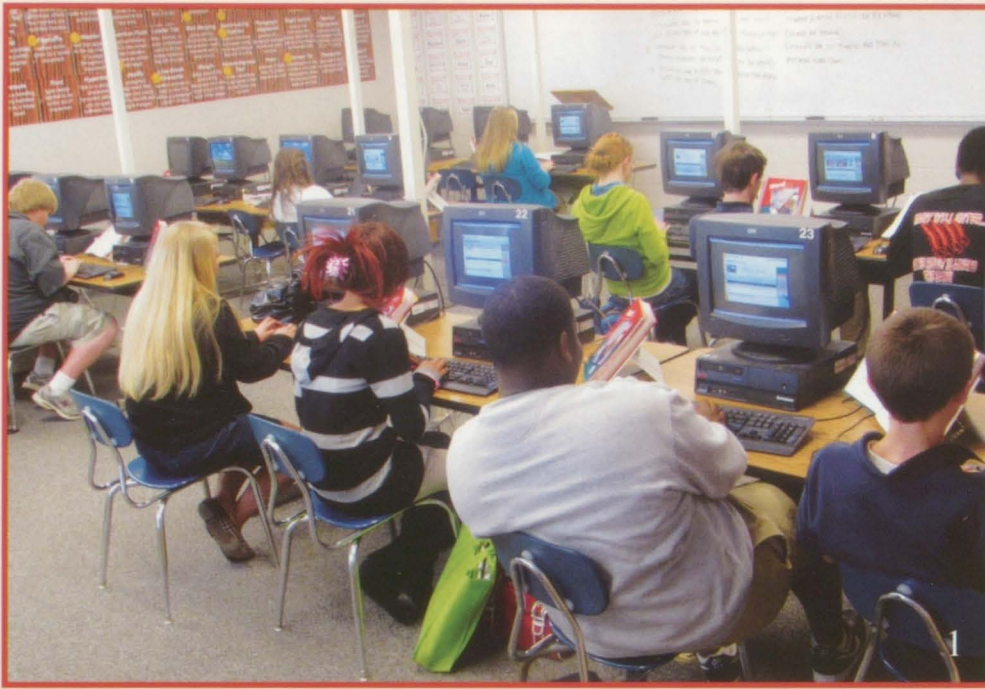

Students in Spanish I and II not only learn vocabulary and conversation, they also learn about Spanish culture, cuisine, artists and writers.

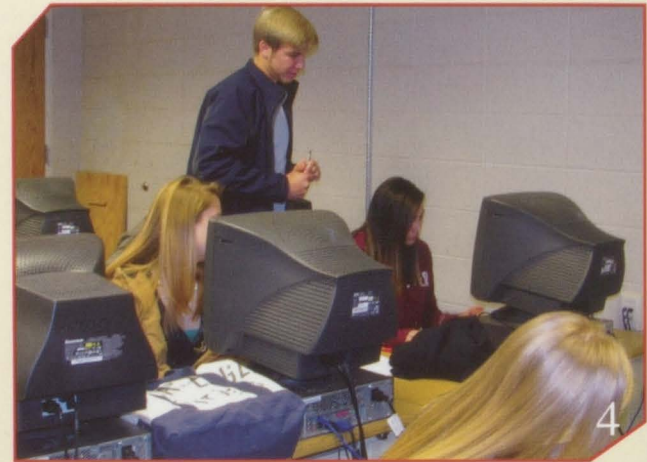

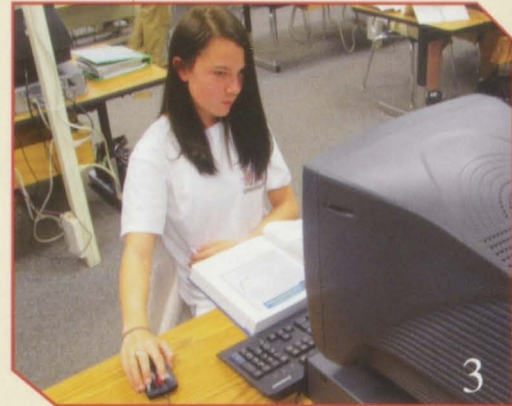

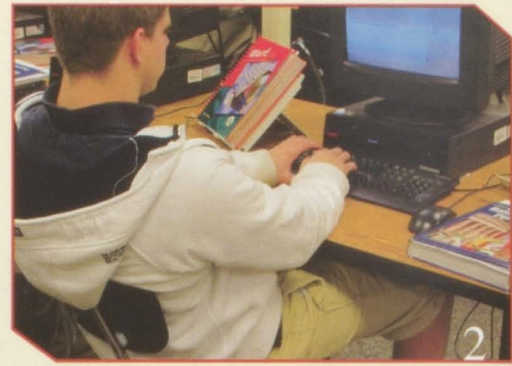

Geographical aspects of various Spanish-speaking countries is also taught in class.

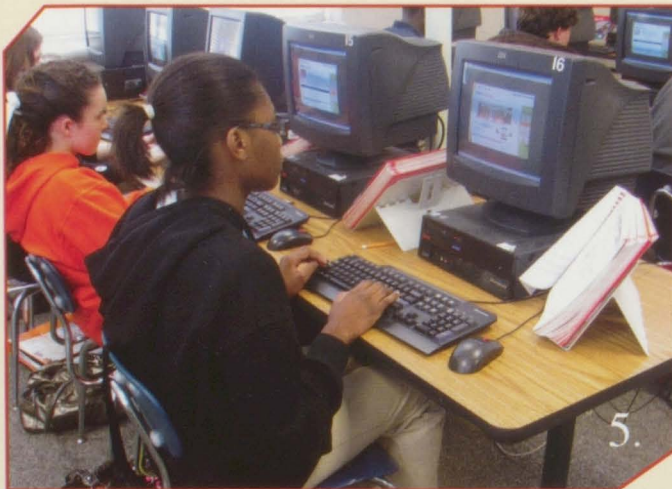

Down to business with Business Tech

Business Tech students strive to enhance skills in Word, Excel and PowerPoint programs. In addition to becoming proficient in Microsoft Office, students undergo career exploration, employment and financial literacy activities.

Students take a credentialing exam once the semester is completed to prove their skills to the world.

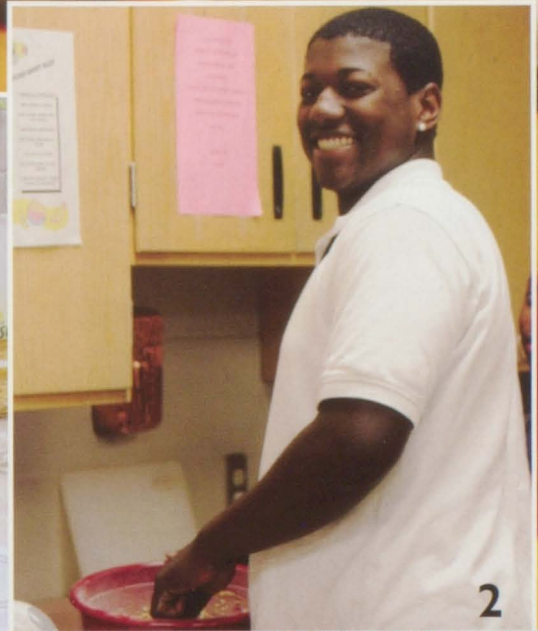

- 1. Mrs. Davis' class is focused on completing its presentation
- 2. Brian Ledkins types a paper to present to the class.
- 3. Brittany Brown constructs a PowerPoint presentation for her class.
- 4. Christopher Andreoli assists Elizabeth Godoy while Marie Cain looks on.
- 5. Latwiya Morrison is multitasking to complete her assignments.

Family & Consumer Science teaches students valuable skills

1. Jessica Rankins and Taylor Robbins observe the lesson.

2. Rodney Currin mixes his chocolate chip cookie dough.

3. Mrs. Karen Sims and Taylor Robbins demonstrate how to properly bake muffins.

4. Karissa Scott carefully cuts fabric.

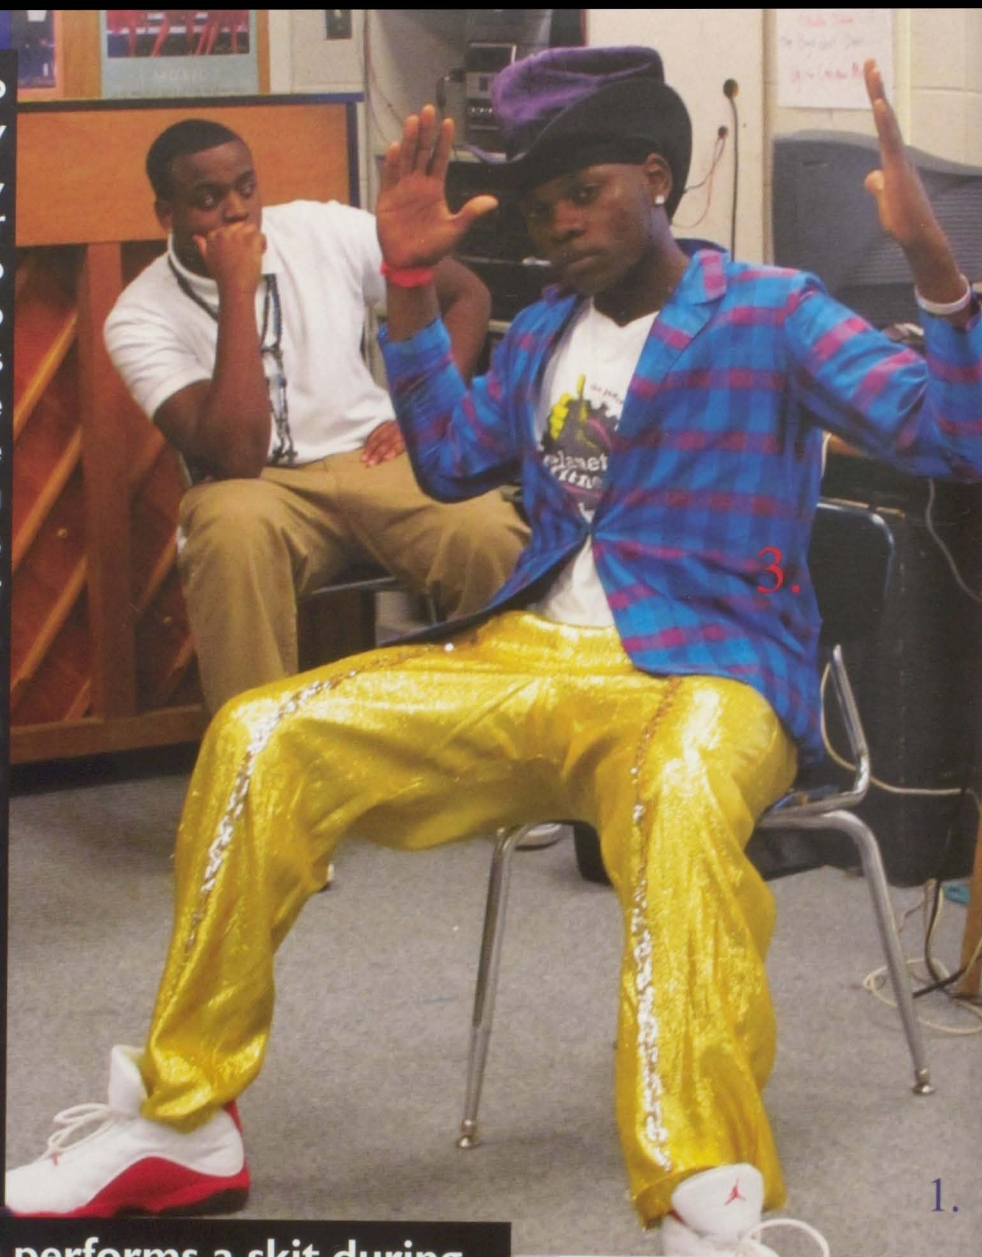

5. Kala Richardson sews a button on fabric.

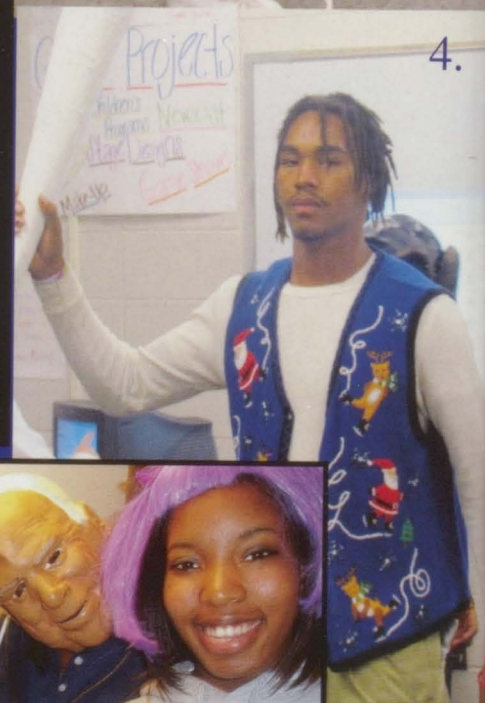

In Mrs. Sims' classes, students have a hands-on learning experiences in which they learn innovative ways to cook, clean and sew in today's society. Mrs. Sims' class ensures that these essential life skills transcend time and are not forgotten by future generations.

Drama: Places please! Curtains open!

Drama is a work to be performed by actors on stage, television, film or radio. Drama is also an exciting way to express one's emotions in the presence of a live audience. The drama class at BCHS is directed by the best of the best, Mr. Marcus Willis. Mr. Willis is not only a teacher, but he is also a director and an actor. Each year the drama classes create newscasts and other creative ideas and the students present their ideas to the class.

1. Jermene Jackson performs a skit during drama class while Keiwon Williams watches.
2. Close up and personal with Mr. Willis.
3. Olivia Johnson, Carlie Reed, Shanteal Quarles and Laquienta Porter show their crazy fashions.
4. Demario Butler raises the torch.

ART STUDENTS CREATE MASTERPIECES

At right, a piece of art created by Shavia Safford.

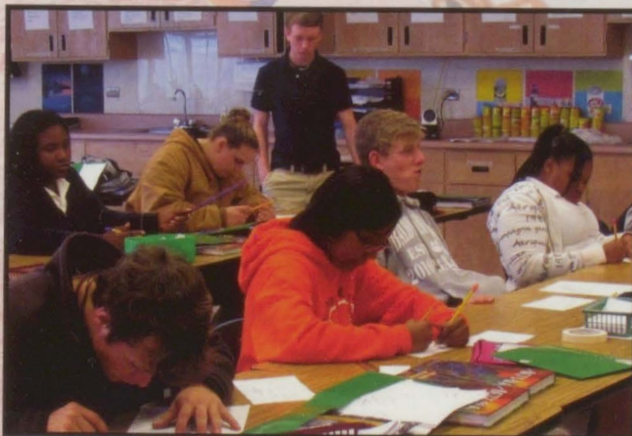

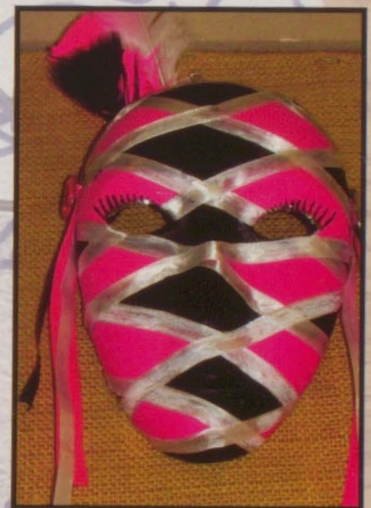

The graphic design for this yearbook page was created using a student's artwork.

Middle: a mask created by Meagan Johnson.

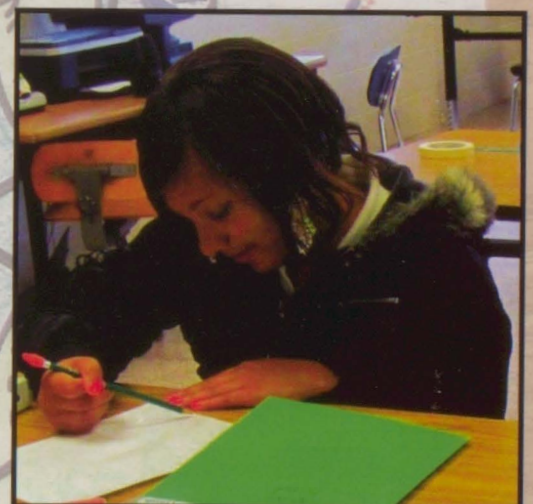

At right, a flamboyant Mardi Gras mask designed by Summer Moody.

The fourth block class works on their drawings. Mrs. McNeil displays her students' work on a bulletin board in the main hall.

Art teacher Mrs. Renee McNeil has students employ a variety of techniques to create art.

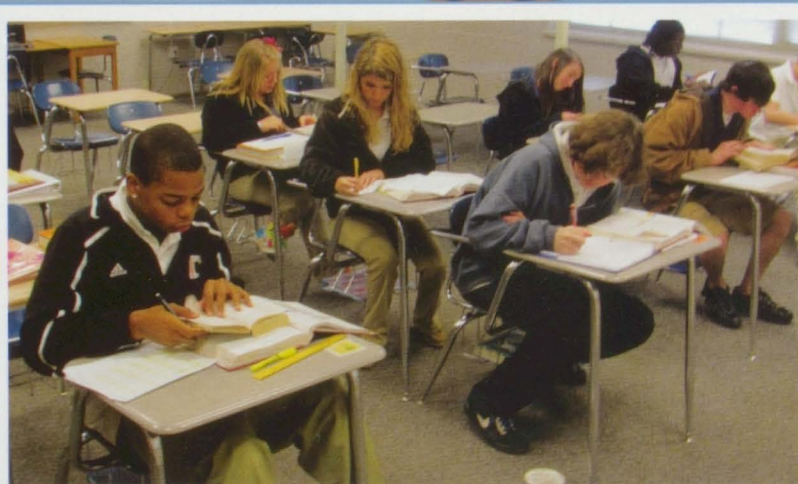

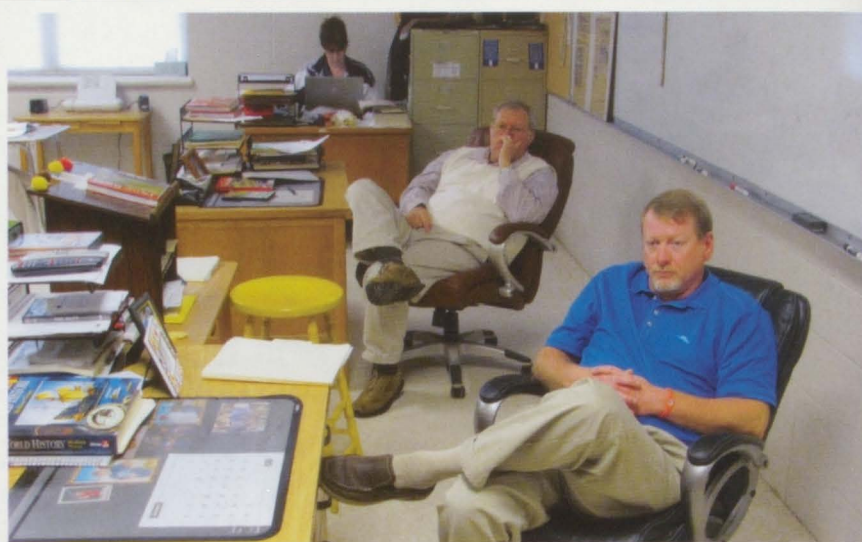

Courtney Bennett designs a piece of art.

Driver's Ed/Health is a semester course. Students take either Driver's Education with Coach Everett and Coach Wright or Health with Ms. Valentino for the first nine and a half weeks of a semester and then switch to the other course for the rest of the semester. In Driver's Ed, students learn about the rules of the road, practice driving skills and learn about the dangers of alcohol and drugs. In health class, students learn how to perform CPR, avoid and treat injuries and how to recover from illnesses.

Ms. Valentino helps Sophomore Serena Colvin with her in-class project.

English

Teaching tomorrow's writers
today!

1. Mr. Mashburn reads aloud to his Senior English class.
2. Garrett Stewart takes notes in Mrs. Clemmons' class.
3. Mrs. Clemmons calls on Dylan Francis to answer his question while Tyler Hubbard looks on.
4. Mrs. Locke takes out worksheets to hand to the class.
5. Freshmen Katelyn Parker, Nyteshia Barnes, JaQuan Finch, Colton Kelly, William Ray, Keeley Johnson and Elizabeth McGrew write an essay in Mr. Turpen's class.

Tiger's Den achieves new goals

1. The Tiger's Den celebrates Halloween by carving jack-o-lanterns.

2. The students accept their Christmas gifts.

3. Kevin Herrin gets ready to bowl.

4. Kenny Rolin gives Santa a hug.

5. The Tiger's Den takes a ride at Christmas Fest.

6. Ashley Byrd mixes ingredients to make brownies.

7. Rhett Johnson decorates the Christmas tree by placing ornaments on it.

8. Elizabeth Mulligan shows off her Valentine pillow.

9. Mr. Creps and Mrs. Harris give Santa their wish list.

10. Andrew Floyd finishes decorating the Christmas tree.

11. Mrs. Harris reads a story to Kenny Rolin.

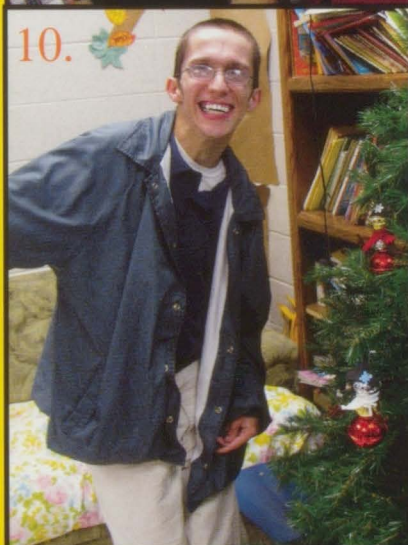

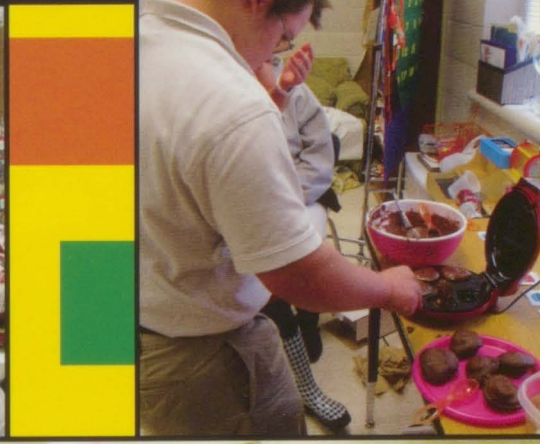

12. The Tiger's Den smiles for a quick group shot.

13. Aeren Vick puts finished brownies on a plate to cool.

14. Bob Robertston helps Eli Watson bowl.

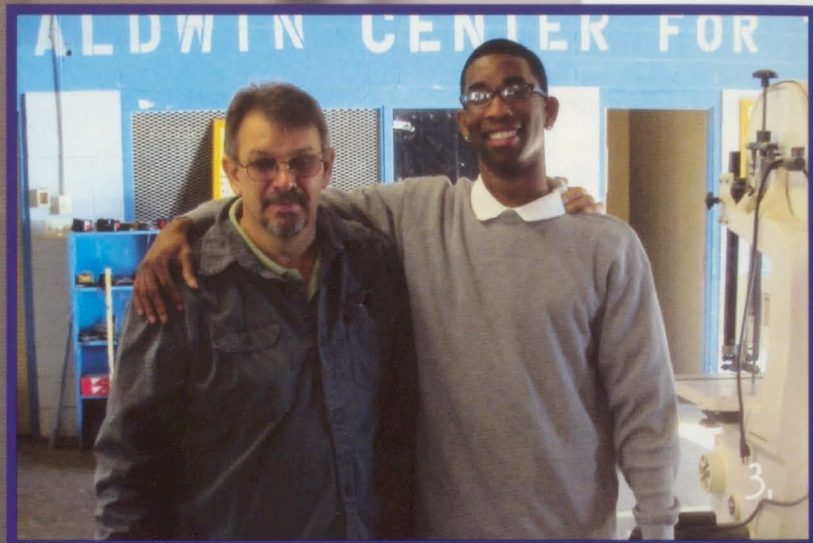

15. The Tigers Den and a few other BCHS students celebrate the holidays.

During the 2010-2011 year, the Tiger's Den collected 13,000 Mardi Gras beads it will resell next year as a fundraiser to buy resources for the classroom. This past year, students also learned about recycling.

NBCT

Learning

1. Levi Kendrick shows off his work.

2. Patrick Rolland, Houston Tyree and a fellow student show their welding skills.

3. Ray Chapman and his teacher Scott Larson share a hug.

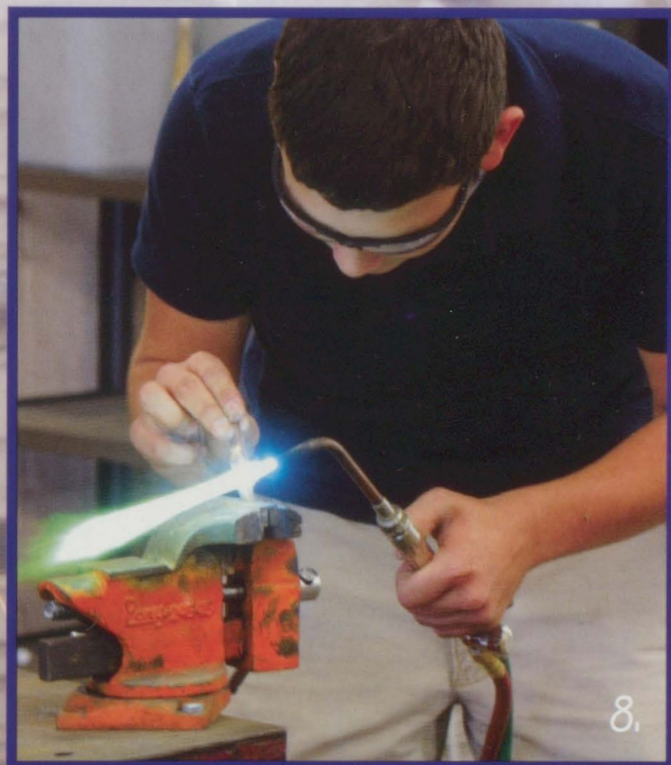

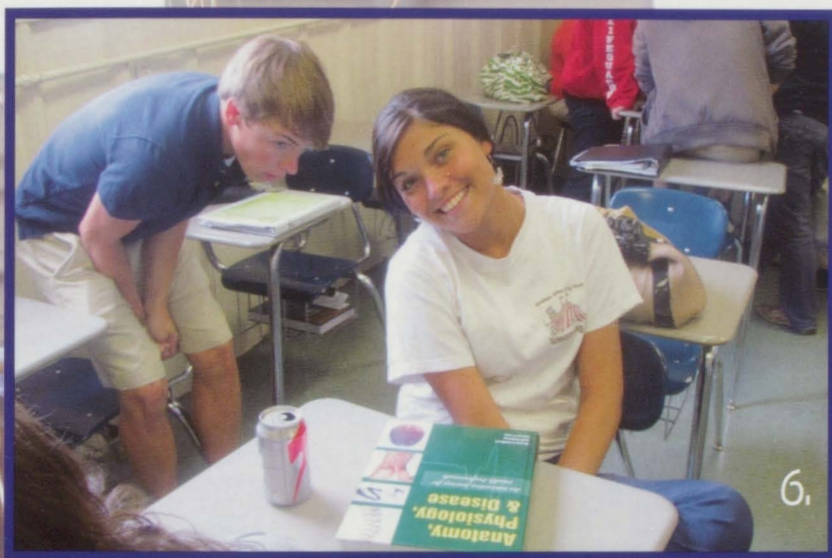

4. Lucas Day, Josh Brewster, Cody Rigby and Cody Holland work together to finish a project.

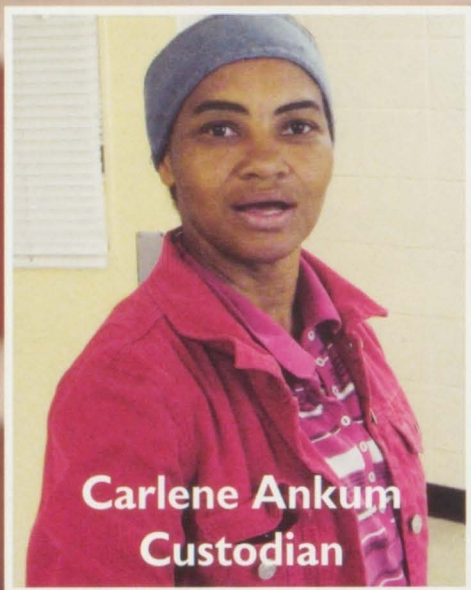

lifetime skills

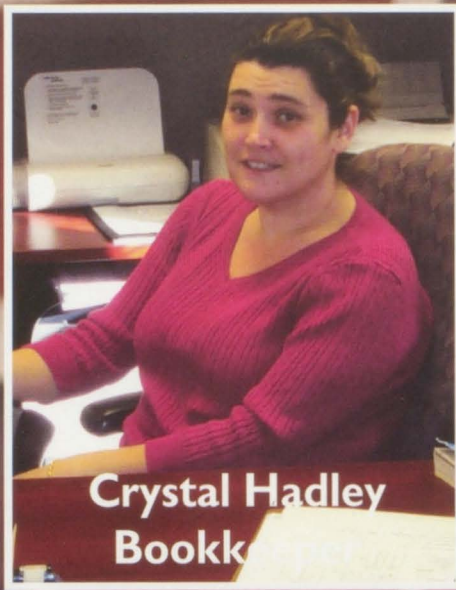

Many Baldwin County High School students attend North Baldwin Center for Technology during the school day. Classes like welding; health sciences; carpentry; cosmetology; agriculture, food and natural resources; HVACR; aviation technology and business/marketing help students build skills for careers.

5. Brandon Terry, Tyler White, and Robert Stewart work in carpentry.
6. Tyler Mann and Katelin Crenshaw have fun in Health Sciences.
7. Justin Brooks learns the basics in Heating/Air class.
8. Derrick Lyons practices skills in welding.

Students grow skills in agriscience class

At the North Baldwin Center of Technology, Allan Williams teaches agriculture, food and natural resources. Horticulture science, nursery production and landscape design students grew flowers for the city of Bay Minette and also grew vegetables for sale to the community. Class subjects included plant physiology, greenhouse facilities, greenhouse and nursery crop production, plant identification and classification, pest management, hydroponics, vegetable gardening, landscape design and management.

Many people feel fly like a G6, but not many can build one except aviation students. Aviation is taught by Mr. Arthur Garrett who encourages his students to reach for the sky. NBCT's aviation technology class allows students who have a career interest in the field of the aerospace industry and flight technology study composite materials, special fasteners and aircraft interior maintenance and repair.

Mr. Garrett teaches his students how to set up a flat pattern layout.

1. Jalen Mims demonstrate how to apply the flat pattern in the workshop.
2. Brian Ledkins practices flat pattern layouts.
3. Matt Johnson shows his hand at riveting a universal rivet.

WELDING: HEATING IT UP

1. Patrick Rollin and Houston Tyree work together at welding.
2. Levi Kendrick decked out in his welding outfit.

Joshua Pierce, welding instructor, teaches the NBCT welding classes. Students learn proper safety guidelines and techniques and are required to score 100 percent accuracy before they are allowed to participate in the lab. This year, students visited Northrop Grumman Shipyard, AIDT and Reid State Junior College.

Welding students learn skills such as: welding symbols and joints, blueprint reading; rules for safety and identifying shop equipment.

3. Josh Brewster focuses on his work.

Cooling it down in HVACR

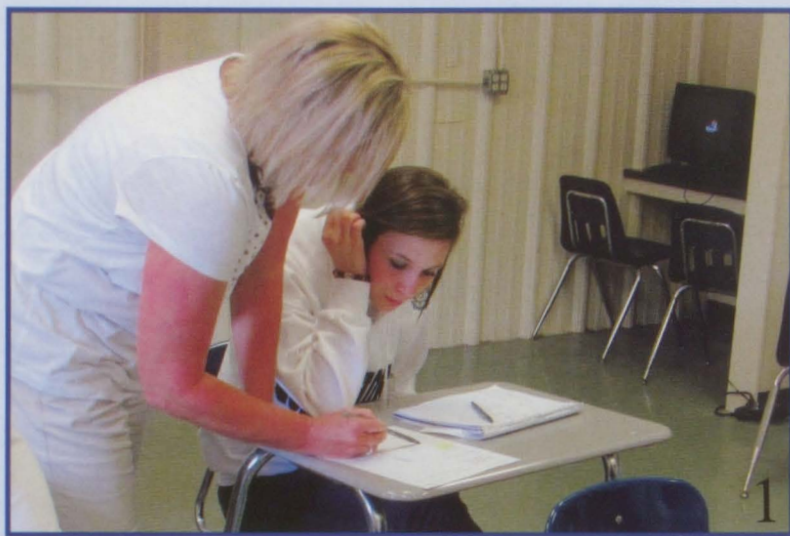

1. Derrick Lyons works on an air conditioner.
2. Robby Tuberville takes a break from his project.
3. Derrick Lyons works diligently.
4. Scott Cooper works hard to get a good grade in Mr. McGinn's class.

HVACR provides NBCT students with the knowledge and skills regarding the theory and principles of refrigeration, heat transfer, component, mechanical angle of operation and refrigeration characteristics. The class, taught by Eddie McGinn, also does many community service activities including the Catfish Roundup to benefit disabled citizens; mounting LCD projectors in classrooms at Bay Minette Elementary School, making deer feeders, dog feeders and supporting the "Hog Wild Festival," in Mobile for Cerebral Palsy.

Introducing students to careers of health sciences

1. Health Sciences instructor Mrs. Julie Seals explains work to Courtney Thomaston. Students in the Health Sciences curriculum study sports medicine and visit the Health Occupations Career Fair in Mobile.

2. Kaitlyn Crenshaw studies for a test. Some of activities students did included designing and implementing a health, nutrition and safety education program for first-graders and assisting with a blood drive.

Cosmetology puts beauty in the hands of the giver

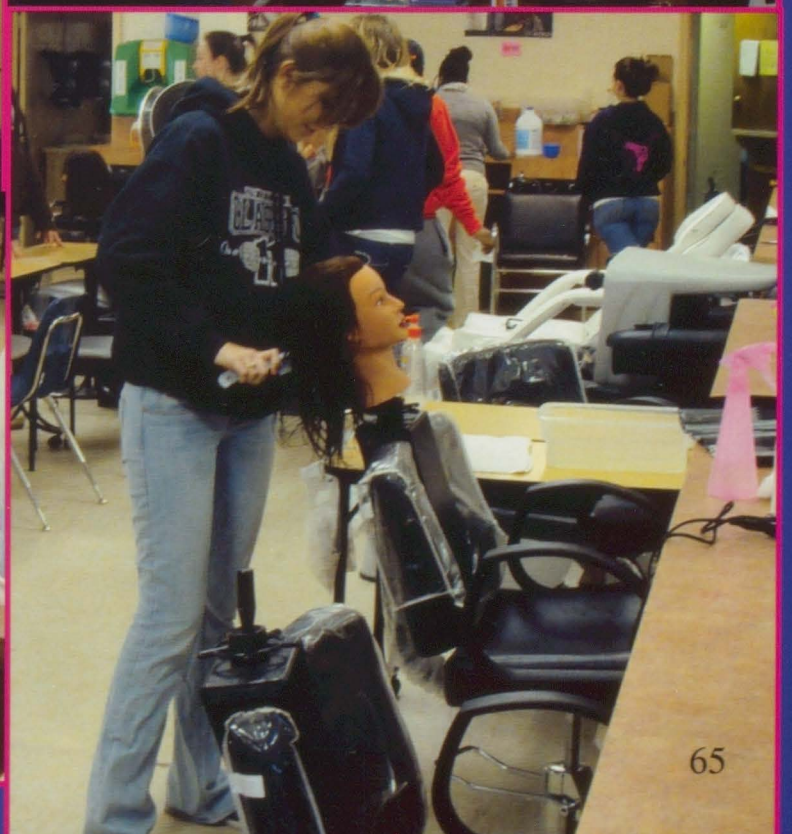

In Mrs. Victoria Defee's cosmetology class, students learn cosmetology, nail care, hair coloring, salon management and state board practicum.

Top left: Roschell Thomas and a fellow Daphne High School classmate work on learning nail care skills.

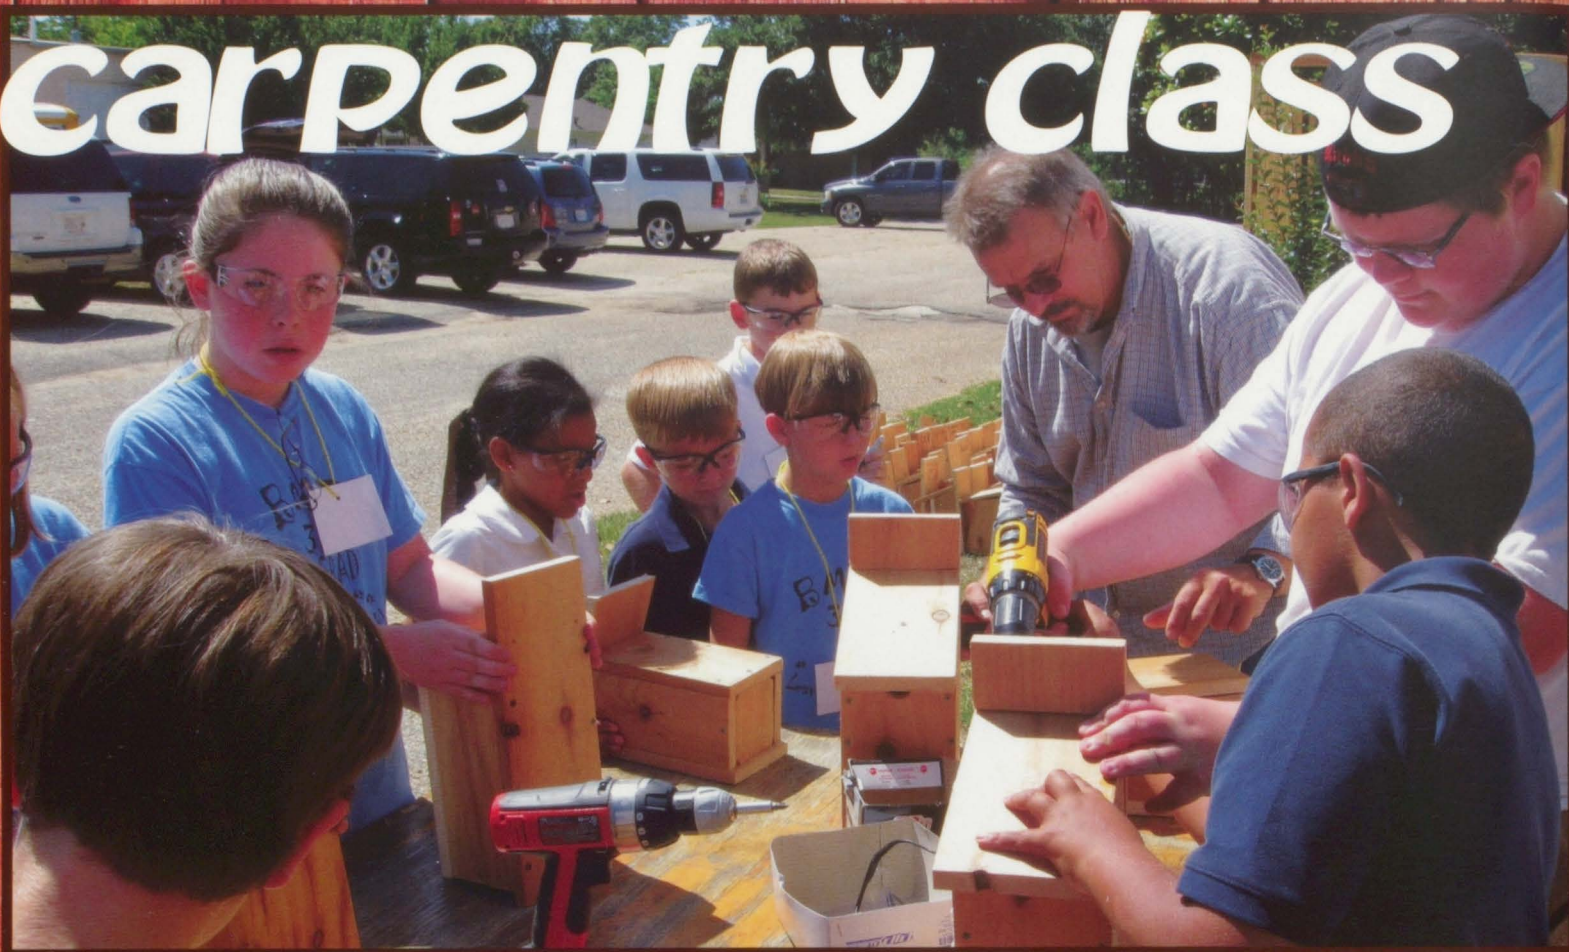

Middle: Brooke Moody and Mrs. Defee discuss cosmetology.

Building skills in carpentry class

Robert Stewart, Tyler Jarrell and Devonta Preston move a wall to the front of the shop.

Cameron Brown chooses a piece of wood for a project.

Carpentry students learn and improve their abilities to estimate materials, read blueprints and plans, conduct site surveys and building layout, to build projects and structures. Students are introduced to concrete technology and other interior wall coverings, painting, exterior structure finishing and cabinetry.

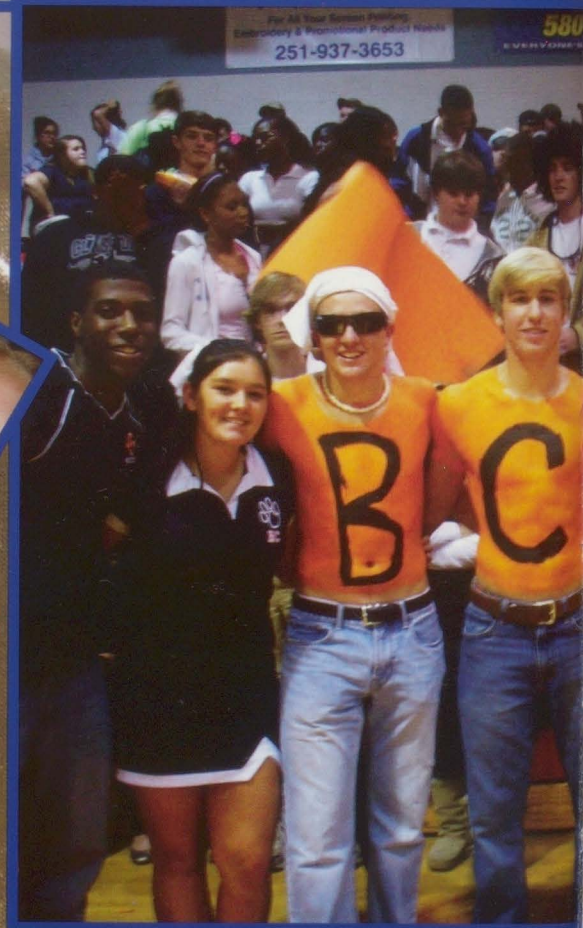

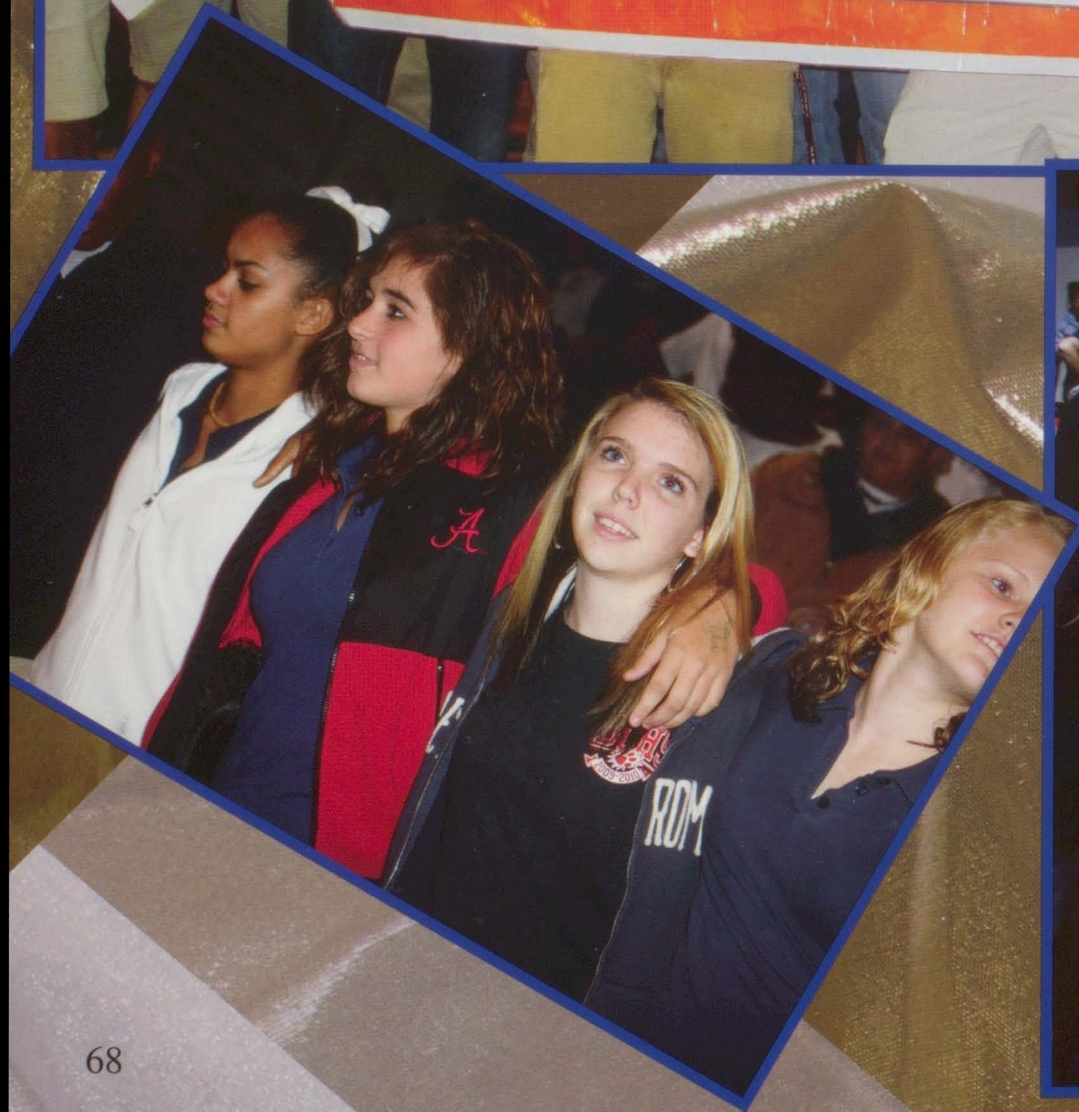

1. Robert Wills, instructor of the multimedia class, helps third-graders from Bay Minette Elementary School make computerized identification badges.

2. Students in multimedia class work on the computers. Students in Mr. Wills' classes produce the Senior Show each year for BCHS.

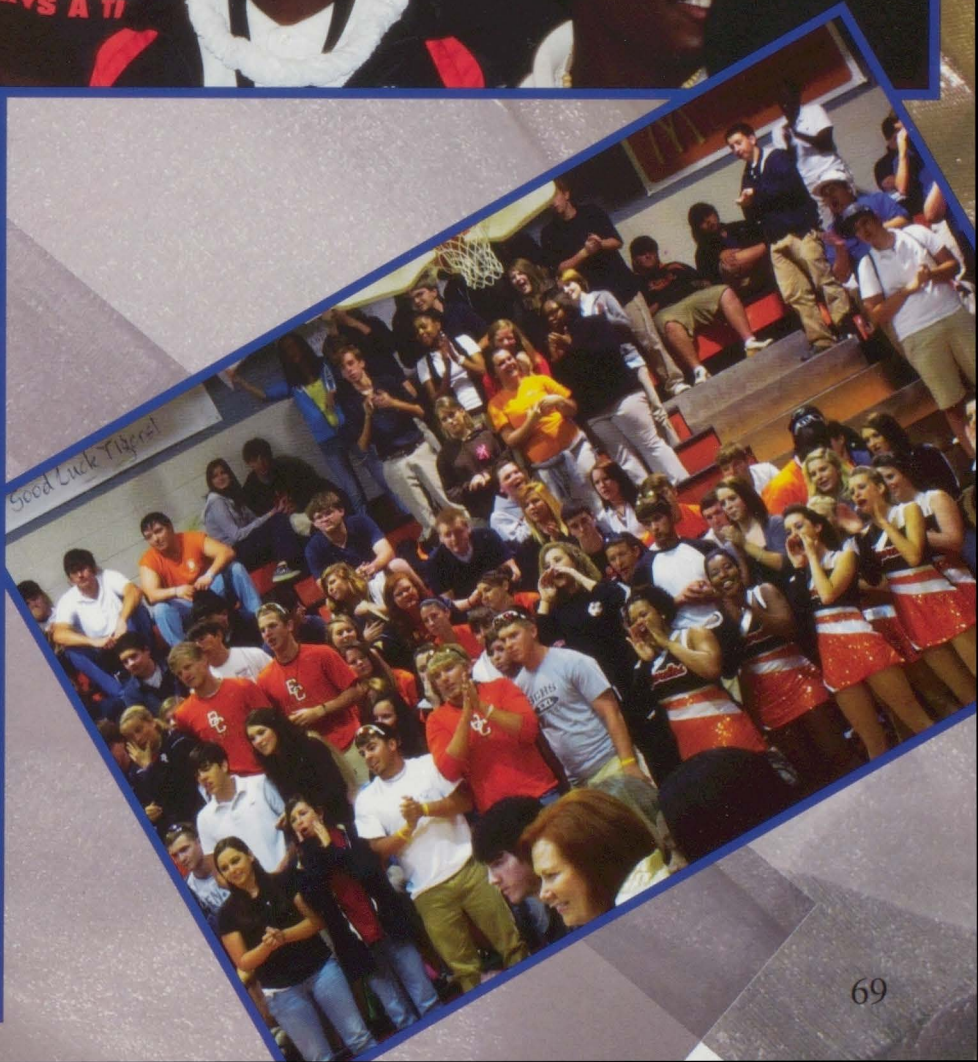

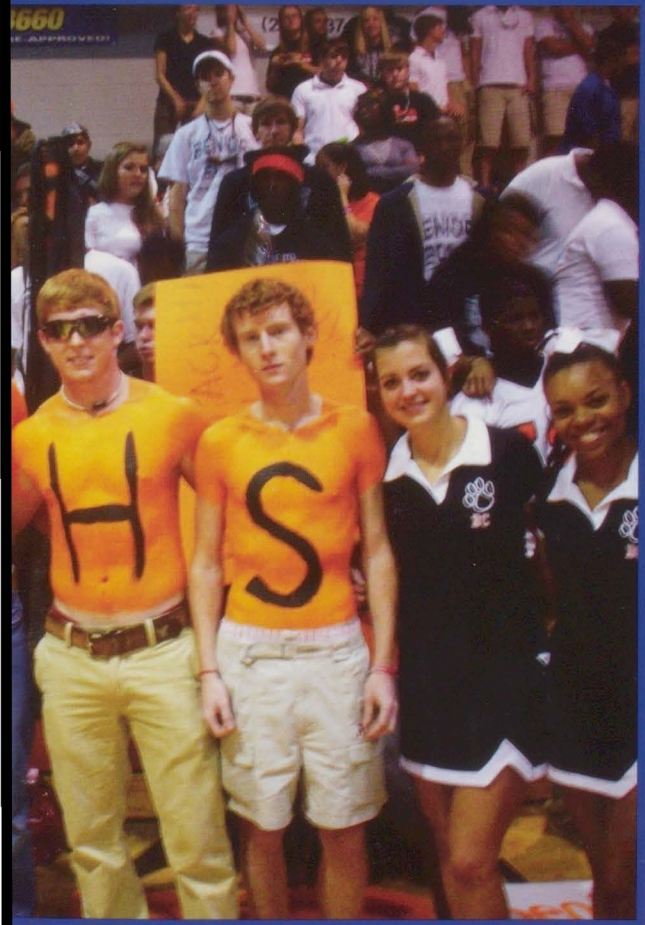

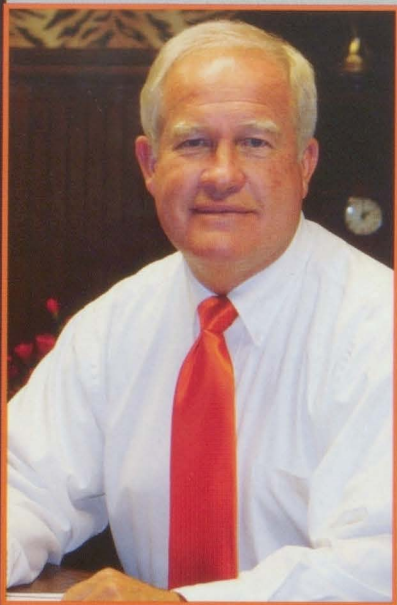

Multimedia Design is a class offered at NBCT. In this class, you learn more than just PowerPoint. Students learn about digital photography and multimedia video production including music videos. This class prepares students for future computer science-related careers. This year's students took pictures and edited them to enter a Drunk Driving billboard contest. Students did a comprehensive video tour of the NBCT campus for various uses, such as recruitment.

Staying connected with people at BCHS

Principal John Cabaniss said the most outstanding accomplishment of the 2010-2011 academic year would be the large number of graduates (272). "Four years ago they entered as freshmen. They persevered, stayed together and made it happen," he said.

Teacher of the Year Rhonda Cryar: "It was a great honor to be chosen Teacher of the Year the same year my son Terry graduated. Every teacher at Baldwin County High School is really a teacher of the year."

Hats off to the Class of 2011

Senior Breakfast a time for fun

1. Fred Barnes, Jermane Jackson and Ray Chapman wait in line.
2. Kayla Smith and Kimberley Williamson spend some time together at the breakfast.
3. Jai Cannon, Shae Styron and Brittany Lins enjoy their meals.
4. Blake Rotz, Kristian Johnson, Tera Mosley and Taylor Fyock goof around.
5. Emmy Gould, Savannah Viega and Jake Denson enjoy being seniors.
6. Danialle Crooks, Terry Melton, Brittany Cowart and Candice Stokes enjoy the fellowship afforded by the breakfast.
7. Rachel Sneed and Joseph Walz spend time together at the Senior Breakfast.
8. Levi Kendrick, Matt Johnson, Caitlin Smith and Kelsey Stuart savor their breakfast.
9. Matt Williams and Shawn Welch hang out after eating breakfast.
10. Jazhwa Nye, Yasmine Pogue and Amanda Means chat before the breakfast.
11. Nikki Palpal-latoc, Charlie Watkins, Taylor Culliver and Dakota Sims enjoy their meal.
12. Kevin Reid, Leslie Hill, Eva Dunnam, Sam Hastie, Sara Davidson, and Jenny McDowell love the togetherness of the Class of 2011.

2011 Seniors awarded millions in scholarships

Marie Cain was named the 2011 BCHS Salutatorian and Taylor Culliver was awarded the 2011 BCHS Valedictorian honors at the May 20, 2011 Academic Awards Night. Marie will attend Yale University on a $196,000 scholarship and Taylor will attend the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania on a $35,000 grant and two $9,000 scholarships. Both received scholarships to several other universities.

Receiving service scholarships from the BCHS Chapter of the National Honor Society were, from left: Elizabeth Peebles, Emily Jerkins and Hillary Burger. Kiera Stevenson, far right, received the $500 Vernie Biles Memorial Scholarship from NHS for her work with NHS this past year.

Approximately $2,187,951 in academic and fine arts scholarships were presented during the Academic Awards ceremonies. Among the scholarships presented were eight recipients of the Leah Ann Overstreet Memorial Scholarship Fund presented to marching band members. Shown from left are, presenter Tina Covington and recipients: Terry Melton, Kristy Barber, Eva Dunnam, Taylor Edwards, Laquienta Porter and Megan Shaughnessy. Not pictured are recipients Jessie Minter and Jennifer McDowell. Total scholarships awarded to BCHS students in athletic, academic and fine arts scholarships in 2011 totaled $2,536,543.

Taylor Culliver Senior Class President

Taylor, age 18, wanted to be Senior Class President so he could lead the seniors to success. "I like to lead by example," he said. "If I am at the top encouraging others, I feel like everyone follows along." He hopes to continue that leadership in the future as President of the United States, his long-term ambition. In the fall, he will attend the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania where he will major in marketing and finance and with a minor in political science. The greatest accomplishment of the 2011 seniors? "We are the most spirited, committed and classiest in the school," Taylor said.

Brittney, age 17, will attend Mississippi State University in Starkville on a cheerleading scholarship. She has been cheerleading since the age of 12. She plans to major in elementary education with a minor in business. Her favorite memory from her senior year was the Senior Trip. "We came together, had a lot of fun and made memories that will last a lifetime," she said. Her class has been very close during its time at BCHS. Brittney has served as a class officer all four years and did so because she liked being involved and leading the class. "I will miss the friends I have made and all the teachers that helped me get to where I am."

Taylor Edwards Senior Secretary

Taylor, age 17, will attend the University of South Alabama in the fall. He received the Presidential Scholarship for his ACT score and marching band and music scholarships. He will major in music industry and percussion at USA. He wants to work in a studio as a person in charge of the final production of songs. "The tableau at the Mardi Gras Ball was one of highlights of my year," he said. "The dances we put together were all great. We won tableau." Taylor said he wanted to be a Senior Class officer to make his senior year fun for himself and everyone else. What he will remember most from his time at BCHS? "The friendships ... the connections you make," Taylor said.

LaDrake Davis receives a Douglasville High School Alumni Association Scholarship from Delores Burt during Academic Awards Night.

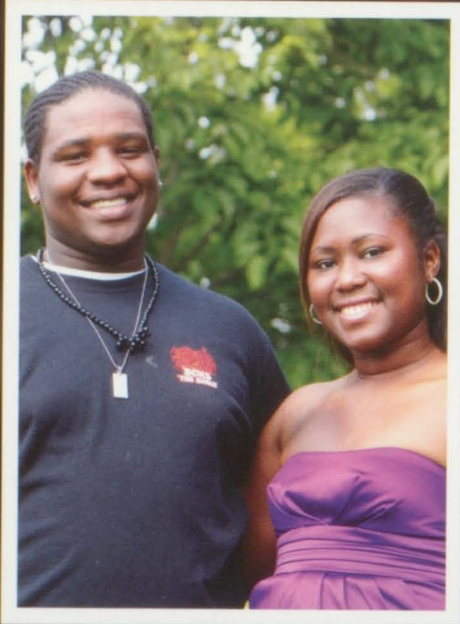

Taylor Culliver, Jenny McDowell 2011 Mr. and Miss BCHS

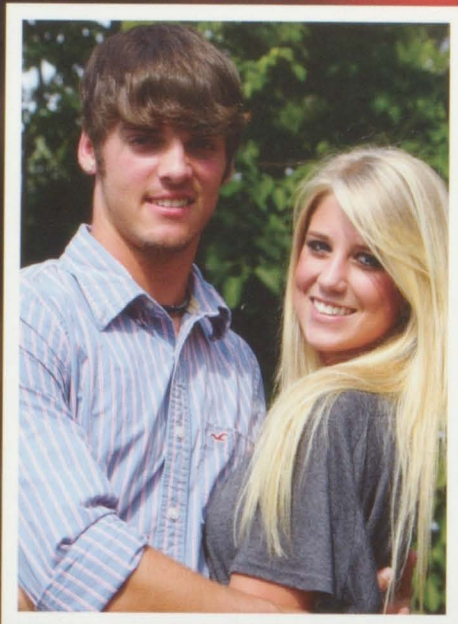

"I was proud to be named Mr. BCHS," said Taylor Culliver. "I was not exactly expecting it. There were a lot of people in the pool of nominees who were equally great -- any one of us could have gotten it." Taylor said his greatest accomplishments his senior year were winning the hallway decorations competition during Homecoming Week, maintaining his grade point average and playing on the varsity basketball team. He will attend the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania where he will major in marketing and finance and minor in political science.

Jenny McDowell, said she did not expect to be named Miss BCHS. "It just really meant a lot to me," she said. Jenny was a member of Tigerettes all four years. She also helped out in the Tiger's Den and was a member of National Honor Society. As a senior, she was elected the 2010 Homecoming Queen and Most Courteous in the Senior Who's Who. Jenny will attend Faulkner State Community College for a year and then will attend Auburn University where she will major in speech pathology.

Clubs expand opportunities

BCHS offers many activities for students. Clubs of the 2010-2011 school year include ROTC, Friends of Exceptional Students, Model United Nations, National Honor Society, TSA, Key Club, French Club, Youth Alive Christian Club and Scholar's Bowl.

Cameron Morris, Marlee Brannan and LaQuienta Porter prepare for the French Club picnic.

Charlie Watkins and Phillip Agee prepare themselves for an upcoming Scholars Bowl competition.

Model UN gets world moving

Model United Nations is a recreation of the real United Nations. Students, or delegates, participate in the class and learn about the country they are chosen to represent and learn to write position papers. At the end of the semester, the class attends the Baldwin Model United Nations Competition at the Fairhope Civic Center and competes against delegates from around the county. Various world issues are debated on topics ranging from nuclear proliferation to ocean pollution. Delegates use parliamentary procedure to debate the topics.

Ryan Williams gives his country's view on a topic in the Economic and Social Committee.

Jamie Wilson debates with other delegates.

The class takes a group photo in the reflective ceiling at the competition.

"Model UN is one of my favorite things at the school. This was my fourth year participating and first time representing a Big Five country. It was the first time I was called into the surprise topic committee and I did really well representing China," said Ryan Williams, senior.

Flying Tigers aim high in AFJROTC

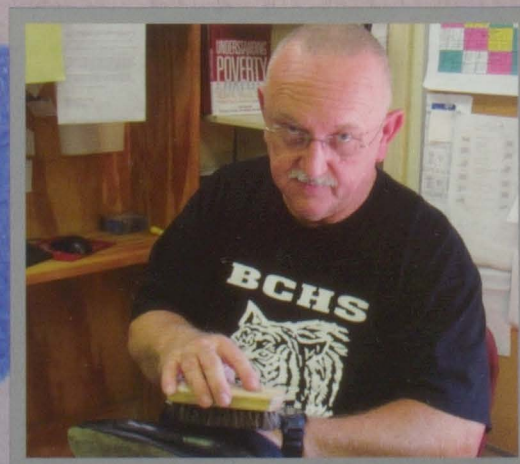

The Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps is a program in which students gain life skills and push themselves to go further. Msgt Robert Davis and Major Gaston Jones urge ROTC cadets to help in their own community. In class, the students learn about current events and aerospace studies.

Msgt. Robert Davis

This is Major Gaston Jones' second year as the leader of the the BCHS AFJROTC unit. Msgt. Robert Davis has been teaching leadership in the AFJROTC program for 12 years. He has been teaching students discipline, responsibility and to be more productive in their own community.

2010 Key Club Induction

Upcoming ninth-graders joined the largest and most active club at Baldwin County High School. The Key Club induction at Bay Minette's Civic Center was a formal learning occasion. The new members joined a club that plays a huge role in the school and community and one in which they build character and leadership. They learn to grow up to appreciate their community and how to be a better person for a better tomorrow.

A Day in the Sun

Key Club members got up bright and early on a Saturday morning, cleaning out flower beds and trimming trees around the high school. What a hot and fun day. Even the Key Clubbers' parents lent a helping hand to the service projects.

They may be tired, but they are determined. A Key Club member does not know the meaning of the word quit.

Key Club used money raised through various projects to purchase supplies for the teachers. Here, student Taylor Culliver presents Mrs. Janie Baker with some of the donated items.

BCHS SHINES WITH TALENT

Baldwin County High students were able to show off their talents to their peers and teachers at this years annual talent show. This years group was filled with talented individuals including Audio Pandemic, featuring Terry Melton, Jessie Minter, Megan Shaunessy and Mary Mosley, who took third place; Harley Rowell, who won second and the winners, the Jokers featuring Kaysha Jones, Taylor Robbins, Patrick Bolden and Steven Thompson. The Jokers won third place in the Baldwin Star Search competition held at The Wharf in Orange Beach in June 2011.

The Jokers (Kaysha Jones, Taylor Robbins, Patrick Bolden, and Steven Thompson) perform their talent show winning dance.

Third place winner Audio Pandemic (Terry Melton, Mary Mosley, Jessie Minter, and Megan Shaughnessy) cheer up the crowd before they perform "Black Horse and a Cherry Tree."

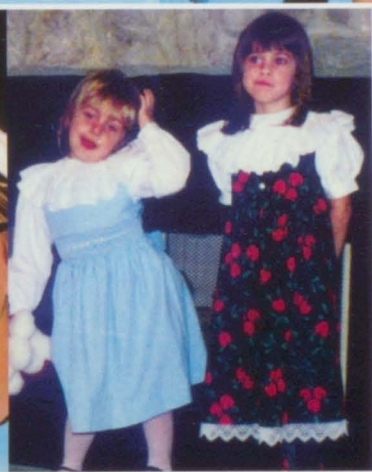

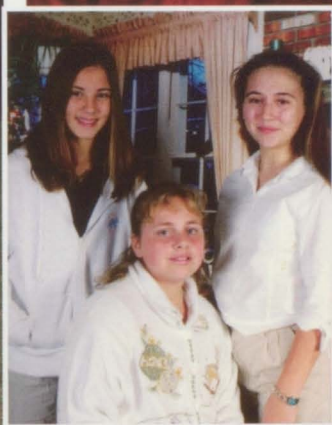

Freshman Caitlyn Williams performs "The Only Exception."

Runner-up Harley Rowell performs his own original medley in the talent show.

Megan Shaughnessy

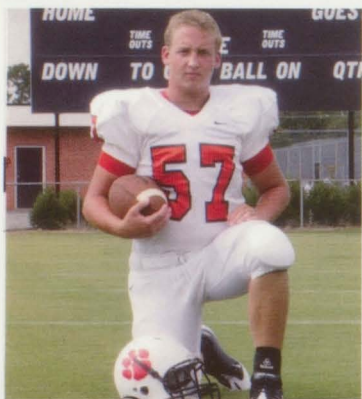

Megan,

From the time that I could feel you kicking in your mom's belly, until now where you hold out your hand for money, I have and always will love you. Your laugh and smile have always given me a warm fuzzy feeling. Life is about to begin for you. It will be hard at times, but never lose that smile and positive attitude. Remember you cannot change people and don't sweat the small stuff. If you do, you will never go gray. I know that it has been a hard year for us. We have had a lot of changes. I know that Mom is and always has been proud of you. We had many talks about you girls and how proud we are. Thanks for being there for me. I am proud that you are my daughter.

I love you!

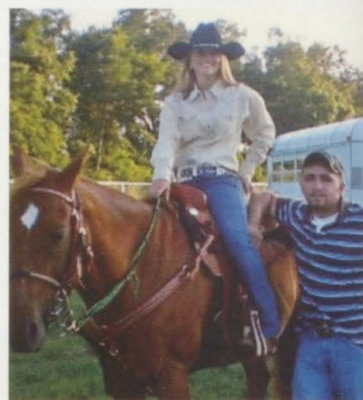

Dad

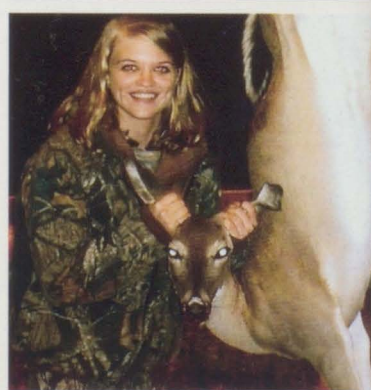

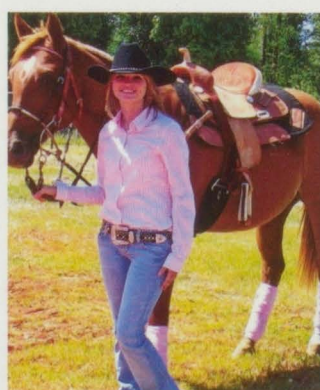

Dylan,
You're just what we want you to be – ours.
There was never a single time in your growing up that we weren't proud of you. You have brought so much love, joy, and
laughter in our lives.
You have grown into a wonderful young man.
No one could ask for a better son. We will always be here for you, and we love you so much.

We love you Dylan,
Mom and Dad

Crystal,
You are completing a wonderful Journey and we are very proud of you and all that you have accomplished. This is just the beginning of the bright path that's filled with your hopes and dreams.
Congratulations! You
finally made it.
We love you very much,
Dad, Mom, Allen
and Bridget

Your life is like a story book.

Each page filled with joy as we take a look.

From your dramatic entrance at your birth,

You're a miracle from God placed on this earth..

You've brought so much happiness into our lives.

As we've watched your determination and passion for life.

You're an amazing young lady, always striving for the best.

You've met every challenge, you've passed every test.

You've laid the foundation for the future you've chose

But this new "chapter of life" only God knows.

You've been conditioning and getting in shape
To continue with eagerness new goals you have made.

Thank you for filling your family with pride,

We're thankful to be part of your "Book of Life".

We look forward to reading the chapters ahead.

For we know God's hand your life He has led.

As the middle daughter you have filled our home with laughter and many "watch me!" moments. From T-ball to Tigerettes and everything in between, you have kept us busy. Even though we are going to miss this, we are excited about your future. Thank you for all the wonderful memories, laughs and even the tears. Believe in yourself and know that we believe you can reach all your goals. We are so proud of you and all your accomplishments and look forward to many more "watch me!" moments. CONGRATULATIONS!

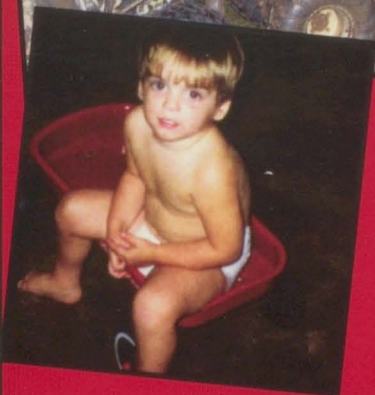

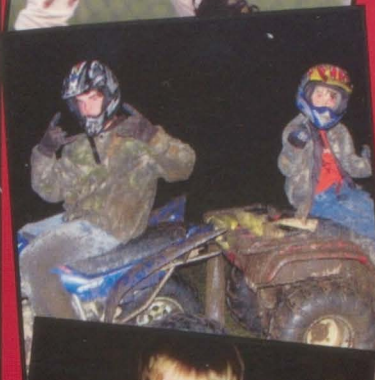

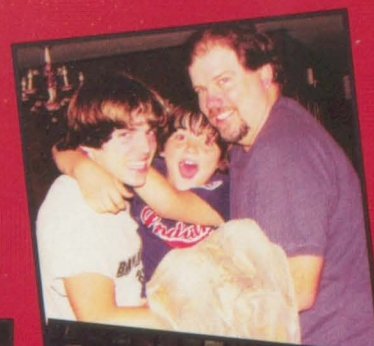

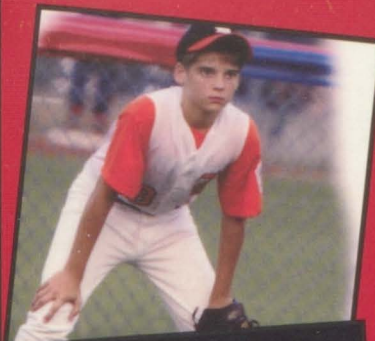

Love you,
Mom, Shana, Holly and Maw Maw

"I know the plans that I have for you, declares the Lord, plans for good and not for evil, to give you a hope and a future."

~Jeremiah 29:11

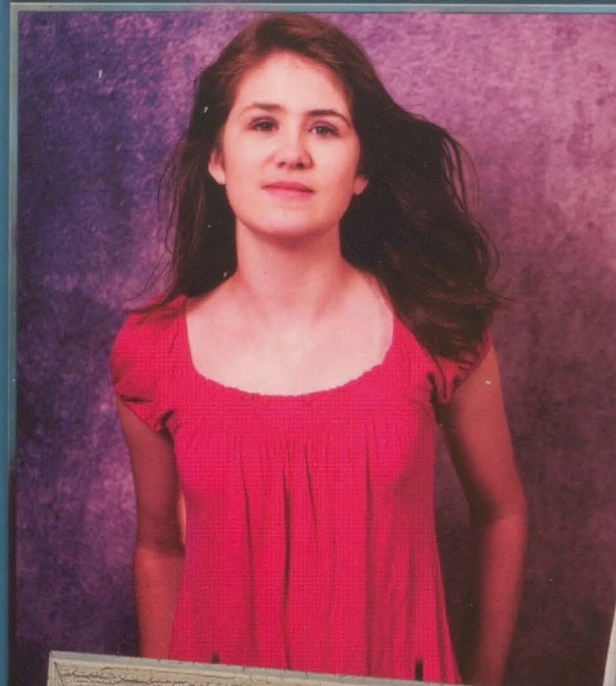

Ryan,

It seems like only yesterday we held you in our arms for the very first time, and you were so tiny and helpless. Today, you stand before us a man that is handsome, intelligent, and funny. It seems impossible how fast the years flew by and now it is time for you to graduate from high school. It is with pride we have watched you mature and become the person you are today. We recognize the strength and character that is yours and know you will succeed in a future of dreams and desires. Words could never convey how much you are loved. Congratulations!

Felicia Singleton 2011

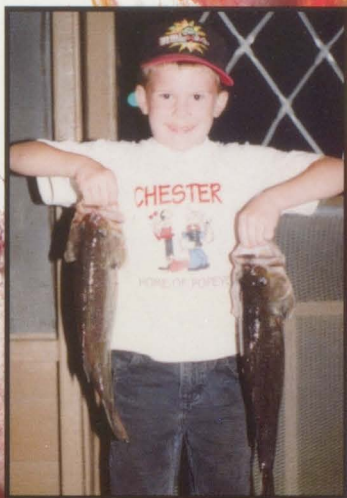

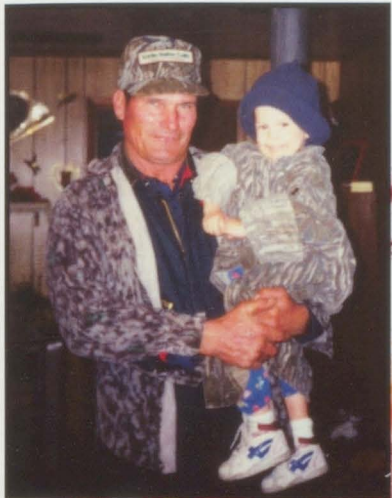

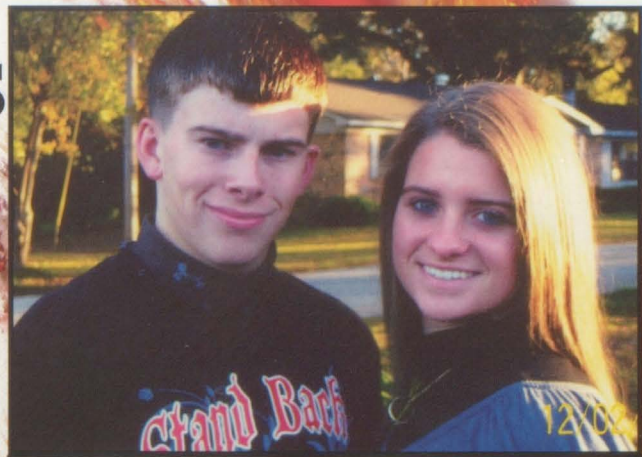

You are a gift straight from God and you have been special since day one. You have grown and blossomed into a beautiful lady, inside and out. Even though life has knocked you down several times you have always gotten back up and that has made all the difference.

One thing can be said with confidence and assurance, and that is you are truly loved by many. We are so proud of you for all that you have accomplished and the effort you have made to get over the mountain. Love.....

Farrah Lytle

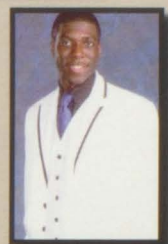

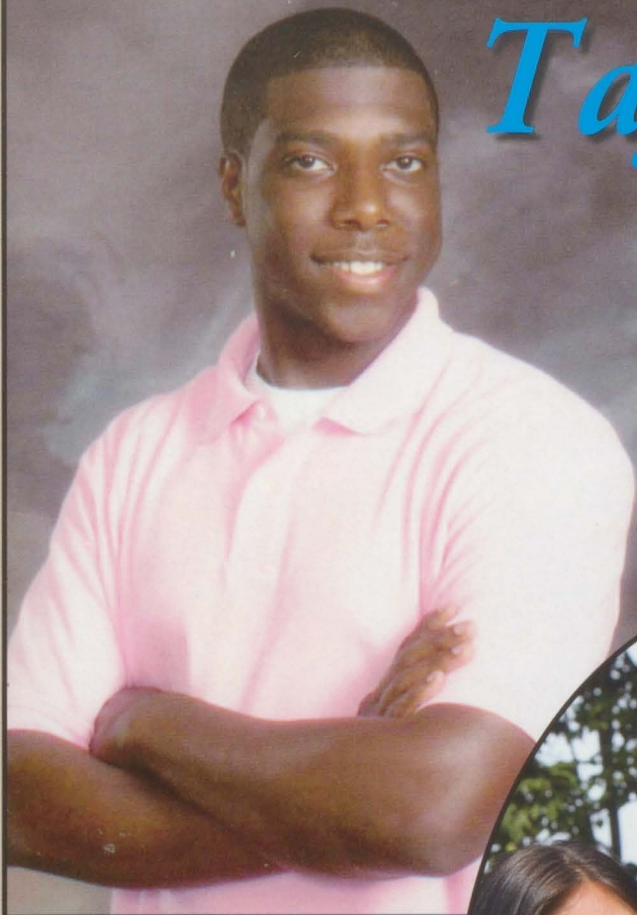

Farrah Lytle,

There is so much to be proud of in everything you have done. Where do we begin? Even as a baby you were always so very smart, now here you are a beautiful young lady and still making us proud every day. You have overcome so much in your life and continue to stand tall. All of the strength, heart and possibility you have is amazing. As you travel into this new journey of life, new growth, new experiences and new horizons, know that whichever path you choose we will always stand by you. We are so very proud of you and love you so very much. Congratulations and best of luck to you my daughter.

"Blessed is the man who walks in the counsel of the ungodly, Nor stands in the path of sinners, Nor sits in the seat of the scornful; But his delight is in the law of the Lord, And in His law he meditates day and night. He shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water That brings forth its fruit in its season, whose leaf also shall not wither; And whatever he does shall prosper."

Psalms 1:1-3

I have been filled with peace and joy from above by watching God lead and bless you over the last four years.
